HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — As pageants go, all this one lacked was a glittering crown for the winner as she stepped into the bright-white spotlight circle glowing in the darkened arena.

Instead, "Callanvale Inspiration Tina" earned a flower-bedecked shoulder blanket and the leatherette banner declaring the Holstein contender the supreme champion of the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show. Selection of the supreme winner was the grand finale to the 30th run of the annual All-American dairy event, held Sept. 20-23 at the Farm Show Complex.

Earlier in last Thursday's Eastern National show ring competition, the tall, extremely stylish, 4-year-old with a beautifully balanced and tightly attached mammary system won the senior and grand champion title of the Holstein show, judged by Dennis Patrick, Woodbine, Maryland. She is owned by Ernest A. Keuffner, of Keuffner Holsteins, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and was bred by Alan McCutchen, Ontario, Canada.

The supreme is classified EX-91 and is to be rescored in a few weeks. She is sired by

Nutrient Management Advisory Board Meets

VERNON ACHENBACH, JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The 15-member Nutrient Management Advisory Board met for the first time Wednesday at the Penn State Downtown Center in Harrisburg.

The first action of the newly formed board was to elect its chairman and formed two subcommittees. The next meeting has tentatively been set for 9:30 a.m., Nov. 3, at a location to be announced.

The board was formed by law to advise the state Conservation Commission on all regulations and interim criteria the commission develops to implement the state's Nurtient Management Act.

The Conservation Commission is a group which historically was formed to oversee the activities of the state's conservation districts. While the commission is autonomous, it is supported and chaired by the secretary of the Department of Environmental Resources (DER).

The commission was assigned the responsibility of developing regulations under the new Nutrient Management Act, which was signed into law this year by Gov. Robert Casey, prior to his undergoing a heart and liver transplant.

The 15-member board was created as part of the act with the intent to ensure that agricultural sensibilities would be reflected in the regulations and in the type of nutrient management program that

Mercner To Receive National Recognition

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Carol Mercner, member and public relations director for Keystone Farm Credit, ACA, is scheduled to receive the distinguished National Cooperative Month Cooperative Communicator Award on Monday, October 4, at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C.

"Her energy and creativity have contributed to greater understanding by cooperatives' memberships and the general public of the benefits cooperatives provide to their members and their communities," said Philip Kimmel, president and CEO of Keystone Farm Credit, ACA.

For nearly 20 years, Mercner has served the Farm Credit system and the cooperative community. She first joined Farm Credit in 1974 on a part-time basis; then in 1979, she began full-time responsibilities as marketing manager. Her current position as director of member and public relations was established following the merger that created Keystone Farm Credit in 1989. She has diligently served on various Farm Credit committees and is a recipient of the prestigious Baltimore Farm Credit District's President's Award.

Mercner has also been a tireless supporter of community and cooperative causes in southeastern Pennsylvania, the commonwealth and the country. Her involvement has been invaluable to organizations such as the Chester County Cooperative Extension Service,

Quality Assurance May Stem Foodborne Illness Problems

ANDY ANDREWS

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — By failing to implement quality assurance programs in their poultry operations, producers may face more lawsuits and litigation fees in light of the increasing cases of food-related illnesses in the country.

According to Dr. Stephanie Doores, associate professor in Penn State's Department of Food Science, 9,000 people die each year as a result of food poisoning from an array of common microbacteria, including salmonella enteritidis (SE), Listeria, and E. coli contamination. In the Midwest alone in 1992, $30 million has been paid in court settlements to individuals as a result of SE contamination.

Doores told those attending the Northeast Poultry Show in Lancas-

New York & Phila. Frozen Eggs

Tuesday, September 28, 1993

Prices were edging higher generally as a reflection of increased costs of raw materials. Trading was sporadic with most buyers cautious and just buying for immediate needs. Most breakers maintained desired schedules and were selective in purchasing any additional raw materials. Floor stocks were generally adequate to cover current trade requirements.

STIR DRYING SAVES MONEY

Design III Stir–Ator Is Engineered To Do Just That — Save Money

A Design III Stir-Ator turns any drying bin into a self contained drying system. Get the drying capacity of a large continuous flow system at less cost–with storage as a bonus. A Stir-Ator gives you wet holding, drying, and storage, all in the same drying bin. It also loosens, mixes, and circulates grain so it dries faster. Save money this harvest season with a Design III Stir-Ator from DMC.

FROST STAYED NORTH AND BULLS HEADED SOUTH. BEARS BETTING ON HARVEST PRESSURE. WHEAT TWO CENTS LOWER TO TWO CENTS HIGHER, EXCEPT ST. LOUIS SIX TO NINE CENTS HIGHER. CORN TWO TO FIVE CENTS LOWER. SORGHUM FOUR TO FIVE CENTS LOWER. SOYBEANS FIVE TO TEN CENTS LOWER. KILLING FROST LIMITED, AND FURTHER NORTH THAN SOME FORECAST CALLED FOR. OVERALL DAMAGE WAS RATHER LIMITED ON A NATIONAL SCOPE. MUCH NEEDED SUNSHINE OVER A LARGE PART OF THE COUNTRY AND MORE COMBINES EASING OUT INTO THE FIELDS. SUNSHINE NEEDED TO DRY OUT THE GROUND AND TAKE SOME MOISTURE OUT OF THE LATE MATURING SEEDS. EXPORT ORDERS FOR CORN AND SOYBEANS CONTINUE TO BE A DISAPPOINTMENT FOR TRADERS AND PRODUCERS. WHEAT TRENDS AGAIN GOING OFF IN ALL DIRECTIONS, BUT NOT AS A ERRATIC TODAY AS THE CASE HAS BEEN MANY TIMES THIS SPRING AND SUMMER. OFTEN 50 TO 60 CENTS PRICE CHANGES FROM DAY TO DAY AND EACH MARKET SEEMS TO BE ESTRANGED FROM THE OTHER. WEATHER PLAYED HAVOC WITH PRODUCTION AND QUALITY THIS YEAR. GOOD QUALITY, HIGH PROTEIN WHEAT SCARCE AND OFTEN $1.00 PRICE DIFFERENCE WITH ONE PERCENT CHANGE IN PROTEIN CONTENT. AT KANSAS CITY RAIL BIDS FOR ORDINARY PROTEIN HARD RED WINTER WHEAT $1.50 SPREAD UP THROUGH 14% PERCENT. PRODUCERS HARVESTED WEEDY HIGH MOISTURE WHEAT AND BY THE TIME ELEVATORS FINISHED WITH DOCKS THEY WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER OFF CLAIMING DISASTER PAYMENTS.

Trucklot buying interest was fairly light with most buyers still cautious on most items. Supplies of boneless skinless were in balanced with immediate needs and close going into next week. Trading was reported at lower trending prices. The undertone was steadier than prior day. Line run breasts were readily available for the light and cautious buying interest. Prices continued to trend lower and offerings were slow to clear. Leg quarters were in close balance with current needs with some interest for next week not covered yet. The undertone was fully steady. Wings were difficult to sell, prices trended lower.

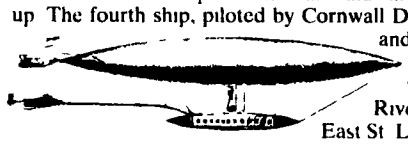
The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

OCTOBER 4-10, 1993

NATIONAL PICKLED PEPPER WEEK

READY, SET, FLY!

From October 4-9, 1909, the four existing dirigible balloons in the United States competed in the first race for this type of lighter-than-air craft. Dirigibles, or airships, differ from simple balloons in that they have propulsive power and both altitude and directional steering control The race was held at St. Louis, Missouri, where the ships flew from Forest Park and Clayton Road to Kingshighway and Lindell Avenues and returned Lincoln Beachy won first prize of $1,000, with Roy Knabenshue and Captain Thomas Baldwin as close runners-up The fourth ship, piloted by Cornwall Dixon, went astray and was carried over the city, across the Mississippi River, and landed in East St Louis, Illinois



He that falls today may rise tomorrow.

TIP OF THE WEEK

EARTHWISE

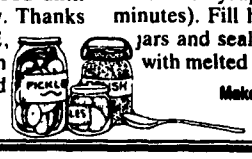
Here's a heavier furniture polish than the dusting cloth formula given last week. You'll need ¼ cup food-grade linseed oil, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup lemon juice, and a few drops of Vitamin E Combine all the ingredients in a glass jar with tight-fitting lid and shake well (you may want to shake it periodically during use, as well). Use a soft cotton cloth to rub the solution into the wood until it's clean and shiny. Thanks to the Vitamin E, leftover solution can be saved and used the next time.

APPLE PEPPER RELISH

4 sweet red peppers, washed, seeded, and cored
5 large sweet onions, peeled
6 apples, peeled and cored
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
¾ cup lemon juice
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons salt

Coarsely grind the peppers, onions, and apples in a food processor or grinder Add lemon rind and juice and heat to boiling. Add sugar and salt and boil, stirring as needed, until thick and syrupy (about 40 minutes). Fill hot sterilized jars and seal by covering with melted paraffin.

Makes about 2 pints.



The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

NORTHEAST: Sunny and warm; showers and cool, clearing and warming north.

SOUTHEAST: Sunny and warm, then showers and cool, showers and seasonable Florida

MIDWEST: Cold and rainy, clearing and warm, then rainy and cool

NORTHWEST: Rainy and very cool; clearing and warming, some showers in the mountains.

SOUTHWEST: Clear and cold, some showers; then sunny and warm.

W-L measures success one grower at a time.

We could show you stacks of research data that demonstrate the benefits of planting W-L alfalfa seed, but the most important barometer of our success is the success of growers like you.

Growers have depended on W-L Research as a provider of superior alfalfa seed for over thirty years, and in that time W-L has developed seed well-known for its value. At W-L, "value" is defined as long-term yield, persistence, and quality. These characteristics of W-L varieties are the cornerstone of our success, and we continue to measure our success as we always have — one grower at a time.

OPINION

Where's The County Agent?

At the end of the 1800s, the U.S. government realized that technology was available to increase farm production. Ag experiment stations and land grant colleges were formed. As attempts were made to bring farmers the latest in scientific information, campus based professors realized that an "extension" of themselves had to come in a new group of folks. So the "County Agent" became a fellow locally based in nearly each county of the country. He had a direct phone line to campus and was given training by the experiment station professors. This person traveled over muddy roads and established contacts on many local farms.

About the 1920s and 30s youth clubs evolved whereby the county agent relayed information through the children of farm families. In many counties a female counterpart called the "Home Economics Agent" brought nutrition and food preparation information to farm families. In the 1930s and 40s agents became very involved in helping farm organizations evolve such as 4-H Clubs, Homemaker Clubs, rural electric associations, livestock producer associations, dairy herd improvement associations, etc.

In the 1950s agricultural production made gigantic gains through technology largely evolving from World War Ii. Fertilizers and pesticides brought new wealth to the agricultural community. The county agent became extra busy trying to keep up with the latest technology while maintaining contact with 4-H clubs and farm organizations. Long, extended hours not uncommon in the life of an agent became an expected characteristic of the job. For many agents, the job became his or her lifestyle.

By the early 1980s low commodity prices, high interest rates, large capital investments and weather drove many farmers out of business. Most states lost about 30% to 50% of their farms. In 1985, the U.S. government, mostly the president and Congress, began to question the need for county agents since so many farms were lost. Serious consideration was given to eliminating federal support. Federal funds at the time provided about 30% of each state's Extension Service. Eliminating these funds would have severely crippled the whole system.

To survive, land grant university leaders offered the services of county agents for other important needs of the country. The expansive network of an informational office in nearly every county in the nation was a strong selling point. It was agreed by the people in Washington, D.C., that Extension would be a good vehicle for addressing the family management problems of single parent and dual career families. Other educational needs not being addressed at the time such as teen-age pregnancies, older rural populations and loss of rural businesses were placed on the agenda of Extension agents. Only by offering to do more for the needs of non-farm people was the system that served mostly farm families able to continue.

With this transition has come a lot of confusion by the agricultural community. No longer are county agents able to frequently attend farm organization meetings like 4-H, DHIA, breed associations, dairy promotion, etc. Attempts are made to help those groups run relatively independent of the local Extension office. The county agent has to find time to address new needs and help other groups get started. Environmental issues and rural unemployment have also added to the list of needed programs. The new needs are important ones and county agents are developing new partnerships with other organizations.

We're still trying our best to serve the needs of farm families. Non-farm families are also discovering how good a resource of information the county agent is. I would plead with all of our farm families for understanding and support as the needs of your non-farm fellow citizens have been added to our agenda.

To Pick Up Farm Show Entries

The 1994 Pennsylvania State Farm Show Premium Lists have arrived in the county cooperative extension offices.

The premium lists contains details on all the classes at the Farm Show, rules and regulations, entry deadlines, and entry forms. The 1994 Farm Show will be held in Harrisburg from January 8-13.

Remember, some classes have a November 4 entry deadline. Pick up your free copy of the premium list and make plans to attend and participate in the 1994 Pennsylvania State Farm Show.

To Save Money

There is a lot of concern in the agricultural community on how to increase farm profits and improve family living.

Increasing farm profits is a very complex problem involving many issues. However, one way to improve family living is through a planned savings program. Every family, regardless of income, should have a regular savings plan.

This money should be invested in a very conservative investment-like bank savings accounts or certificates of deposit (CDs). Once you have several month's income in the bank, you may want to consider more risky investments such as mutual funds or stocks. By saving on a regular basis, you are developing interest income which may be added back to the principle or spent for family activities.

If you want to establish a regular savings program, you may need to establish a budget. By developing better spending practices, you are increasing the money you will have to spend latter. Also, the earlier you start saving money, the less money you will need to save to accomplish your goals.

For example, by saving $50 per month in 40 years you will have $76,300. If you wait 15 years before starting your savings, you will need to invest $128 per month to have $76,300 based on a 5 percent interest rate. Thus, the earlier you start saving, the sooner you are able to take advantage of compounding.

This is a big reason to start children on a regular savings plan. Take charge of your finances and make sure you save a certain amount of your income and invest it in a conservative savings plan. This will help you develop family equity separate from your business equity.

Remember, you may spend interest income every year but you may only spend principle once!

To Plant Cover Crops

Cover crops are a very important farm management practice. Cover crops reduce soil erosion, improve soil tilth, increase soil water holding capacity, and reduce nutrient leaching.

Many farmers need to empty their manure storage units during the fall season. This means crop nutrients are applied to cropland at a time of year when they are not needed by a growing crop.

Therefore, these nutrients are vulnerable to being lost to the environment because of soil erosion and leaching. If you are applying manure to cropland this fall, plan on planting a small grain cover crop like rye. The rye will take up the available nitrogen and hold it in the plant preventing its loss to groundwater. If the rye is harvested, the nutrients will be utilized as high quality feed. If the rye is killed or plowed down in the spring, the nutrients will become available to the following crop.

Rye may be planted as late as November, but the earlier it is planted the more nutrients it will take up and the more yield it will produce in the spring.

Feather Prof's Footnote: "Few wishes come true by themselves."

Farm Forum

Dear Editor:

Several area newspapers have carried a letter to the editor from Lloyd Gustin, a dairy farmer from Lymanville.

In his letter, Mr. Gustin illustrates that area dairy farmers are receiving less for their milk than they received 12 years ago. He also questions present salaries paid to farm leaders, and asks how these salaries relate to salaries of 12 years ago. Mr. Gustin also challenges public disclosure of such salaries.

While some people may interpret a different meaning to his letter; what I sense is the same frustration that can be found on 90-percent of the dairy farms in this area.

More importantly, these same dairymen feel there is little concern being shown towards their predicament, and they wonder why everyone else has price increases, but not the dairymen.

Normally, I feel the salaries

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
By Lawrence W. Althouse

PROMISES, PROMISES
October 3, 1993

Background Scripture:
Genesis 12:1-3; 15:1-18.
Devotional Reading:
Genesis 11:31,32; 12:1-10; 14:17-20.

How much is a promise worth today? Not very much.

Promises made by advertisers are known to be intentionally deceptive. Promises made by politicians are not taken very seriously any more. But then neither are treaties between nations, agreements between employers and employees, and even vows between husbands and wives.

Is not this distrust of promises, this erosion of trust the basis of much of our social uneasiness today? We do not trust the government, nor the institutions of our society, and we do not trust each other. As Erik Erikson has suggested, we must learn to trust something or someone early in our lives or live in cynicism for the rest of our days.

Religions are not so much rejected today as not trusted, and trust in God's promises is the essence of religious faith and spirituality. What we call faith is really trust. When Jesus commended people for their faith, he was commending them for trusting in him.

TRUST ME

So, the ancient record of God's promise to Abram and the latter's trusting response to that promise is very relevant for us. In Genesis 12 and 15 God gives his promise as the basis of the faith he seeks from his people: "And I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you...and by you all the families of the earth shall bless themselves" (12:2,3). God foretells what he will do for Abram and his progeny and in response he asks Abram to trust him: "Go from your country and your kindred and your father's house to the land I will show you" (12:1). In our own time, this also is the basis of our relationship with God: He gives us a promise and He asks us to trust Him to fulfill that promise.

Abram's first response is not unlike the kind of response we might make today: "O Lord God, what wilt thou give me, for I continue childless" (15:2). Abram hears the promise and he wants to trust in it, but how can he believe if he has no offspring? So it is sometimes with us: we want to believe God's promise, but, in the light of how things are in our lives, we don't see how he can keep that promise.

Abram voiced his doubt and God was not angered because of it, but neither does he give Abram proof. He merely expands on that promise: "Look toward the heaven, and number the stars... So shall your descendents be" (15:5). Now Abram's choice as to whether he will trust that promise or not. The answer: "And he believed the Lord; and he reckoned it to him as righteousness" (15:6).

RECKONED AS RIGHTEOUSNESS

Abram decided to trust the promise — even though he didn't know how God would fulfill it. When the writer says "he reckoned it to him as righteousness," he is saying that God accepted Abram's trust as the basis of their relationship. It would depend, not upon the sacrifices that Abram offered, nor even the deeds he did for God. His trust alone was the keystone of God's love and mercy.

In New Testament times, the Apostle Paul seized on this example to build his concept of justification by faith (Rom. 4:3,9,22; Gal. 3:6). None of us can ever earn the love and mercy of God — our deeds will always fall short of what it would take - but we can accept that promise as a gift and trust in it for our salvation.

So the question is never whether we believe in God, but whether we trust him. Trusting in him makes all the difference.

PARADISE TOBACCO SALES

Paradise Tobacco Auction will be opening the first week of December

We've had many inquiries about the 1993 tobacco crop. With a good tobacco crop - like it appears to be, clean and cured properly - they say we should have a good market.

Let's fill the floor with good tobacco for the first sale. It will help for a better market this year.

GRADE YOUR TOBACCO

FOR SALE: 3 compartment Kentucky style Bale Boxes with air cylinders, cotton twine, wheel & single type lath holders, seed, etc.

COUNT ON IT.

You can count on Pioneer® brand hybrids to consistently deliver proven performance year after year. No matter how different your soil types, moisture levels, disease pressures, tillage practices or individual management goals. We'll help you find the hybrids that best fit your needs. And we'll help you make the most out of the corn acres you plant. So ask your Pioneer sales representative today for the numbers that count.

Top-end yield potential. Exceptional early growth. This hybrid features outstanding stalks, superior staygreen and very good drought tolerance. Above average grain appearance and grain protein content.

Record setting yields and exceptional agronomics. This exciting hybrid combines traits corn growers want: impressive early growth, strong stalks and roots, exceptional stress tolerance, above average drydown and lengthy staygreen. Widely adapted to varying soil types, tillage methods and populations.

The performance leader in this maturity. 3525 is a widely adapted, stable, high-yielding hybrid. Tall plant type, excellent for grain and silage. Late flowering will limit northward movement. Good ear flex and ear attachment. Strong performer under stress.

Comparative Relative Maturity (CRM)
With no industry standard for maturity ratings, comparing maturities between companies is usually difficult. Use this rating to compare Pioneer hybrids with competitive hybrids of similar maturity and harvest moisture. These ratings are based on customer side-by-side and research comparison experience. Individual company ratings may still show a variation from the average comparative rating.

Genetics Prove Powerful For New Holland Champion Swine

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — Meat, muscling, leanness, and soundness rounded out the champion hog, with genetics from Thames Bend, Canada, for New Holland Fair champion swine exhibitor Justin Good.

It was Justin's 255-pound light heavyweight market hog, a Hampshire cross, that appealed to show judge Cheryl Fairbairn, Chester County livestock agent, at the show on Tuesday night. Justin, 18, son of Amos and Pat Good, Denver, exhibited a reserve champion hog at Ephrata just last week. At New Holland, the Garden Spot senior won out over a 260-pound heavyweight hog, shown by reserve champion Gerald Boyd.

Gerald, 15, son of Kerry and Deb Boyd, Clay, is in the ninth grade at Ephrata High School. He showed the Hampshire/Yorkshire cross named "Rachle."

Senior champion showman was awarded to Sheldon Hoover, and senior fitting champion was Calvin Landis. Junior champion showman was Sarah Boyd, and junior champion fitter went to Brad Stoltzfus.

The five weight champions shared in $300 prize money, with the champions receiving $50 each and the reserves $25 each. The prize money was provided by an anonymous donor.

In all, there were a total of 73 hogs, up from previous years, and 24 exhibitors.

Following is a list of show placings.

Market Lamb Championship Goes To Lisa Reiff — Again

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — Lisa Reiff did it again. At the sixth county fair, she clinched both the champion market lamb and showmanship titles.

Not only did the 15-year-old from Strasburg take the grand champion title but also the reserve champion market lamb title at the New Holland Fair on Wednesday evening. The daughter of Lloyd and Laura Reiff, Lisa has a reputation for showing what judge Natalie Gluntz calls "visually ideal muscled lambs from end to end."

In senior showmanship, Gluntz complimented Lisa for her smooth, fluid manner of positioning her sheep.

Gluntz told the youth competing in showmanship, "The object of showmanship is for the judge to notice your lamb. If you are constantly fiddling with your lamb's legs, I don't notice the lamb but the showman."

First place in intermediate showmanship went to Jenny Hoover, Schoeneck, and in the first year showmanship division, Jason Redmond of Plowville placed first. Jenny, the daughter of Marty and Lois Hoover, said that she and her two sisters have an 18-head flock of Hampshires and crosses. The sisters share responsibilities, which involves running the sheep through hurdles two times daily. Jenny said that she gets up at 6 a.m. and runs with the sheep.

Jason, a member of Twin Valley FFA and in his first year of showing, credits Teresa Anspacht of Governor Mifflin for teaching him showmanship techniques.

Champion and reserve breeding sheep honors went to Keith Bollinger who showed Cheviots. The champion named Puff is an aged ewe. The reserve was a ram lamb.

Keith's brother Jeff's Suffolks took reserve champion ram and ewe. Because Jeff attends Penn State (Berks Campus), he was not able to show his sheep so Keith showed both his own and his brother's sheep.

Keith, 14, said that he raises five Cheviots at the family's Ephrata home. Keith and Jeff are brothers to Jerry, who took top places in breeding competition at Ephrata and Denver Fairs. Twins Jeff and Jerry each have a flock of Suffolks.

In addition to Lisa showing the middleweight and heavyweigth champions in the market lamb competition, the lightweight champion was shown by Derick Bollinger and the reserve by Renee Hoover. The middleweight reserve champion went to Randall Reiff of Ephrata. The heavyweight reserve went to Jason Hertzog.

Judge Glunz of Palmyra, who is an Agway nutritionist and coordinator for the Maryland Sheep Show, the largest Eastern sheep show, said the New Holland sheep show is an impressive group of contestants. "Your 4-H and FFA leaders are on the right track with teaching animal cleanliness and showmanship qualitities," she said.

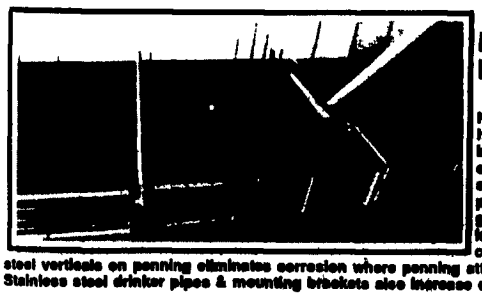
CONFINEMENT STALL

Developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (21"-24" O.C. x 96").

PIG SAVER "DUTCH CRATE"

Developed through testing in our research farms, the goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay ons, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity flprail that forces sows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.



NURSERY PENNING

Nursery penning has been improved by the use of an optional solid stainless steel panel on the front gates which keeps walkways clean. Stainless steel verticals on penning eliminates corrosion where penning attaches to the floor. Stainless steel drinker pipes & mounting brackets also increase durability.

FINISHING PENNING

Optional stainless steel verticals and fasteners offer improved durability over other similar types of penning. Loop and flapper latch arrangement eliminates the use of drop pins. Stainless steel fence line feeders provide excellent durability and a minimum of waste.

Bedford County Farm Wins Big At National Guernsey Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Snider Homestead Farm, owned by Berneta Gable, New Enterprise, took home an armful of banners, trophies and ribbons from the National Guernsey Show held last week in Harrisburg in conjunction with the Pa. All American Dairy Show.

The All-American Dairy Show is one of the nation's top dairy competitions. Over 2,500 entries are vying for $78,000 in prize money and the prestigious titles of All-American champions.

The show is sponsored annually by the Pennsylvania Dairy and Allied Industries Association in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and Farm Products Show Commission.

Gable's 3-year-old, "Sniders Telestar Heaven," was selected the grand champion female, the best senior female bred and owned by the exhibitor, and winner in the Pennsylvania 3-year-old Guernsey futurity.

Snider Homestead Farm also emerged as the premier breeder and premier exhibitor of the show, and winner in the classes for best three females and exhibitor's herd.

Picking up honors for the junior champion female was the Anderson family of Kennedy, New York, with "Sher-Beck Bionic Sally."

Charles Luchsinger of Syracuse, New York, was the official judge.

Judges Name 4-Year-Old Holstein All American Supreme

In her 3-year-old record of 305 days, Tina milked 24,144 pounds milk, 4.3 percent and 1,030 pounds fat and 3.4 percent and 806 pounds protein.

"I sent my father to look at her in Ohio, and bought her without seeing her," said owner Ernie Kueffner. "She calved in May with a heifer, after having twin heifers last year for her previous owner. We showed her 18 days after calving; she was champion and best uddered of our North Carolina state show. I like stylish cows, and she's a wonderful cow to work with."

Tina won best udder honors last year in her class at the Madison, Wisconsin, show. Exhibited again at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, Canada, she was first and best-uddered 3-year-old, and selected best udder and reserve of the Royal's intermediate-age-cow championship. Among Tina's honors are awards as All-Canadian junior 3-year-old and reserve All-American junior 3-year-old.

Reserve supreme champion was the Jersey champion, "Pensmith TJ Missy Mindy," exhibited by Wayne and Alan Stiles and Billy and Mike Heath, Spring Valley Farm, Westminster, Maryland. Mindy also won her breed title earlier Thursday, in the Jersey show judged by Robert Fitzsimmons, Montpelier, Vermont.

The 4-year-old Jersey is scored Excellent. She is sired by Duncan Saint John, and her dam is Pensmith Magician Mindy. In her 3-year-old, 365-day lactation, Mindy finished with 15,510 pounds of milk; 4.4 percent, or 682 pounds of fat; and 3.6 percent, or 565 pounds, of protein.

She was recently named the supreme dairy winner at the Maryland State Fair and was first 3-year-old and honorable mention grand champion at the 1992 National Jersey Show.

Selection of the Harrisburg All-American supreme winner was made by secret ballot of a panel of three judges. They were Ginger Myers, Littlestown, Guernsey breeder and former Guernsey breed association field representative; Jeff Harding, manager of GEN Farms, Kennedyville, Maryland, and former sales manager for the Pennsylvania Holstein Association; and Paul Miller, Linglestown, a classifier for the National Holstein Association and a Holstein breeder.

Sharing in the supreme contest pageantry finals were champions of the Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Milking Shorthorn breed shows, held earlier in the week.

The Ayrshire champion was "Covey Farms CVR Rosetta," a 4-year-old owned by Palmyra Farms, Hagerstown, Md., and bred by Brandon Covey, Oklahoma. Scored EX-90, Rosetta's current lactation, at 335 days, is at 26,070 pounds of milk, with 4.2 percent or 1,103 pounds butterfat, and 3.5 percent, or 912 pounds protein.

Her sire is Covey Farms HC Rosabelle and her dam is Covey Farms Vitality Reliable. She was first and production winner in her class at the 1992 Southern National Ayrshire Show and grand champion of the 1992 Junior Southern National Ayrshire show.

Topping the Brown Swiss breed show was 4-year-old "Hawthorne Rythmic Riki," owned by Charles Lee Chaney, Gartstlyn Brown Swiss, New Windsor, Md. Her breeder is Kathy Griesheimer, Valley City, Ohio.

She is scored Excellent and sired by Hawthorne Eritia Raybette, and out of dam Forest Lawn TJ Rhythm. Her 3-year, 365-day lactation record is at 27,180 pounds milk, with 4 percent and 1,099 pounds butterfat and 3.7 percent and 1,008 pounds protein. Earlier this year, she was named grand champion of the Canton, Ohio, Brown Swiss show and took first place in her class at the Maryland State Fair.

Bedford Countians Brad and Berneta Gable and family exhibited the champion Guernsey, "Snider's Telstar Heaven." The Very Good-89 senior 3-year-old is bred and owned by their Snider's Homestead Farm at New Enterprise.

With 174 days credit in her three-year lactation, the Guernsey champion is producing 10,808 pounds of milk, with 4.1 percent and 441 pounds fat and 3.3 percent and 359 pounds protein. Her dam, Snider's Big Tex Hugie, has lifetime records of 103,826 milk, 4,678 fat and 3,785 protein.

"Spring Meadows Greeting" took top Milking Shorthorn breed honors for owner-breeders Mike and Polly Ullom and family, Spring Meadows Farm, Centerburg, Ohio. Classified Very Good-88, she is sired by Krause's Maxine's Mike and her dam is Spring Meadows Jet Star, VG-87.

A 5-year-old, she has a current 305-day lactation record of 18,070 pounds of milk, with 3.4 percent or 630 pounds fat, and 3.4 percent or 6.39 pounds protein. She was part of the winning dam-daughter entry at last week's All-American, and took reserve champion breed honors at both the 1991 and 1992 All-American shows.

Some 2,000 head of the nation's top cattle were exhibited in the 30th annual Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show events, which included the state junior dairy show on Sept. 20.

Aged Cow Wins Bucks County Holstein Show

DOYLESTOWN (Bucks Co.) — Delaware Valley College recently showed the senior and grand champion Holstein and the junior champion of the Bucks County Holstein Show.

In all, 102 animals were entered in the show which was judged by Curtis Day.

The reserve grand champion was Curly Hill Chaplain Promise, also a 6-year-old cow, which was shown by Ryan Worthington, of Doylestown.

The junior champion of the show was the college's DVC VP

Northeast Poultry Show Attracts Hundreds

ter on Wednesday morning that in the last decade, salmonella cases have doubled. And while better methods have been developed to identify and document outbreaks, little has been done to implement industry-wide programs to make sure, from producer to retailer, that SE and other foodborne diseases are kept in check.

In a listeria outbreak because of contaminated Mexican-style cheese in California recently, lawsuits totalling $100 million were filed. The listeria bacteria was found "top to bottom" in a processing plant, said Doores. The company went bankrupt as a result, and not only were company officials fined heavily, many went to jail.

Education and enforcement about poultry production and preparation are critical if the problems of foodborne illnesses are stopped. And although the experts and the general public disagree on some of the concerns about food poisoning (scientists are more worred about microorganisms, and the general public worries more about pesticide residues in food), both agree that the perception of foodborne illness problems has risen in light of new outbreaks (particularly the recent E. coli in beef outbreak at a fast food outlet).

Companies can do a lot to protect themselves by training workers properly and keeping good records of the whole processing operation. Consumers need to understand how to prepare food properly. Both need to be "proactive," according to Doores.

In 1986, SE existed in 1 in every 100,000 eggs. Buy this year, there may be as many as 10 per 100,000 eggs.

What is needed in the industry, she said, is an "all-encompassing program," such as the Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points (HACCP) program which oversees quality control from pre- to post-harvest and beyond. HACCP can be implemented in these ways:

- On-farm investigation which includes possible pathogen identification and traceback.
- Rapid-method identification, such as using something equivalent to an inexpensive and quick "litmus test" to check for pathogens in the production environment.
- Slaughter and process checks to prevent cross-contamination.
- Irradiation, which will rid the problems at the source.
- Food service and retail activities to help educate those who prepare food. "We don't test our handlers," she said.

As part of a special Penn State graduate project, chief executive officers (CEOs) of several large poultry producing companies were asked what a HACCP program would do for them. While it could be costly to implement, the benefits will include improved sales, increased profits, extended product shelf life, decreased processing costs, and more consumer confidence in the safety of the product, according to the report. The CEOs rated improved sales of the product as the number one benefit of the program.

Dr. Richard Reynnells

Animal Welfare Washington Scene

Poultry producers and other food industry representatives can find legislative representation in Washington. But more and more, legislators are becoming less familiar with how animal research is conducted, why, and how farmers raise their animals, according to Dr. Richard Reynnells, USDA, who spoke about animal welfare and the Washington scene on Wednesday morning at the show.

Producers should be warned: animal rightists are on the move, and their long-term goal (50 years in the making) will be to totally liberate animals from human use, according to Reynnells. And they have learned to manipulate the legislative system to their own ends.

Reynells said that the animal rightists have a clearcut agenda, which includes using terrorism against animal operations and scare tactics toward producers to meet those goals. For producers, it is time to get involved.

First, producers must band together in support of their industry. Next, they must take a more serious look at all aspects of their operation and make the changes necessary to process animals as they see fit, he said.

"Public perception is going to make us or it's going to break us," he said. "The bottom line is not to provide ammunition for people who are trying to destroy your industry." Producers should take care there are no dead birds falling off trucks onto the road, and handle the problem of downed animals on the farm in a quick and efficient way.

Producers should contact several industry organizations that help the producer cope with the animal rights/welfare issue, such as the Animal Welfare Information Center (301) 504-6212, Putting People First (202) 364-7227, and the Animal Industry Foundation (703) 524-0810 and be placed on their mailing list for information.

Producers must work together to fight for their industry over the long term.

"Unfortunately, this animal rights thing is never going to be solved in my lifetime, or yours," he said.

the recent U.S. presidential election, voters have to be concerned about the "third party event" that featured Texas billionaire Ross Perot and his quest for the presidency.

It is a sign that bears watching, according to Charles McDowell, of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, who spoke Wednesday at the Northeast Poultry Show.

The future of American politics demands looking at what occurred at the election, which featured a problem in attracting votes for the incumbent, Bush, and the quick rise to power of President Clinton and his mostly young administration.

But with Perot, in the future, the parties are faced with questions. What are the voters trying to say?

McDowell said Perot was a "cranky candidate" who "says what's on his mind." Perot brought his unconventional attitude about government and its apparent wastes to a head for many of the disenchanted Republican and Democratic voters. In the end, the billionaire captured 19 percent of the vote.

"Who are the Perot people?" said McDowell. "What you find when you look at them is that they're anti-politics, they're impatient with politics and don't like politicians. They're anti-Washington and think most of us who live there, including the press, are some kind of special shabby crowd and they are pretty well persuaded. They're anti-taxes, they feel like their taxes have been going up as long as they can remember, and they assume that the federal budget is a mountain of waste. They're people who are outraged, not just at politics, but at privilege."

McDowell said Perot supporters don't like the "tax and spend" attitudes of the Democrats. Many of Perot's critics, including former U.S. president Jimmy Carter and U.S. Sen. Bob Dole, think Perot is a "demagogue," according to McDowell.

"(Perot) can only win by going as a Republican and winning a Republican convention, and there he has to take on Pat Robertson and Pat Buchanan" and other candidates, said McDowell.

The two-day show sold about 100 booths and registered 200 for the event. Last year, 750, including those registered, walked through the exhibit hall.

The exhibit hall opened free of charge to the public on Wednesday morning at the Northeast Poultry Show.

Maryland Breeders Dominate Mid-Atlantic Jersey Show

HARRISBURG, Dauphin Co. — Waverly Farm of Clearbrook, Maryland, received the banners for premier breeder and premier exhibitor at the Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show, held last week during the All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg.

The farm also exhibited the reserve champion female, "W F Toptin Slipper," the best senior female bred and owned by the exhibitor.

The 30th annual Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show ran Monday through Thursday at the Farm Show Complex. About 1,000 head of dairy cattle competed in the Junior Dairy Show on Monday, and 1,700 head of cattle competed in the six open breed shows, vying for $78,000 in premiums.

The show is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dairy and Allied Industries Association, Department of Agriculture and Farm Products Show Commission.

The grand champion female of the regional Jersey show was "Pennsmith T J Mindy," winner in the 4-year-old cow class. Mindy was exhibited by Wayne and Alan Stiles, and Billy and Mike Heath of Westminster, Maryland.

The junior champion female and the best junior female bred and owned by the exhibitor was "Bachelors G Gemini Fonette," shown by Max and Steve Bachelor of Angola, Indiana. The reserve junior champion was "Junos Angela of SSF," exhibited by Rock Ella Jerseys of Ontario.

Judging the 270 Jersey entries was Robert Fitzsimmons of East Montpelier, Vermont.

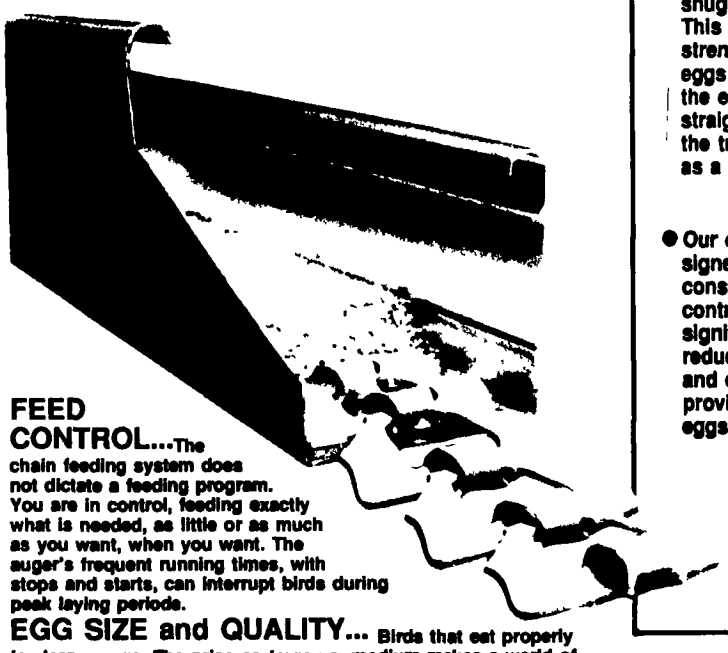
No matter what you have heard from our competition, Big Dutchman is still Number One, with the best cage system by far. Locally some Big Dutchman systems are approaching their twentieth year of service, and still going strong.

WHOSE CAGE SYST

WHOSE FEEDER IS BEST?

DESIGN... Our chain feeder allows easy access to feed, but keeps feed levels further below the lip of the trough compared to the grinding auger feeder. The chain feeder has a steep sidewall, discouraging feed build-up. The auger feeder trough has a slope that allows build-up, inviting mold and disease. Our trough is ribbed, for strength. Theirs is built for price alone.

FEEDING SPACE... Actual feeding space with the auger feeder is skimpy. In fact, our chain feeder has 2½ times more feeding space per bird. This allows the chain feeder to run as few as three times per day, while the auger must run eight or more times per day. Chain carries the feed and supplies a uniform ration with no waste.



FEED CONTROL... The chain feeding system does not dictate a feeding program. You are in control, feeding exactly what is needed, as little or as much as you want, when you want. The auger's frequent running times, with stops and starts, can interrupt birds during peak laying periods.

EGG SIZE and QUALITY... Birds that eat properly lay larger eggs. The price on large vs. medium makes a world of difference. The chain feeder allows an early feeding, then ample time for the hen to lay before the next feeding. With an auger feeder, hens fight for feeding space, spend much more time than necessary at the feeder, and create unwanted activity in the cage. The results are smaller eggs and more crax and chex. Profits go down. Put a pencil on it.

REPAIR and MAINTENANCE... The hardest thing about repairing a chain feeder is remembering where you left the hammer and chain breaker tool some months back. With an auger system the need for a welder, torch and grinder is almost routine. Downtime is up, and repair hours and expenses rise with it.

THE TEST of TIME... The chain feeder seems never to wear out. Some thirty year old units are still performing every day. On the other hand, the auger system is "short term," with time as it's enemy. Our goal is to help you make a profit, and chain feeding pays a leading role.

- Thick PVC dropping boards between decks effectively catches virtually all droppings.
- Specially engineered dual action stainless steel scraper blades scrape boards clean.
- Our feed trough fits snugly on the cage. This provides strength, and protects eggs as they move to the egg belt. The straight inner side of the trough also acts as a manure shield.
- Our cage is designed and constructed to control egg roll, significantly reducing crax and chex and providing cleaner eggs.

Eastern National Names Brown Swiss Winners

HARRISBURG, Dauphin Co. — Champion honors were split this year at the Eastern National Brown Swiss Show, held Monday during the 30th Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg.

Officials said they were pleased with the large number of Brown Swiss exhibitors this year.

Wayne Sliker of St. Paris, Ohio, a regular winner at previous All-Americans, served as judge for this year's Eastern National Brown Swiss Show.

Charles Lee Chaney of New Windsor, exhibited the grand champion female and the reserve grand champion. The champion was "Hawthorne Rythmic Riki," winner in the 4-year-old cow class, and "Long View Jades Raisin," winner in the 5-year-olds, was the reserve champion.

Carol Davis of Vassalboro, Maine, exhibited the champion bull, a senior bull calf named "Roseledge Jade Linwood." Gary Lee Mase of Lebanon, exhibited the reserve champion bull, "Heritage Hill Rolex."

Rebecca Long of Thurmont, Maryland, exhibited the junior champion female, "Long View Chall Rosemary," an intermediate calf. The reserve junior champion female was "My-T-Fine Rowdy," a winter yearling heifer exhibited by Gary and Susanne Klump of Appleton, New York.

The William Daubert family of Pine Grove, picked up the banner for premier breeder, while the William Kelly family of Winchester, New Hampshire, was named the premier exhibitor. The premier sire was "Bridgeview Elegant Jade ET."

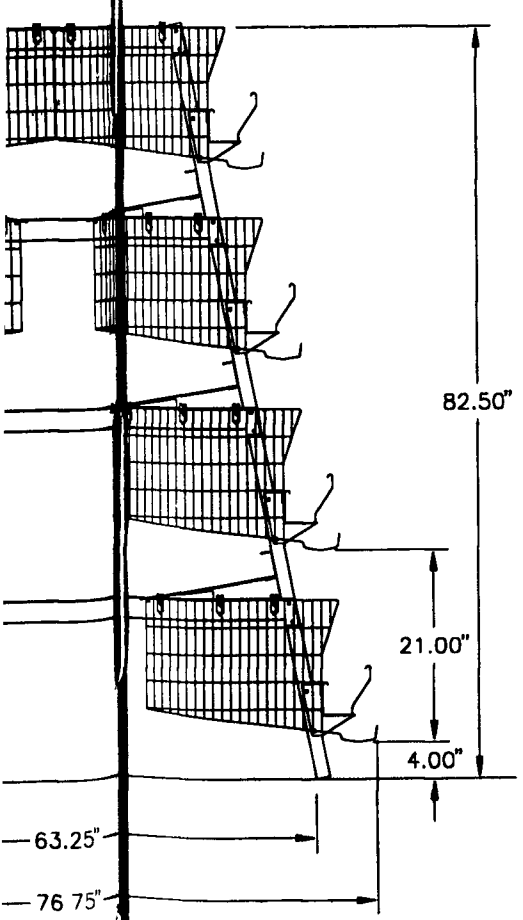
E SYSTEM IS BEST?



- Square back cage in all decks allows more cubic inches of area inside cage. Birds have more room.
- Nipple waterer is completely out of cage yet accessible to all birds.
- System available with combination step-rail and cart guide.
- The wrap-around single piece construction of our heavy duty front, top and back makes our cage stronger.
- Our feeder delivers feed to the birds uniformly, amply, and with great reliability. The design of the system helps to keep eggs cleaner, and the superior suspension method makes the entire cage row stronger.

Big Dutchman.

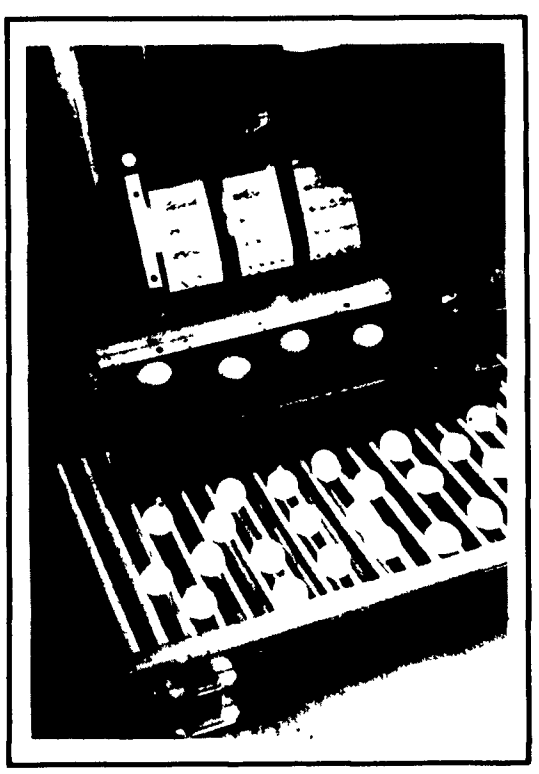
Couple the Big Dutchman cages with a Hershey-designed building and equipment installation and you have an unbeatable combination for service and efficiency. A Hershey system is better ventilated, and has been proven to use less electricity.

WHOSE COLLECTOR IS BEST?

FINGERBELT TRANSFER... The Big Dutchman fingerbelt collector utilizes a series of rubber fingers mounted in a durable belt to hold eggs in a safe position on the incline, going down from cage belts to cross-conveyor.

DUAL DRIVE... Each collector has two drive motors, one for each side. This provides better control with fewer moving parts. Shafts and bearings are all heavy duty material.

PROVEN ROD CONVEYOR... The rod conveyor moves eggs from the collector to the packer with no rolling or colliding. It can move up and down inclines, and is ideal for moving eggs between several houses and the packing room in multi-building farms.



QUALITY EGG BELT... We offer our standard 3¼ inch woven fabric belts. A shallow "V" shape in the wire egg tray keeps eggs in the center.

UNIQUE DESIGN... The Big Dutchman collector does not protrude or hang over the cross conveyor. The full width of the conveyor is used to handle more eggs with less contact between eggs. Dirt, feathers and soft-shells drop through the rod conveyor and are not carried to the packer.

Holstein Honors Split At Eastern National Show

Pamtom Farm of Hudson Falls, New York, exhibited the champion bull of the show, a senior yearling bull named "C Monteith CC Klassic." The reserve champion bull, "Cochran Starbuck Darwin," came from amother New York farm, General Cochran Farm of Amenia.

The junior champion female, "Hillpine Jed Carla," was exhibited by Ron Heffner and Marion Andrew of Jefferson, Maryland. Deanna Sparling of Troy, Pennsylvania, exhibited the reserve junior champion female and best junior female bred and owned by the exhibitor, "Maple Flat Acres Rosie."

Pamtom Farm was named the premier exhibitor of the show, while their premier breeder award went to Penn Gate Farm of Littlestown, Pennsylvania. The premier sire was "Hanover Hill Starbuck."

Dennis Patrick of Woodbine, Maryland, presided over the judging ring, which saw 565 head of Holsteins in competition. The All-American, one of the nation's prestigious dairy shows, is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dairy and Allied Industries Association, Department of Agriculture and Farm Products Show Commission.

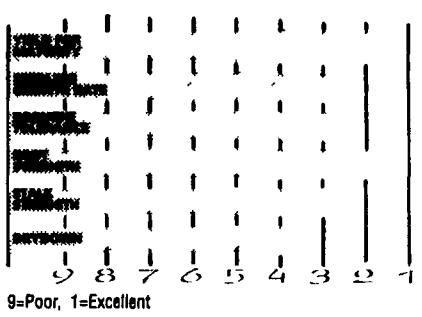
Companion Hybrids. For A Better Shot At A Bigger Yield.

Spread your risk and avoid a hurry-up harvest with this team of top-yielding corn hybrids from DEKALB.



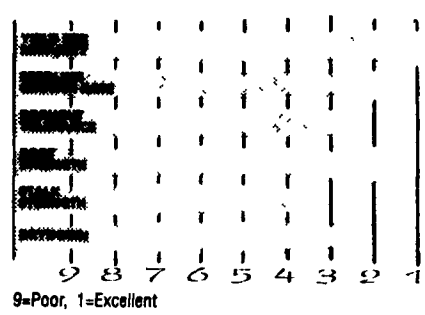
9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 522 "E" RM

Versatile hybrid with outstanding disease resistance.

Key traits: Good seedling growth. Very good plant health. Excellent root strength.

Management tips: Adapted to a wide range of soil types and tillage practices. Responds to higher populations. Very early hybrid for mid-Atlantic growers, with yield and health required to take advantage of early corn premiums Excellent full-season grain hybrid for northern growers with very good silage characteristics.



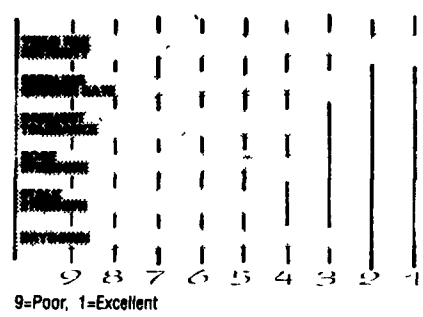
9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 623 "E" RM

Our 111-day yield leader. Produces big yields under a wide range of environmental conditions.

Key traits: Good stalk quality and excellent root strength. Very good stress tolerance. Good early stand establishment and seedling vigor. Medium tall plant with medium ear placement. Medium shank and husk cover. Girthy ear with very good test weight and grain quality. Tied for 1st Place in the 1992 New Jersey NCGA Yield Contest (Class A Non-Irrigated) for Rustin Farms of Trenton with 219 84 bpa.

Management tips: Widely adapted. Excellent top end yield potential under irrigated and favorable conditions. Relatively small seed size. Very good resistance to Southern Corn Leaf Blight. Average 1st and good 2nd generation resistance to corn borer.



9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 646 114-DAY RM

Top yielding 114-day hybrid.

Key traits:
Contest winning yields. Fast seedling growth rate Very good plant health Tall hybrid with medium ear placement. Large ear, excellent ear flex — length and girth. Shows yield well. Excellent ear retention. Took 1st Place in the 1992 New Jersey NCGA Yield Contest for Rustin Farms of Trenton with 209.07 bpa (Class A, Non-Irrigated), and for Richard Tindall of Trenton with 198 02 bpa (Ridge-Rill, Non-Irrigated).

Management tips: Adapted to varied soil types and weather conditions, but highest yields come from better soils at moderate plant populations Adapted to bean and corn ground Massive plant — excellent silage choice for tonnage, protein & digestibility

Gelsinger, Dietrich Take Top Honors At Reading Beef Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

READING (Berks Co.) — A purebred Simmental heifer named "Rebecca" so impressed Reading Beef Show judge Nelson Beam, Elverson, last week that he picked her in competition with an Angus and Polled Hereford to win supreme of show.

Rebecca was shown by Troy Gelsinger, 16, son of Dolores and Larry Gelsinger, Wernersville. The heifer was obtained from Winebark Simmentals, Lebanon. Troy is a junior at Conrad Weiser High School.

A purebred Angus heifer, "Mrs. B.," was shown as reserve champion of the show by Mike Holcombe, 10, son of Karen and Jim Holcombe, Mohrsville. Mike is in the fourth grade at Schuylkill Valley Intermediate School.

Kelly Dietrich, 11, won supreme champion market steer at the show with her 1,162-pound Hereford purebred named "J.R." Kelly, daughter of Jim and Donna Dietrich, Hamburg, is in the sixth grade in the Hamburg School District, and she was showing her 4-H project. Jason Grim, 16, son of Glen and Martha Grim, Mertztown, won reserve market steer. He is a senior at Brandywine High School, and showed his 1,243-pound purebred Angus.

Making steers look the best all the time should be the number one priority of exhibitors, according to Beam during the senior showmanship portion of the show. Troy Gelsinger, who exhibited his purebred Simmental "Fancy Lady" to the championship, excelled in his group "in terms of calmness and collectiveness," said Beam.

Reserve of the show went to Jeremy Manwiller, Robesonia.

Troy's sister, Tammy, won champion fitter. Reserve went to Kelly Dietrich, Hamburg.

In all, there were a total of 25 steers and 36 exhibitors at the show. Following is a list of show placings.

Leesport Exhibitor Wins Grand Champion Holstein At Reading Fair

CONNIE LEINBACH
Berks Co. Correspondent

READING (Berks Co.)— Jennifer Davis of Leesport was all smiles as her 4-year-old Holstein cow won grand champion of the Reading Fair.

"This cow has the most bloom to the udder and is very clean over the top," said judge Steve Shaw. "She tracks real well on her rear legs. She's just been the cow to beat."

Davis's cow also won senior grand champion and grand champion of the youth show.

Only a few weeks before, this cow won grand champion of the youth show at the Southeast District 4-H Dairy Show. Davis is a member of the Northern Berks 4-H Club.

Connie Troutman's 3-year-old cow, though the biggest cow in the show, was named reserve grand champion of the show.

Shaw noted that overall quality of the cows at the fair was good.

Several area businesses donated trophies to the fair for the champions. They are Reu-Hel Farms, Inc.; Atlantic Breeders; Tri-State Breeders; Dr. David Nirschl; Albright's Mill; F.M. Brown's Sons; Sire Power, Inc.; Bernared C. Morrisey Insurance, Inc.; and Dr. Dennis Hashall.

Results of the Holstein show are as follows:

Veteran Colored Breed Winners Take Honors

CONNIE LEINBACH
Berks Co. Correspondent

READING (Berks Co.) — Veteran colored breed winners once again grabbed top honors recently during judging of colored breed dairy cows at the Reading Fair.

But one newcomer to the winner's circle, Amy Plummer of Chalfont, won grand champion female of the Jersey breed in the open and youth shows with her senior two-year-old, Top-O-Hill Admiral Tasty. This cow also won senior champion of the open and junior show and reserve champion of the junior show.

Other winners were:

Cumberland Students Win Judging

HARRISBURG, Dauphin Co. — Nearly 400 students participated in the 19th annual Pennsylvania Dairy Judging Forum last week at the State Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

Heather Lehman, representing the Cumberland Valley FFA, picked up an impressive win in the FFA individual placings. With 363 points, Heather beat 364 other contestants in the Dairy Judging Forum.

Dale Biedel of the Chambersburg FFA was second with 355 points

The Athens FFA team captured the win for team competition, earning a total of 986 points. Team members included Lisa Wanck, Jessie Ammerman, Samantha Hillyard and Scott Fletcher.

The Chambersburg FFA team finished in the runner-up spot with 966 points, and Penns Valley FFA took third place with 940 points.

The Cumberland 4-H team scored 963 in the team totals to capture first place, just one point ahead of the Butler County team and two points ahead of the Berks County team. Cumberland's team members included David Day, Julie Dyarman, Becky Comman and John Leib.

David Day placed first in the 4-H individual placings with 358 points.

Plummer's Jersey Wins Supreme At Montgomery 4-H Show

CREAMERY (Montgomery Co.) — Amy Plummer, of Chalfont, showed the supreme champion of all dairy breeds at the recent Montgomery County 4-H Dairy Show, held at the county 4-H center in Creamery.

A total of 41 animals representing six dairy breeds were exhibited by 15 members of the Montgomery County Dairy Club. Matt Wanner, of Narvon, was judge for the show.

Plummer has been a consistent exhibitor of Jerseys in 4-H and at local shows in the southeastern region of the state. Her junior 3-year-old not only garnered top honors for Plummer, but a gallong of milk was later sold at auction to Rosenberger's dairy for $375 during the county market animal sale.

In the Ayrshire breed, Setch Wolfgang showed the grand and reserve grand champions, and the junior champions.

In the Brown Swiss breed, in addition to Sterner's grand champion, she showed the reserve grand champion and the junior champion, while Jonathan Sterner showed the reserve junior champion.

In the Guernsey breed, Karen Wolfgang showed the grand and reserve grand champions, and the junior champions.

In the Jersey breed, Amy Plummer showed all the champions, except for the reserve junior champion, which was shown by Danielle Breaux, of Salford.

Breaux also showed the grand champion Milking Shorthorn, while Lizzie Moser showed the reserve grand champion and the junior champions.

In the fitting and showing competitions, Lizzie Moser won junior fitting and reserve showmanship, while Christine Michalik won reserve junior fitting and the junior showman award.

In the senior-age competition, Seth Wolfgang won top honors in fitting, while Karen Wolfgang was named reserve champion fitter.

Amy Plummer was named champion showman of the senior-age youth, while Paul Plummer was named reserve champion showman of the group.

Pricing Leads Fall Meeting Discussions

STRONGSVILLE, Ohio — Pricing Structures, long-range marketing plans, production trends, and new international alliances will be discussed at Milk Marketing Inc.'s (MMI's) District 3, Local 1, 2 & 3 annual local membership meeting on Tuesday, October 5.

The 10 a.m. meeting will be held at Seven Springs Resort, Champion, Pa.

"MMI has made some difficult decisions in this past year," said Don Schriver, executive vice president and chief executive officer. "And members, as always, will want to discuss these tough decisions. That's the biggest reason for the meeting. It's MMI's chance to share directly with members, offer them an overview of MMI's past year, and ask them how can their marketing association do a better job on their behalf."

Following the management presentation, MMI Director Tom Croner, Berlin, Pa., will review the board activities.

WE THINK UNIVERSAL'S TIDAL FLOW CLAW CAN TELL ITS OWN STORY BETTER THAN WE CAN.

This new, high-capacity, durable and competitively priced claw is a far cry from where we started. We had a few disappointments that sent us back to the drawing board. The frustration of being close, but not close enough.

These new milkers are different from any other on the market today. Enlarged inlets and a larger chamber design handle increased capacity and improve vacuum stability.

But instead of just telling you how good we think the Universal Tidal Flow Claw is, we'll give you a 30-day free trial. We'll install it and show you how to operate it. If you're not satisfied, we'll remove it, replace your old equipment and it won't cost you a dime.

The claw says, "I'll put up or shut up. Just give me a chance to show you what I can do for you." Why not give him a chance? Contact your Service Center nearest you today.

Producing Quality Milk At The Farm

The dairy industry is under increasing pressure from consumers, nutrition activists, and government agencies to produce high-quality milk and dairy products. Actually, dairy farmers and dairy plants are supplying the market with the highest quality products ever produced. The question of quality is raised because milk is easily tested everyday and the monitoring tests are more sensitive than ever before. Consequently, milk becomes the standard of quality for all foods — when was the last time you heard of a lettuce or broccoli test? The facts are the tests on milk are going to continue; and, if dairy farmers want to maintain and increase their market, they will have to pass the tests with flying colors.

The main reason to produce quality milk should be pride in your product — after all, most dairymen and their families drink the milk right from the tank. Also, there is bonus money to be earned which is mostly pure profit for a little extra care. A dairy shipping a million pounds of milk per year can realize an additional $2,000 per year if the bonus is 20¢/cwt. and the farm qualifies every month. In today's economy with tight profit margins, that money is a real plus.

Some key quality control areas that all dairy farmers should focus on are:

1. Standard Place County (SPC) - This bacteria test has been used for years to monitor the quality of milk produced on the farm. Most farmers have learned how to produce milk with a low SPC score. Cleanliness of milking equipment and rapid cooling of the milk are the main factors that lead to a low SPC. GOAL - under 10,000.

2. Somatic Cell Count (SCC) is usually a measure of infection in the cow as a result of mastitis. The SCC total may also increase during late lactation when a cow is producing a small amount of milk. Mastitis is a constant battle on some farms, but it can be controlled. This column will discuss those means in a future issue, but be aware that just one or two high cows can cause the herd average to skyrocket! It may be better to cull a chronic mastitis cow and/or dry up a high count late-lactation cow to get the herd SCC down. GOAL - under 200,000.

3. Preliminary Incubation County (PI Count) - This measure of quality has become more important to dairies in recent years as they try to extend the shelf life of milk in supermarkets. The time interval from when a cow is milked until the consumer drinks the last drop from a jug has increased dramatically, and they still expect the milk to maintain its quality to the end. A low PI Count indicates good sanitary practices on the farm. The test detects bacteria that continue to grow and multiply in cold temperature causing milk to spoil even though it is properly refrigerated. The keys to having a low PI Count are proper cleaning of milk equipment, adequate hot water during the wash cycles and, most important, sanitize all milking equipment before each milking. GOAL - under 30,000.

If you are having trouble meeting the levels to secure a bonus, work with your dairy sanitarian, your vet, and your Penn State Extension Agent to solve your problems. Remember, a little extra effort at milking time can result in some extra bucks in your pocket!

Littermate Champion Brings In Reading Fair Trophy

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

READING (Berks Co.) — A littermate of the grand champion hog at the Oley Fair picked up supreme champion swine at the Reading Fair Swine Show last week.

The hog, a 213-pound York/Duroc/Hampshire cross from the medium weight division, was a litter mate of the grand champion hog exhibited by Richard Kerper, Jr., at Oley Fair recently. Richard, 18, is the son of Richard and Kay Kerper, Oley.

Richard, an Oley Valley High School senior, is a member of the Berks County 4-H Swine Club. The hog was obtained from the Oscar Manbeck herd in Bethel. This is the second year in a row for a champion hog at the Reading Fair for Richard, who said another littermate may also be going to the state Farm Show in January.

Reserve champion went to Jen Rabenold, 16, daughter of Brenda and Carl Rabenold, Kutztown, exhibited a 212-pound hog from the middle weight division to a reserve championship. She will be showing hogs at the county round-up and the state Farm Show in January.

Judge for the show was Grant Lazarus, Busy Acres Farm, White Hall.

In all, there were a total of 31 hogs and 15 exhibitors. Following is a list of show placings.

Award Winners Named

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Top notch professional technicians were presented ways to support the DHIA members at the 1993 Technicians Summer Conference. Outstanding leaders served as the panelists for a discussion "Look to the Future". Approximately 225 Pa. DHIA professional technicians and guests attended the conference in Danville, Pa. Those not in attendance were mailed a program and packet of supplementary materials.

The stage of the conference was set just right from the beginning, with the beautifully decorated lobby which set the stage with a farm setting with barn, silo, barnyard and two cows.

Field Director, Dean Amick welcomed everyone and outlined what the 1993 conference was going to cover. Dave Shenk, President of the PA DHIA technicians gave hs opening remarks followed by Dave Bigelow, Training Coordinator for PA DHIA, covered topics of professionalism and some up-coming programs. The panelists for "Look to the Future" included Robert Kendig, Norman Hershey and Joe Lyons.

Jim Boyer, PA DHIA Data Processing Center Manager, talked about the subjects of true protein, and DHIA pedigrees for grade animals and lap top computers. A well attended computer break out sessions involving the lap top computers was another highlight of the agenda. Jim Garrity, Personnel and Finance Director and currently Interim General manager shared some remarks on the concept of the association's modules called "Infinity" and also talked about the DHIA retirement program.

The handing of the DHIA awards is always an appealing part of the Summer Conference and were given out at an Awards Breakfast and will be listed at the end of this article.

The Summer Technicians Conference ended on a positive note with John Simms, Veterinarian from the Franklin County giving another fantastic presentation on using DHIA reports entitled "The Difference Between Good and Excellent."

Consider This A Garbage Disposal For Your Lawn.

The revolutionary Model 47C ChipperVac combines a pull-behind vacuum with a self-feeding chipper/shredder to handle every kind of lawn debris from leaves to large branches and limbs. And with the ChipperVac, you don't need to shovel up your shredded material or struggle with a collection bag. Take the ChipperVac anyplace on your property where you need to chip or shred yard debris and it all goes into the solid steel container. It's that simple. And it's from EasyRake...so it's built for years of dependable use.

The Model 47C, with its two-year warranty, features:

- Large-capacity, enclosed cart for dischargé of shredded debris, saving time and effort compared to a traditional chipper/shredder which discharges debris onto the ground
- Self-feeding chipper for branches and limbs up to 3 inches in diameter, using specially hardened steel knives and an inlet guard for extra safety
- Shredder using 16 free-swinging flail knives with a solid steel elliptical screen to produce consistent and finely-ground compost material
- 37+ cubic foot garden cart with removable hard top assembly and 90 degree dumping capability
- FREE operator's kit with safety goggles, gloves and hearing protection

Lesher Wins PA Young Farmer Spokesperson Title

HAMBURG (Berks Co.) — Lolly Lesher, Bernville, won the Pennsylvania Young Farmers Spokesperson for Agriculture contest. Lesher, the daughter of a farmer is a native of Huntingdon County. She continues the family farming tradition; she and her husband farm in Berks County, operating Way-Har Farms and dairy store.

Lesher is a graduate of Penn State University with degrees in Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology. Her tenure as a promoter and educator trace back to the days when she was a county dairy princess and active 4-H'er.

Taking every opportunity to educate the public, Way-Har Farms hosts farm tours each year as a part of the Berks County Farm City Program. Guided tours on the farm gives the family the opportunity to visit with customers and the general public one on one. "Questions like, 'Do you really work every day?" and 'What do you do in between milkings?' are the most difficult to answer," Lesher said. "The public has a very limited knowledge about the food they eat, and that is really scary. Their ignorance is preyed upon by those against production agriculture. All I ask for is equal time, to tell the truth about how and why we do what we do to the animals in our care."

Lesher has taken her passion for educating the public one step further. She has started SMASHING SUCCESS, a small communications and public relations agency servicing agricultural organizations and businesses. "Making you and your event a smashing success" is her slogan. Her work focuses on telling the public about agriculture and its importance in our lives.

Lesher will compete for the national title in December at the national Young Farmer Institute in Louisville, Kentucky. The national winners will conduct media blitzes throughout the southeast, telling the story of production agriculture. This national recognition has great appeal to Lesher, and she will be sharing her knowledge with everyone she meets along the way.

paid to personnel of any organization are the sole business of the members of the organization. However, Mr. Gustin raises a key point that farm leaders not only run their organizations, but they also promote dairy policies that are either helpful or a hindrance to the farmers.

It is in this vein that I will attempt to answer some of Mr. Gustin's questions. By doing this I may be labeled an informer, or a collaborator or even worse, but this doesn't concern me because I know what the average dairy farmer is going through, and these dairymen want some changes.

1981 is a good year to refer to, as that was the last year of real parity pricing on manufactured milk products. I like to refer to the month of July, because July is a neutral month in Federal Order #2 pertaining to the seasonal incentive plan.

July-Blend Price
1993 - $12.85

Cost Of Production
U.S.D.A. Figures
1981 - $13.19
1990 - $16.46

Residual Return Risk
To Management & Risk
+ $2.03
- $.46

These figures tell the whole story.

Mr. Gustin questions salaries — in 1981 one major co-op reimbursed directors $30 per day plus $5 more if the director was an officer. Today, for appropriate meetings, the fee is $150 per day. Directors do deserve to receive some compensation for their efforts.

In 1980 and early 1981, co-op managers were probably receiving around $45,000. Today it is anybody's guess. Personally I always felt a co-op manager's salary should parallel the salary of a school superintendent of a major school district. In our area the average salary of a school superintendent is probably around $70,000 per year.

For the general farm organizations, you will find the Farmers Union very conservative with their compensations with many of their members donating a lot of their time. The Pennsylvania Grange with nearly 40,000 members pays their top leader probably only slightly over $20,000 per year. The Board of Directors of Pro Ag established an $80 a day per-diem for their manager, which cannot exceed 5 days per week.

However, in my opinion, what is making Pro Ag move forward is the dedication of the Board of Directors and Advisory Committee Members, because they receive no per-diem, no reimbursement for mileage and when they get to a meeting they buy their own hamburg. Pennsylvania Farmer's Union and the Grange is close to the same arrangement.

It is these types of people who are committed to making realistic changes in commodity pricing formulas, changes in real estate taxes, etc.

The monetary reimbursement to the above mentioned people may be small, but their rewards will surface when their perseverance prevails, and then the Lloyd Gustins and all dairy farmers will have something to look forward to.

Students Set Fall Classic Again

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.)—A ten year milestone will be reached later this month when students from Penn State's Dairy Science Club and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association (PHA) again stage the annual Nittany Lion Fall Classic in the Ag Arena on campus. The Registered Holstein sale date is Oct. 30. Starting time is 11 a.m.

"The club members made all the selections this year," said Ken Raney, PHA director of member service. "And they have put together 80 animals with solid type and deep pedigrees. The sale includes 31 fresh or springing cows and 23 bred heifers. Several are from EX94 dams with records to over 31,000m, nearly 1200f, and 1080p.

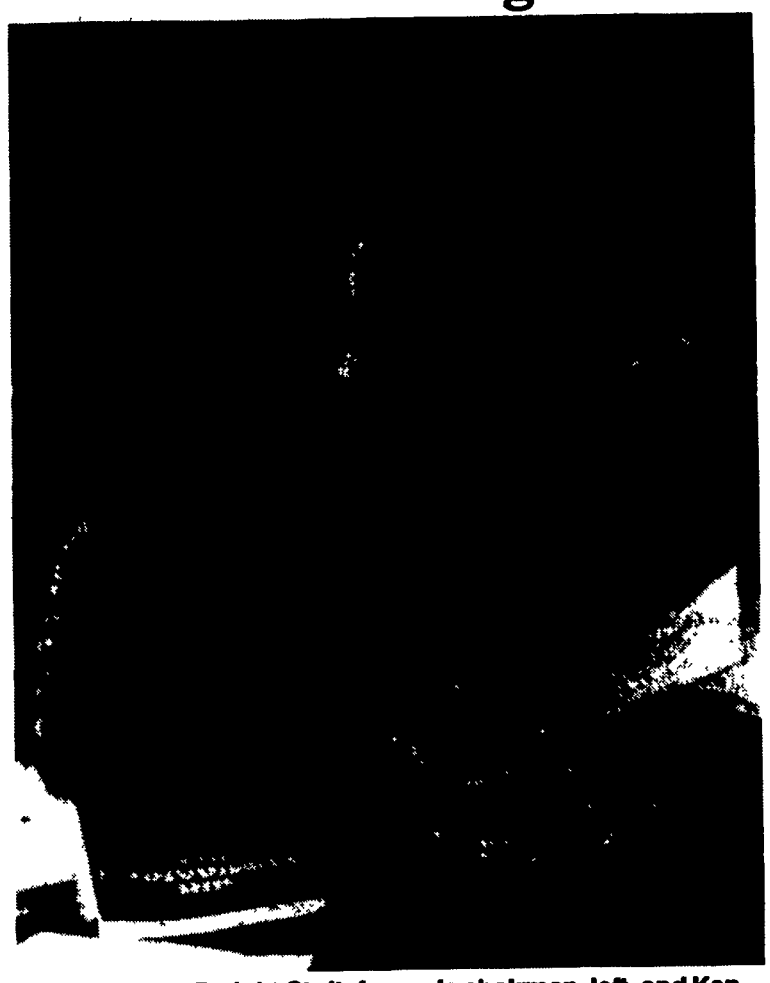
Senior Dwight Stoltzfus, sale chairman, said he is impressed with the type of cows in the sale. "I'm excited to see the cows and heifers together in the sale barn," Stoltzfus said. "I think we have a lot of type to go with high milk production. And the close-up animals will be comming into peak production and that will be good for the buyers.

In 1984 the Fall Classic was one of the first events held in the new Ag Arena. To celebrate the 10-year event, all former student sale chairpersons have been invited to be at the sale. These alumni and the year they chaired the sale are 1984, Mark Wolfskill; 1989, William Lesher; 1986, Kim Kriebel; 1987, Walter Russell; 1988, Mark Price; 1989 David Mattocks; 1990 William Curley; 1991 J. Thomas Wiker; and 1992 David Lentz.

The Fall Classic provides students with valuable hands-on experience in merchandising, selecting, advertising, and fitting registered dairy cattle. The club wants to give special recognition to all the Penn State alumni who consign and purchase cattle at the sale.

Larry Muller, Penn State, is the advisor to the club. "We would not be able to offer this learning experience to our dairy science students without the help of everyone," Muller said.

Beyond the learning experience for the students is the opportunity for buyers to purchase key individuals to improve their herds at home. For more information about the consignments, you may call Raney at the Pennsylvania Holstien office in State College. Phone: (814) 234-0364.



PSU senior Dwight Stoltzfus, sale chairman, left, and Ken Raney, Pennsylvania Holstein Association, prepare the catalogue for the Nittany Lion Fall Classic.

Supreme Champion Wins Again At Lampeter

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.)—The beautiful 5-year-old cow that was the supreme champion at Lampeter last year did it again last Thursday.

Matthew Howard had the junior champion Holstein with a senior yearling and George Bard had the reserve junior champion with an intermediate calf.

Lampeter Livestock Sale Held Last Friday Night

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.)—A little benevolent activity was part of the 4-H lamb sale at the Lampeter Fair livestock sale last Friday evening.

After Lisa Reiff sold her champion 4-H market lamb to three buyers for $6 per pound, it was announced that Lisa was donating the proceeds of the 126-pound lamb ($756) to her brother who is on a mission project in New Zealand.

The buyers, Black Bear Structures, R & R Landscaping, and Lancaster Ford Tractor, then announced they were giving the lamb back to be resold to benefit the 4-H Development fund. Walter M. Dunlap & Sons then bought the lamb for $1.90 per pound.

The champion FFA market lamb shown by Kyle Harnish sold to Keystone Farm Credit for $4 per pound.

In the steer sale, Dale Livengood sold his champion 4-H market steer to H. C. Reineer and Son for $3.45 per pound, and Jay Hess sold the champion FFA market steer for $2.10 per pound to Darrenkamp's Markets.

Crystal Charles sold her 4-H champion market hog to Leidys Inc., for $3.10 per pound and Jay Hess sold his champion FFA market hog to Witmer's IGA for $3.05 per pound.

Other market hog champions were sold as follows: Jason Reifsnyder, champion middle weight, $1.45 per pound to Hess Butchers; Matt Fry, champion lightweight, $1.40 per pound to Powls; Keith Fry, champion light heavyweight, $1.35 per pound to Thomas Truck-

HARRISBURG, Dauphin Co. — Agriculture Secretary Boyd E. Wolff yesterday was to have announced a scholarship program for students who enter junior livestock competition at the Farm Show.

Wolff and members of the Pennsylvania Farm Show Scholarship Foundation were to unveil the new college scholarship program during the Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) in Harrisburg.

The scholarship concept was created early this year when Mark Simmon of Lebanon 4-H, after selling his 1993 grand champion swine for $15,000 at the 1993 Farm Show, accepted only $5,000 and donated the remaining $10,000 to a new endowment fund to provide scholarships to agriculture students.

The $15,000 bid that purchased Mark's championship animal during the Farm Show auction came from a collective effort by Hatfield Quality Meats, Glatfelter Agri-Business Insurance, and Hoss's Steak and Sea House; three long-time generous supporters of junior livestock competition at the Farm Show.

The foundation is to award six $1,000 scholarships to outstanding students representing Pennsylvania 4-H and FFA. Students who have sold Junior Livestock animals at the Pennsylvania Farm Show since 1993 can obtain scholarship applications by calling Mr. Ken Winebark at (717) 270-4391.

The students must also meet criteria of academic standing, have a recommendation from his/her county agent, have college/university enrollment plans, a demonstration of leadership, character, citizenship and economic need.

KILE Opens With Fanfare, Work

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The 37th annual Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) opened Thursday evening with a short awards ceremony and welcome, held in the Small Arena of the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

The annual livestock exposition continues to grow and attract animal exhibitors from a number of states and Canada, according to Charles Itle, general show manager.

After an introduction from Dennis Grumbine, president of the Pennsylvania Livestock Association, and an overview of the changes and additions to this year's version of the large animal exposition, Peter Krall, chairman of the PLA selection committee, introduced Dr. Everett Denlinger as the 1993 selection to the Livestock Hall of Fame and presented the award.

While it was previously announced that Denlinger would receive the award, the official presentation was made in the Small Arena beneath a large permanent photo display of all the previous inductees into the PLA's Hall of Fame.

A number of people and dignitaries were present for the ceremony, including state Secretary of Agriculture Boyd Wolff, to congratulate Denlinger on the nomination to the Hall of Fame.

Denlinger, born in Kinzer, is currently a part time veterinarian at the Penn National Race Track as state veterinarian, however his 46-year career has included an early stint with what has become Atlantic Breeders Cooperative, a private large animal practice in Lancaster County, and from 1968 on he worked for the state Department of Agriculture, becoming chief of its Bureau of Animal Industry in 1972 during which time he instituted a number of disease control programs.

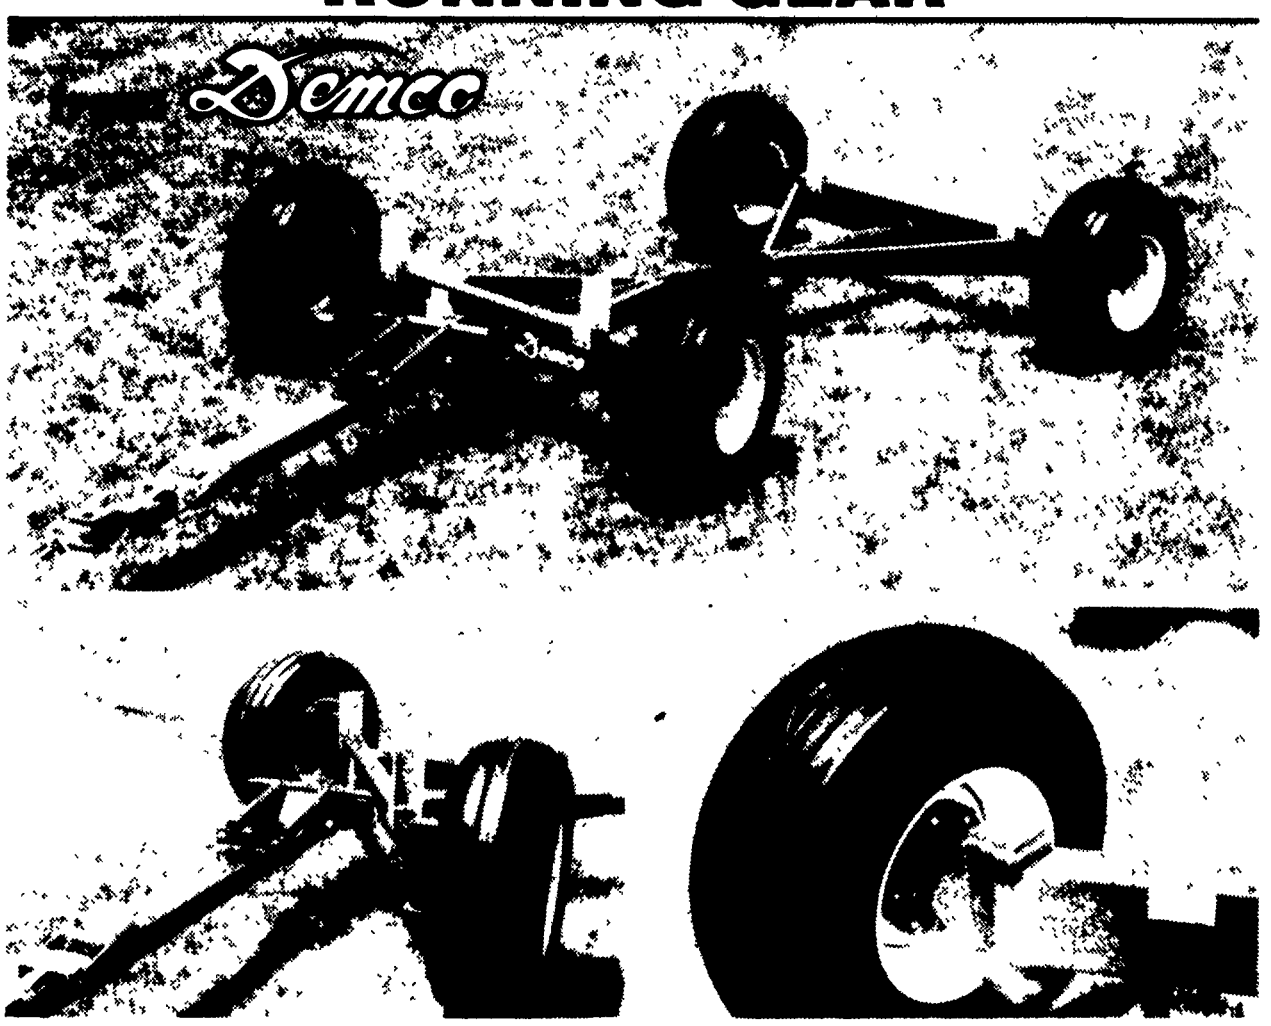
Other awards presented include the PLA Youth Award, which was presented to four Pennsylvania youth active in livestock activities and within their respective agricultural youth organizations.

The FFA award recipients this year were Jeff Bollinger, of Ephrata, and Krista Byers, of Millerstown. The 4-H recipients were Timothy Bishop, of Home City, and Amy Jones, of Carlisle.

Scott Stone, state FFA officer, also made a presentation of an award to the PLA in recognition of appreciation of the livestock organization's support of FFA.

Following the opening ceremony, attendees were invited to watch a novelty pig race — which is an activity in which well-fed young pigs race each other around a small track to receive a treat — and observe some of the show participants who were busy throughout the large complex preparing animals for competitions which actually began Friday and continue through Monday.

12 ton LOW PROFILE RUNNING GEAR



Spring loaded lift assist on the tongue is a standard feature of the 12 ton gears. A short turning radius permits tight turns. Built-in steering stops prevent damage from over steering.

Straight heavy duty spindles lower the gear, allowing an overall lowering of the center of gravity of the grain box. We recommend using this gear with our 365 bushel box.

Valuable Dependability

- Automotive type steering with adjustable solid steel tie rods.
- Heavy duty spindle and hub assembly for long service life.
- Wide 84" tire tread width for added stability and maximum safety.
- Bolster stakes adjust from 38" to 42" width.
- Adjustable reach pole for 86" to 128" wheel base. Extra long reach pole is available for 132" to 174" wheel base.
- Extendable tongue is self locking when backing up for easy hook ups.
- Available in your choice of green and yellow trim or red with off-white trim.

Lancaster Farmland Trust To Hold Art Auction

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Five original works by the late David Brumbach are headlining Lancaster Farmland Trust's second Art Auction on Oct. 8 at the Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster.

Two landscape scenes, "David's Father's Birthplace" (Millport Mill), and an untitled piece very similar to "Weavertown Road at Sunset," will be auctioned, as well as three abstracts including a piece from the Face Series, an ink and pencil similar to "Disc" and a larger ink and pencil.

Among the other pieces available for bidding will be works from Mark Workman, Lynne Yancha, Charles Carlson, Suk Shuglie, Sandra Brett, and Leonard Ragouzeous, as well as Robert Andriulli, Davis Cantrell, Matt Chambers, Linda Cunningham, Ann DeLaurentis, Arlene Fisher, C. Ned Foltz, Bruce R. Fry, Barbara Goss, Carol R. Good, Gail Gray, Carol Herr, Constantine Kermes, Zoa Kile, Kathleen King, Robert A. Lyon, Lisa Madenspacher, David McLain, Ric Morgan, Xtian Newswanger, Neal Pressley, Richard Ressel, Luigi Rist, Fred Rodger, Linda Rugel, Doug Schlemm, Jean Sharf, Clifton Sheeley, Andy Smith, Linda Strauss and Caroline Willitts and many more.

Highlighting the many, framed limited edition prints at the auction will be an early release of Ann DeLaurentis' eagerly awaited first limited edition print, "Orchid Aurora." The print is from an edition of 500. Ten limited edition prints of David Brumbach's "Water Lily" will be sold as well.

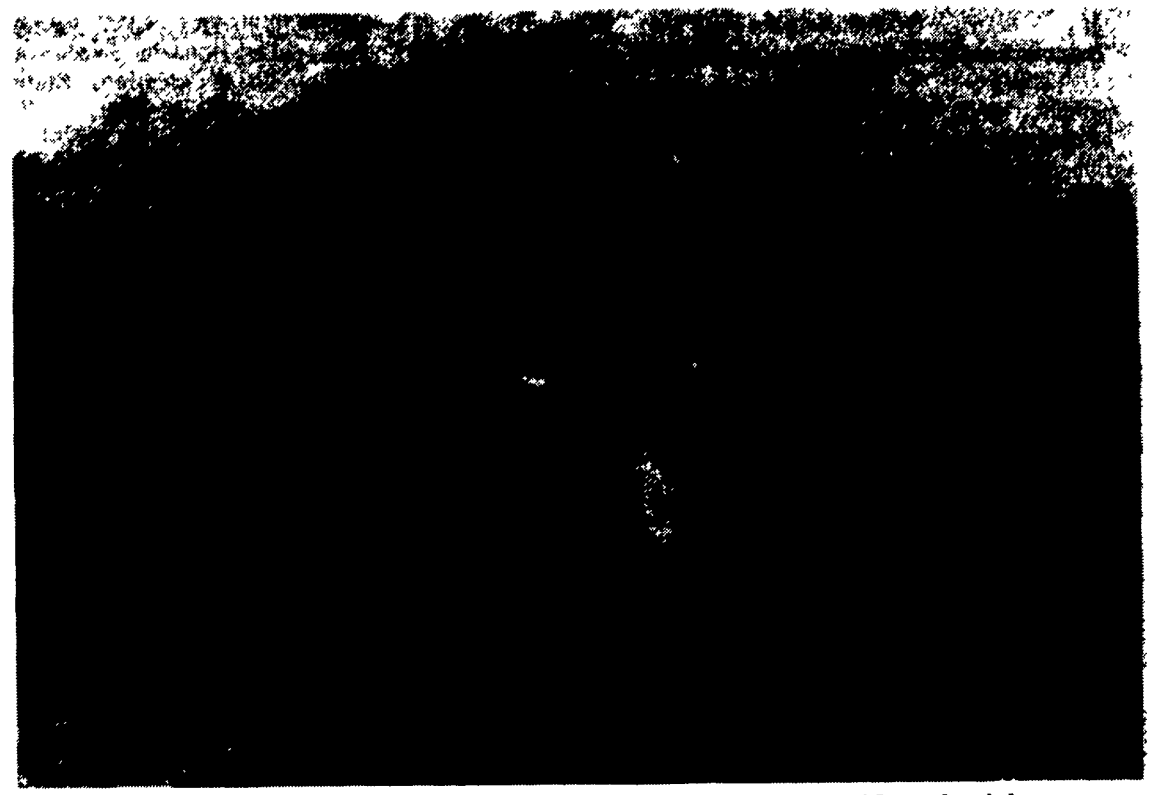
Kathleen Bridgehouse, director of development for the Trust said, "The local art community has been wonderfully generous to us this year. Many well respected, sought after artists have donated original pieces as well as limited edition prints. There will be a great selection for our bidding audience."

Lancaster Farmland Trust is a non-profit organization which works to preserve the county's farmland using private contributions. To date the 5-year-old Trust has preserved 43 farms. All proceeds from the art auction will be used to continue the Trust's efforts in farmland protection and preservation.

The auction is set for Friday evening, Oct. 8 at the Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster City from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. The auction preview is to be held from 6-7 p.m. with open bar and hors d'oeuvres buffet and the auction will commence at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $10 and reservations may be made by calling the Trust offices at 717-293-0707 or writing Lancaster Farmland Trust at 128 East Marion Street, Lancaster, PA 17602.

Parking is to be available in the Brunswick parking garage for $1.



Entitled, "Millport Museum," this painting by the late artist David Brumbach is one of many to be auctioned off to raise funds for the Lancaster Farmland Trust.

The authority of the board, although primarily limited to that of consultant, is considered to be significant for several reasons, but especially because agriculture is the state's leading industry, and Pennsylvania's law and resulting program may well be held up as an example for other states to follow.

On Wednesday, board members elected Donald Bollinger, of Kleinfeltersville, to be chairman of the board and George Robinson, of Snyder County, as vice chairman.

The board also formed a Bylaws Subcommittee chaired by Mary Lehman, a non-farmer member of the board from Cumberland County, and a subcommittee to help the state Department of Agriculture in the development of a certification program for nutrient management technicians. The second subcommittee is to be chaired by William Brubaker, of Lancaster, a representative of the fertilizer industry.

Walt Peechatka, PDA deputy secretary for regulatory programs, said that much work has already been done in developing a certification program, basing it on a pesticide applicator's certification program that he had helped to develop and institute while director of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Brubaker and two others are to work with Peechatka prior to the next meeting so that some agreement on the certification program can be developed before presenting the proposal before the whole board.

The meeting was opened by state Secretary of DER Arthur Davis. Davis, by law, is also chairman of the Conservation Commission and appointed the members of the advisory committee, upon recommendation by the state's major agricultural organizations.

Davis explained that the Nutrient Management Act allows only a relatively short time frame for the commission to develop regulations and get a program running.

The certification program is to be finished by the end of October; by January, he said the goal is to have proposals ready for public hearings and to have regulations approved by July 1994.

Davis told the group that he thought the work was "doable" despite the short amount of time. He said they should be prepared to work.

Following Davis's address, the group introduced themselves and a list of the goals and perspectives of board members was created. The list showed that the group predominately does not want to see over regulation, wants flexibility and a program that fosters initiative and creativity in finding ways to achieve goals.

They said they want the program to not be burdensome to the farmer. It was generally repeated that "good" farmers should have nothing to worry about and that financial support should be available to assist the implementation of programs to improve water quality.

Several of the members repeated that the goal and the purpose of the board is to help create a program that has improve water quality as its goal, not merely creating regulations to fulfill the letter of the law.

In that vein, Penn State University Extension representative Doug Beagle, though not a board member, explained that it was his opinion that in order for the program to be effective in improving water quality, that the program should put the emphasis on allowing the individual enough freedom to form his own program, as long as he can show that the program can be expected to have a positive effect on reducing the flow of excess nutrients into a watershed.

Beagle's advise was repeated several times during discussions with state Conservation Commission representatives about "interim criteria" which are to be formed in order to have a certification program running.

Basically, what the group seeks to do it to create regulations which would allow the scope of responsibilities and the expectations of a nutrient management technician.

While there was some discussion about setting specific limits on nutrient levels, it was quickly brought back to focus that the goal should be to create regulations which would allow anyone to create an industry no matter what size as long as there is created a balance and accountability of nutrients used and handled.

Michael Krempasky, executive secretary of the state Conservation Commission, said he and his staff will work on developing a draft to present to the board 10 days prior to the next meeting, for discussion at the next meeting.

Survey Under Way

SOMERSET (Somerset Co.) — A survey of market lambs is being conducted by the Pennsylvania Sheep and Lamb Marketing Program.

"The survey is a key part of our cooperative development initiative," said Program Chair Jim Sheeder. "We need to know current weight ranges for finished lambs. We need better information about where the lambs are located."

The survey follows an extensive study of retail, ethnic, and mail-order market opportunities for Pennsylvania lamb and program's Market Development Steering Committee. Sufficient market demand was found to warrant further business planning for a cooperative marketing association. Survey results will help define which markets the cooperative can effectively supply.

Floyd Huber, vice president of Pennsylvania Pork Producers, shares his enthusiasm for pork promotion with his wife Elaine. Huber is a herdsman on a farrow to finish operation in Fleetwood where the couple live with children, Adrianne, 2; Anthony, 8 months, and Justine, 4 months.

Family Enthusiastic About Pork Promotion

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

FLEETWOOD (Berks Co.) — "The secret to cooking pork is to marinate and not to overcook it," said Elaine Huber.

Elaine is the wife of Floyd Huber, vice president of Pennsylvania Pork Producers and herdsman for a farrow-to-finish pig farm in Fleetwood.

Convinced that people who learn to cook pork properly will make it a regular part of their weekly menu, the Hubers have launched the idea for the Pork Recipe Contest under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Pork Producers.

The first 100 pork recipes that Lancaster Farming readers send to the newspaper are winners. The Hubers will send a free barbecue apron to the winners.

Elaine wears a Pork Producer's barbecue apron while she prepares a pork entree. One hundred of the aprons will be given to the first 100 contributors of pork recipes sent to Lancaster Farming.

Floyd said of his decision to launch the contest, "We see so much about dairy in the paper, I thought it's time to get pork in the paper."

As chairman of the youth committee of Pork Producers, Floyd attended the Pork Leadership Institute in Des Moines. He came back with lots of ideas and unquenchable enthusiasm for pork the other white meat.

At the convention, he learned that 33 different cuts can be made with pork loin. Since he returned, he has been experimenting by cutting up many of the pork roasts that he and his wife have butchered. The couple especially like cutting the roasts into meat cubes and grilling them as kabobs.

The Hubers' favorite way to grill pork is to marinate it overnight in the following:

Marinade

¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons ketchup
1½ pounds boneless pork cut.

Combine all ingredients in a self-sealing plastic bag; seal bag and refrigerate overnight. Remove pork from marinade. Grill over indirect heat in covered grill, turning once, until pork turns light pink or white in center.

Floyd and Elaine met in FFA at Garden Spot High School. Neither were from farm backgrounds, but as part of their FFA projects, Elaine showed sheep and Floyd showed hogs. Elaine also excelled in FFA public speaking contests.

About two years ago, the Hubers moved to the pig farm owned by Stephen Burkholder. The Hubers live on the farm that houses 160 sows, with a farrow-to-finish operation. They are in the process of expanding to 450 sows.

Floyd's main responsibility is to manage the sows and to help with the field work on 1,000 acres where all the feed for the pigs is grown except for starter feed.

General care for the pigs includes daily washing of farrow crates and pens.

The farm uses only Pig Improvement Company (PIC) stock. "Today's pork is leaner through improved genetics," Floyd said. He matches sows and boars according to size. Average litters are 11½-12 head of live births.

Floyd believes all pork producers should get involved with the National Pork Producers Council.

"Some think because they participate in checkoff, that's enough," Floyd said, "but a membership means a lot more than that."

He said that more members mean more influence in government lobbying. As a member, lots of opportunities are open to develop leadership by becoming involved in the activities.

Floyd said that he started out as a pork representative in 1989. His main responsibility was to hand out trophies and literature at the state Farm Show. Now it's his duty to oversee the pork representatives, and he is trying to get them more involved in pork promotion.

He frowns upon those who complain of the pork checkoff program.

"Look what the checkoff program has done for pork producers," he said. "Since it was instigated, pork consumption has gone up."

Floyd wants pork consumption to increase even more. And he thinks it is inevitable the public knows the facts about pork — the other white meat.

Nine fresh pork cuts, commonly available at the retail meat case, are under 200 calories.

Eight pork cuts fall between roasted skinless chicken breast and skinless chicken thigh in terms of fat and cholesterol.

The reduction in fat, saturated fat, calories, and cholesterol is a result of pork producers' making genetic feeding and management improvements.

Pork offers more choices today than ever before. And the variety of lean cuts makes it easier than ever to plan lean and delicious meals.

The Hubers have three children: Adrianne, 2; Anthony, 8 months, and Justine, 4 months.

Having two children who are only four months apart causes a lot of confusion to first-time acquaintances, but the puzzle is easily solved when the couple explain that Anthony is adopted.

"Adoption was something we talked about and wanted to do even before we married," Elaine said.

She has become accustomed to carrying a baby in each arm when necessary. Having three children under three is made much easier because the babies are extremely happy and content. Justine enjoys watching Anthony, who seems to always be smiling and laughing as he crawls and examines the world. Adrianne is a vivacious, outgoing toddler who converses fluently with adults.

In between taking care of the children and work, the Hubers will mail the 100 aprons to the contest winners.

Please make things easier for them by including your name and full address printed on the recipe. Absolutely only one recipe per family.

Send a pork recipe to Lancaster Farming's Pork Promotion, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522.

In between somersaults and entertaining chatter 2-year-old Adrianne hugs her bear Happy.

Seeds From Grandma's Garden

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — If you are searching for beans like Grandma used to grow in her garden, but can't find them, check with the Heirloom Seed Program at Landis Valley Museum. Chances are that they will have the bean seed although it may be called a different name than Grandma called it.

That's because many of the seeds handed down through the generations are referred to by family names such as Alma's Limas or Jacob's Cattle beans.

As years pass, many seeds that were commonly available in previous years disappear. In fact, Nancy Pippart, coordinator of the Heirloom Seed Project and historical gardens at Landis Valley, said, "Less than three percent of the seeds available in 1903 are available today. And of the 7,000 apple varieties available in the states in 1900, more than 5,000 are lost."

Many seeds have been lost because of hybridization and the requirements of large-scale growers.

That does not mean that the produce from the seeds did not taste as good as those that that did survive or that they are less disease resistant. Through time, the seeds have been lost.

Pippart and about 20 volunteers at Landis Valley want to change that. For the past eight years, they have been planting several acres with heirloom seeds passed on through family generations. These seeds are available by ordering through the Museum's catalogue and at the Museum's annual Harvest Days, helld this year on October 9 to 10.

During Harvest Days, visitors may observe the fenced-in gardens, typical of 200 years ago, and purchase heirloom seeds and a limited quantity of produce grown in the gardens.

Volunteers work year-round in the gardens. Pippart said, "They do everything — plant, weed, hoe, water, harvest, process, fill seed packets, and ship catalogue orders.

Most of the volunteers are backyard gardeners themselves whose nostalgic for the past often invokes interest in heirloom seeds. Participants in the heirloom seed program strive to preserve the varieties that their own families use.

Pippart said the program began when Lee Stoltzfus from Lititz presented the idea to the museum board. Stoltzfus had contacts and many seeds that he had been preserving over the years. With his and donations from many other families, the museum has been able to offer numerous traditional strains of non-hybrid varieties of plants grown by Pennsylvania Germans before 1940, which have an oral or written history extending back into the early 1800s.

Ida Risser, columnist for Lancaster Farming, is one of the persons who has donated heirloom seeds. The Risser Early Sugar Pea and Risser Sickle Pea are family favorites which have been passed through the generations and are now available for other gardeners to purchase through the Heirloom Seed catalogue or at Harvest Days.

Prices for the seed packets range between $1.25 to $3. Since some seeds are in short supply, customers can purchase only one packet per each variety.

The heirloom seed project is only a small part of the Harvest Days celebration. More than 75 craft and living history demonstrations from the 1750-1900 era will show how to make items such as apple cider, gingerbread, bricks, Battenberg lace, dry a house, rye straw roof thatching, dyeing, scherenschnitte, and many early crafts.

Story telling, folk and fiddler music, angling, clock repairing and presentations about Mennonite life and religion will be held.

Horse-drawn wagon and carriage rides with the Museum's horse are available to visitors.

Landis Valley is the largest outdoor museum of Pennsylvania German rural heritage that is a vil-

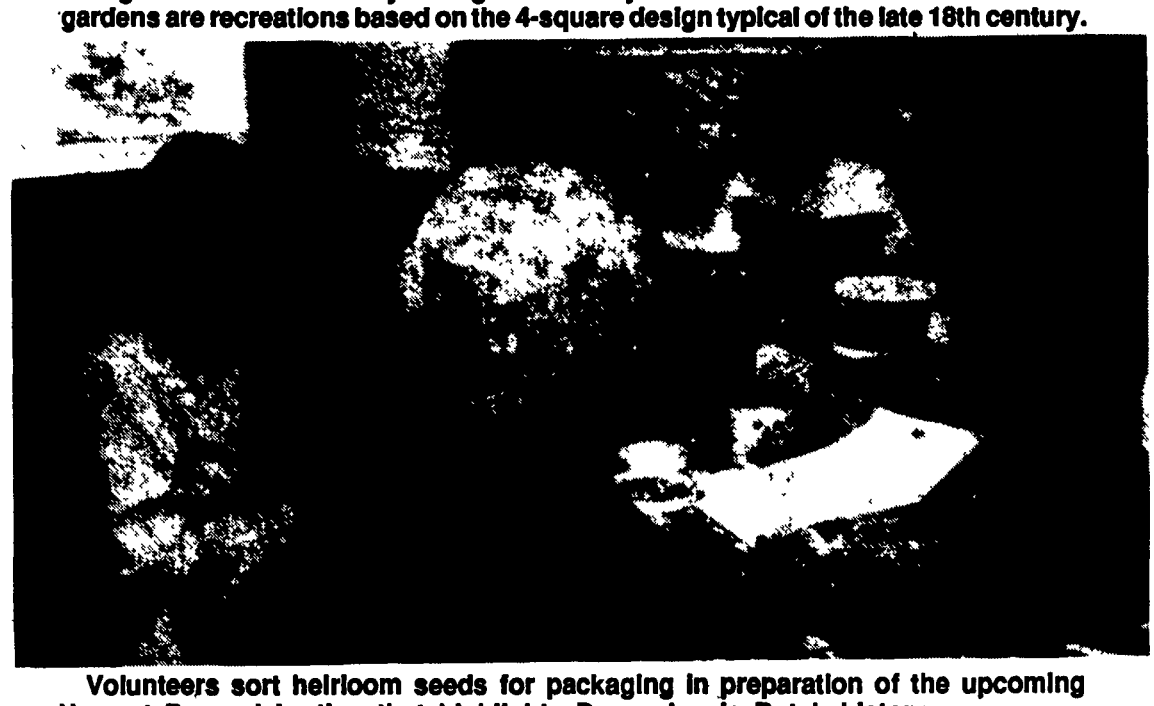
Johann McKee is one of the volunteers who will be working in costume in the farmstead garden at Landis Valley during Harvest Days on October 9 and 10. The raised bed gardens are recreations based on the 4-square design typical of the late 18th century.



Volunteers sort heirloom seeds for packaging in preparation of the upcoming Harvest Day celebration that highlights Pennsylvania Dutch history.

The Beauty of Rice

There are many reasons to cook with rice. Dishes that include rice look elegant, taste delicious, and are easy and inexpensive to prepare. One-half cup of rice contains only 82 calories, is high in complex carbohydrates, and is cholesterol and sodium-free.

Rice differs in color and size. When harvested, an inedible husk surrounds the kernel. Only this husk is removed from brown rice. Its characteristic color is due to the natural bran layer left on the grain. Cooked brown rice is chewy with a nutty flavor and is high in fiber.

The bran layer, some vitamins and minerals, and most of the fiber are stripped from white rice. Without the bran layer, it cooks in 15 to 20 minutes, whereas brown rice requires 40 to 50 minutes. White rice often is enriched with b vitamins and iron to replace some of those vitamins and minerals lost during milling.

There is long, medium, and short-grain rice. Long-grain is about four to five times longer than it is wide. These firm, separate grains work well in salads, casseroles, and side dishes. Medium- and short-grain types are shorter and plumper when cooked, and tend to cling together. These are appropriate for dishes with a creamy consistency - rice puddings, croquettes, and meat loaf.

Converted or parboiled rice is very popular. This specially processed long-grain white or brown rice becomes extra fluffy with the removal of excess surface starches. The process also helps the rice to retain many of its original vitamins and minerals. Some parboiled rice, however, take several minutes longer to cook and require additional liquid. Still, you can use them in recipes calling for regular long-grain rice.

Precooked and instant rice, which are cooked completely or partially then dehydrated, reconstitute quickly in boiling water. Many rice mixes, packaged and frozen, are also on the market. These, however, are usually high in sodium. You may have noticed some unusual rice in supermarkets or specialty stores. Aromatic, nutty-flavored basamati is a favorite in Indian cooking, while arborio, the Italian short-grain rice, is suited for long-cooking creamy risotto. These stores also stock glutinous rice, a sweet, sticky short grain often used in Japanese and Chinese dishes. Luxurious wild rice actually is a type of grass valued for its rich, nutty flavor. It is similar to rice in appearance and use.

Cooking rice is not an exact science. There are many variables, including cooking times and amounts of liquid recommended by different brands. It is a good idea to check package directions for each brand of rice before you cook. The directions usually indicate how to make rice firmer or softer to suit personal taste. You can use most rice in different recipes by making minor adjustments.

Celebrate Pork Month

There's a simple secret to cooking perfect pork: Don't overdo it. Cooks must remember that tender, juicy results call for medium doneness. When pork is white or slightly pink in the center and juices are running clear, it's ready to enjoy.

Pork has changed in recent years. Now lean through genetic breeding and feeding, pork is a healthy choice for those even on restrictive low-cholesterol diets.

For succulent, lean, and tender entrees, try America's Cut, a 1½ -inch thick boneless pork center loin chop, Chef's Prime, a two- to four-pound boneless pork roast cut from the rib end of the loin, and Chef's Prime Filet is a ½ -to ¾ -inch thick cut.

If you're shopping for value, boneless chops offer the most for the money. Even though boneless cuts cost more per pound on a price-serving basis, boneless cuts are cheaper because you are not paying for the bone or trim.

Here is the first batch of recipes received for the Pork Recipe Contest sponsored by the Pork Council.

BEST SPARERIBS

Salt
Pepper
Cole slaw

Parboil ribs in water to cover, about 30 minutes

Place on rack in large roasting pan. Salt and pepper to taste. Roast 1 hour at 350 degrees. Cut in sections and serve with cole slaw.

TANGY BROWN RIBS

2 pounds country-style ribs or 6 pork chops
Salt and pepper
Oil
½ onion, chopped
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
8-ounce can tomato sauce

Place meat in baking dish. Brush with oil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes. Drain fat. Combine all but tomato sauce; spread on meat. Pour tomato sauce over meat. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until done, basting occasionally with sauce. Serves 6.

Chester Springs

WASHDAY DINNER

1 tablespoon butter
Onions
Potatoes
2 tablespoons flour
1 can tomatoes
Sausage
Salt and pepper, to taste

Melt butter in a large heavy skillet. Line the bottom with thick layer of onions. Add a generous layer of potatoes. Sift flour over this. Pour tomatoes on top. Slice sausages thinly to cover tomatoes. Add boiling water to cover. Salt and pepper to taste. Bake at 300 degrees for 3 hours. If sausage gets too brown, turn over.

Three Springs

TURKISH RICE

Brown 1 pound lean ground pork with 1 cup chopped onion. Stir in 2 cups cooked rice and 1 pint canned tomatoes with juice. When heated through, place in greased casserole. Top with 1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese. If spicier flavor is desired, use spaghetti sauce in place of tomatoes.

PINEAPPLE GLAZED HAM BALLS

2½ pounds ground ham
1¼ cups oatmeal
1 cup milk
3 eggs, beaten

Mix together ingredients and form balls.

Glaze:

1 cup plus 2 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ tablespoon dry mustard
1¾ cup pineapple juice
½ cup light Karo
3 tablespoons vinegar

Mix together in blender and pour over balls. Bake at 300 degrees for 1½ to 2 hours.

PORK CHOPS WITH MUSHROOM GRAVY AND DUMPLINGS

6 thick pork chops
1 can cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 cup water.
Shortening for frying pork chops
Salt and pepper, to taste
4-ounces mushrooms

Season pork chops with salt and pepper. Melt shortening and brown pork chops slowly in a skillet. When both sides are nicely browned, remove from pan and keep warm.

To the particles in the pan, add one cup water and bring back to a boil. Drop dumplings by the spoonful into the pan, cover, and cook for 15 to 18 minutes, without lifting the cover.

When dumplings are done, remove from the pan. Mix mushroom soup with the milk; drain the can of mushrooms or use fresh ones, return to skillet and heat thoroughly. Serve with dumplings and gravy.

PORK CHOPS BREADED

6 pork chops
¾ cup fine bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup milk
¼ cup boiling water

Add salt and pepper to bread crumbs. Beat egg and add milk. Dip chops in liquid and roll in crumbs. Put 3 tablespoons shortening in skillet and brown chops. Place chops in a baking pan or dish and add boiling water.

Cover and bake at 400 degrees for about 50 minutes. Serves 6.

Regina Weaver
Quarryville

Chef's Prime Filet Santa Fe takes only 15 minutes to prepare.

PORK ROAST DIVINE

3 pounds pork loin roast
1 medium onion
1 bottle chili sauce
½ cup sweet molasses
½ teaspoon cinnamon, optional

Roast pork 1½ hours at 325 degrees. Peel and chop onion. Combine with sauce and molasses in a small skillet. Cook until onions are soft. Pour sauce over the roast and bake for 30 more minutes.

Pine Grove

AUTUMN SUPPER

1 pound bulk sausage
1 large onion, chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
20-ounce can tomatoes or 1 quart home canned
½ cup water or tomato juice
2 cups uncooked elbow macaroni
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons chili powder

Brown sausage and onion in a heavy skillet. Drain grease. Stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, cover pan. Simmer, stirring often to prevent sticking. Lower heat and cook until macaroni is tender (20 to 25 minutes). Makes 6 servings.

Wanda Zeigler
Herndon

HAM ROLLS WITH CHEESE SAUCE

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup milk
1 cup ground cooked ham
2 tablespoons soft butter
1½ tablespoon mustard

Add butter and mustard to ground ham, set aside.

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt; cut in shortening. Add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out dough ¼ -inch thick and spread with ham mixture. Roll as a jelly roll and cut into slices 1½ -inches thick. Place cut side down in a greased pan and bake at 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. When baked, serve with cheese sauce.

Cheese sauce:

3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups grated cheese

Melt butter, add flour and seasoning. Stir until well blended. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and smooth. Add cheese, stir until melted. Serve over rollups.

CHEF'S PRIME FILET SANTA FE

4 Chef's Prime Filet (½ -to¾ -inch boneless pork ribend steak)
1 teaspoon vegetable oil
1 cup chunky salsa
1 teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon ground cumin
1 clove garlic, minced

In a large, heavy skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Brown steaks quickly, about 2 minutes per side. Lower heat, add remaining ingredients to pan; cover and simmer 8-10 minutes.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Waking out of a sound sleep, it takes a moment to identify the sound.

It's not the steady hum that sometimes echoes near the upper reaches of the chimney, where a colony of bumble bees (we think) cohabits with us under the same roof.

Nor is it the rolling clatter that once, years ago, stirred me from a sound sleep, a noise that took some time and thought to identify. We finally speculated that a busybody rodent had discovered a stash of English walnuts drying on the attic floor, and took to moving them away down the walls, bowling style.

We ultimately won the bowling tournament with a strike — of a peanut-butter-baited mousetrap.

No, this is not that sound.

What it is I finally recognize is Monk, our housecat, banging at the bedroom door with her own demanding, paw-driven, wake-up-call. Day will soon be breaking — and she wants breakfast. Now.

One of the tradeoffs for the never-caught-up schedule of farm life is the space and the freedom to keep an assortment of pets — inside and outside. While some of our dairy herd members are special pets, they don't come carrying a ball to be thrown or hop up on the easy chair, meowing, late at night to curl up in our laps.

Like anything worth having or caring about, pets are cuddly but sometimes inconvenient, loveable but sometimes in the way, touching but sometimes troublesome. (Folks sometimes don't think about that, get tired of a pet and dump it off along a road somewhere to fend for itself — a behaviour I figure oughta' be addressed by doing the same thing to the former pet owner.

Our dozen or so barn cats are pets, sort of, at least some of them. A few are rather standoffish, willing to show up for cat food and milk, but not wanting to be picked up or petted. Like many farm pets, the barn cats are expected to help earn their keep by helping control the inevitable mice and rats.

Solomon, the Sheltie, was adopted from his former owner because we were dog-less at the time. His primary responsibility is to alert us with his barking to visitors and escaped heifers, a job he takes most seriously — so much so that he comes barking even at us sometimes. That he is affectionate and playful is a bonus.

He also thrives on the occasional opportunity to help move cattle — and would be an absolute perfect farm dog if he could ever learn which end of a cow is the one that should be chased.

Then there are the poultry pets — and I use the term "pets" loosely. Our couple of barnyard chickens are not tame, are noisy and periodically scratch up parts of the flower beds. Still, they clean up spilled grain and gobble up flies and insect larvae, a true natural, all-organic sort of pest patrol with neat, crowing sounds and beautiful feathers.

One recent morning, The Farmer showed up at the calf nursery door, his hands cupped. Peeking out between his thumbs were two tiny, feathered-and-beaked heads.

Our single bantam had hatched out her third round of the season. She lost every one of the first hatch, raised several chicks from the second and now produced this third clutch. Two babies she had with her, somewhere. These two, which she had left behind, were alive only because The Farmer had found them before the cats.

As pets go, our barnyard chickens hardly meet any of the criteria for keeping them around.

Makes one wonder who is more bird-brained — the chickens or their keepers.

Apple Dumpling Festival At Ephrata Cloister

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Taste the freshest, best-tasting apple dumplings at Ephrata Cloister's 13th annual Apple Dumpling Festival on October 9.

The Festival benefits the Back to the Cloister Fund, which enables the Ephrata Cloister Associates to buy and preserve significant artifacts and pieces of Cloister history. In the past, the fund raiser enabled the Associates to purchase letters written by founder Conrad Beissel as well as spiritual leader Peter Miller. Beautifully illuminated music manuscripts, books, furniture, and deeds and documents from the William Y. Zerfass collection help make the history and interpretation of the Ephrata Cloister come alive.

Ephrata Cloister was one of America's earliest communal societies. Housed in a unique collection of medieval style buildings, this community of religious celibates practiced an austere lifestyle that emphasized spiritual and mystical goals rather than material objectives. Known for its original music and fraktur, the Ephrata Cloister was also an early center for printing and publishing in Pennsylvania. Ten of the original buildings have been restored and interpreted to recreate this unusual 18th century communal society.

Located at the junction of Routes 322 and 272 in Ephrata, the Cloister will open at 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the day of the festival. Admission is $5 for adults; $4 for seniors, $3 for youth; and under 6 is free.

Enroll In Home Landscape Design

WESTMINSTER, Md. — Whether you are installing a new landscape or just upgrading an existing landscape, the fall home landscape design course is the place to upgrade your skills. All facets of home landscape design will be covered including: site assessment, landscape concepts, themes, maintenance and installation strategies and more. Also included is a survey of locally recommended woody plants and their usage in the landscape.

The course will be held at the Extension Office on five consecutive Thursdays starting October 14, 1993 through November 11, from 7:00-9:30 p.m. The fee for the course is $55 and includes all texts and handouts. Registration forms are available at most area garden centers and Carroll County Public Libraries or by calling the Carroll County Extension Office at (410) 848-4611 or (410) 875-2801.

ANSWER — Sherry Willis, West Grove, wanted a recipe for Cowboy Beans. Thanks to Kathy Erickson, Chesterfield, N.J., for sending a recipe.

Cowboy Beans

28-ounce can pork and beans with liquid
15-ounce can pinto beans, drained, rinsed
15-ounce can butter beans, drained, rinsed
½ cup water
¾ cup chopped onion
4-ounce can diced green chilies
½ cup catsup
4 to 5 slices bacon, cut in ½ -inch pieces
¼ rup brown sugar, packed
1½ tablespoons chili powder

In a large dutch oven, brown bacon, drain; add the onions and cook until soft but not brown. Stir in catsup, sugar, and spices. Add chili pepper and beans. Add water if necessary.

Cook on stove top over medium-low heat until desired consistency, stirring occasionally. Or, if desired, transfer to a 3-quart casserole and bake at 350 degrees for one to one-and-a-half hours. Serves 8 to 12.

ANSWER — A Lewisburg reader requested recipes for chicken. Thanks to Pat Elligson, Millers, Md.; Linda Beiler; Nancy Kring, Johnstown; and Betty Light, Lebanon, for sending recipes.

Chicken-Rice Casserole

6-8 pieces chicken
¾ cup rice
1 package onion soup mix
1 can cream of celery soup

Put uncooked rice in bottom of greased casserole. Lay chicken on top of rice. Dilute soup with one soup can water. Pour over chicken. Top with onion soup mix. Bake 2 hours at 250 degrees.

Chicken And Mushrooms

2 chicken breasts, skinless, boneless, halved
2 tablespoons Worcestershire or soy sauce
2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
½ -1 pound sliced mushrooms

In a large skillet, combine and heat Worcestershire, mustard, and oil. Add mushrooms, cook over medium heat until they begin to release their liquid or 3 minutes. Arrange chicken on top of mushrooms. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Turn chicken and stir, combining with mushrooms. Cook another 5 minutes or until chicken is thoroughly cooked. Serve over rice or pasta.

ANSWER — Karen Yourga wanted a pizza sauce recipe to can. Thanks to Leora Petet, Hollsopple; Linda Beiler; Frances Hoover, Lebanon; and Naomi Stoltzfus, Myerstown; for sending recipes.

Canned Pizza Sauce

1 gallon tomato juice
1 cup oil
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons garlic salt
1½ cups diced onions
2 tablespoons oregano
4 teaspoons chili powder
1½ teaspoons brown sugar

Combine ingredients and cook one hour. Thicken with Clear-Jell. Fill jars and seal.

Pizza Sauce

12 quarts tomatoes
4 hot peppers, chopped
4 sweet green peppers, chopped
3 pounds onions, chopped
2 garlic cloves, chopped
4 cups celery, chopped
1 pint cooking oil
4 large cans tomato paste
½ cup salt
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon basil
1 tablespoon oregano
1 tablespoon parsley

Peel and cook tomatoes. Add chopped peppers, onions, garlic, and celery. Add oil and cook for 30 minutes. Add tomato paste, salt, sugar, basil, oregano, and parsley. Cook until thickened about 40 minutes. Cold pack 15 minutes. Makes 28 pints.

Pizza Sauce

10 quarts tomatoes, cooked and strained
Add:
4 cups chopped onions
4 cups chopped peppers
4 cups sugar
4 tablespoons oregano
4 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon oil

Boil together 1 hour, thicken with Clear Jell and stir until boiling. Pour into jars and seal in boiling water bath.

Pork

ROASTED PIG STOMACH

1 pig stomach
3 cups diced potatoes, cooked
3 slices bread, cubed
1 pound loose sausage

Have stomach rinsed and fatty side turned out. Mix together potatoes, bread, and sausage. Fill stomach with mixture and sew opening shut. Put in a small roasting pan with a little water. Bake at 350 degrees for 3 hours. Add a little water if it gets too brown.

Optional: grind stomach and mix with filling before serving.

PORK LOMEIN

1½ pounds pork, cut into 1-inch slices
½ teaspoon minced fresh garlic
¼ cup soy sauce
1 teaspoon granulated sugar
½ cup peanut or vegetable oil
2 cups Chinese vegetables, drained
1 large purple onion, cut into thin slices
¼ pound snow peas or pod peas or frozen snow peas
1 can drained mushrooms or 5 medium fresh mushrooms, cut thin.
2 bags rice, cooked according to box directions or 8-ounces linguini, cooked the same.
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

In a wok or non-sticking skillet, add 3 tablespoons oil and heat slowly. While heating in bowl, mix meat and 1 tablespoon soy mixture and garlic. Add to heated wok. Stir-fry until pinkness is gone, remove and wipe out wok with paper towel. Add 2 tablespoons fresh vegetable oil, heat and add drained vegetables, stir-fry until well coated and heated. Remove and repeat cleaning process. Add 1 tablespoon fresh oil, precooked rice, and remaining soy mixture, mix well. Add vegetables and meat. Reduce temperature and simmer, covered, until ready to eat. Serve with bread and butter. Makes 4-5 servings.

We really enjoy this meal and it's rather filling as well as a not weighing down feeling.

SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

1½ pounds fresh sausage
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
½ pound Velveeta cheese, cubed
4 cups cooked sliced potatoes
10-ounce package peas, thawed

Brown sausage and add onion. Cook until tender. Blend in flour, salt, and milk. Add cheese; stir until melted. Add potatoes and peas. Put in casserole dish and bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes. Cooked carrots may be added. Serves 6-8.

Herbs Bring Sweet Smell Of Success

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Herbs, once used for everything from stomach ache remedies to air fresheners, have made a comeback.

"Interest in herbs has increased rapidly in the past few years," says Keppy Arnoldsen, horticulture graduate student in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences. "The Herb Research Foundation in Colorado gets hundreds of calls a week from gardeners and people interested in different uses for herbs."

Arnoldsen and Aimee' Voisin, a senior majoring in horticulture, recently completed an independent study project growing herbs in an ornamental plot at Penn State's Trial Gardens. They also developed a data base with information on 75 herbs, including common and scientific names, plant characteristics, hardiness, size, soil preference, propagation, pests and disease, bloom time and color and some uses for the herbs.

"Many commercial growers are finding it lucrative to sell herbs wholesale to garden centers and stores. There's also a large market in dried herbs for decorations, teas, cooking and other uses. You can make a career out of herbs," says Arnoldsen.

Voisin plans to do just that. "Herbs have such unusual textures, colors and scents. I got intererested in them when I worked in a greenhouse after graduating from high school," she says. "I started buying books about herbs, and now I've decided to become a wholesaler and sell dried herb products.

"It's one thing to read about herbs in a book, and it's another to grow them," says Voisin. "We had some surprises. Some plants turned out to be incredibly bushy and took up three times the space we thought they would. And I never realized that cilantro and coriander are really the same plant — one is the leaf and one is the seed."

"We're very interested in helping Penn State students who want to do an independent study on growing vegetables, herbs, ornamentals or other plants," says Katherine Shumac, research technologist and manager of Penn State's Trial Gardens. "We reserve a space every year for that use. It's a great opportunity for students to get hands-on experience."

Voisin and Arnoldsen aloso are updating Penn State Cooperative Extension's herb publication, which has information on growing and using 30 of the most popular herbs. The revised booklet will be available next year through county extension offices.

"The students learned a tremendous amount from studying and growing these plants," says Dr. Michael Orzolek, professor of horticulture and adviser for Arnoldsen's and Voisin's independent study. "There's a lot of potential for research in this area."

Dr. Peter Ferretti, professor of horticulture, and trial garden and vegetable research staff assisted the students with their herb project. Funds, plants or seeds were donated by O.W. Houts and Son, College Gardens Nursery, Twin View Nursery, Narber Brothers Agway, the Penn State Horticulture Club and the Nittany Lion Inn.

Fraktur Lecture

Frederick S. Weiser, will present a slide-illustrated lecture "A Window on the Soul, Fraktur: An Introduction to the Pennsylvania Dutch" at the Hershey Museum on Monday, October 18 at 1 P.M. Recognized as an authority on many aspects of Pennsylvania German culture, Weiser has researched and written about the various types of Fraktur including Taufscheins and Vorschrifts and the artists who produced them. Participants are encouraged to bring in fraktur pieces if assistance is needed with identification information.

Pastor Weiser is a native of Hanover, Pennsylvania and a graduate of Gettysburg College and the Lutheran Theological Seminaries in Gettysburg. From 1966-1992, Weiser served as editor of the publications series of The Pennsylvania German Society. He has written extensively on local history, genealogy, church history and Pennsylvania German life and folk art. Historical organizations such as Winterthur, Colonial Williamsburg, Old Salem, The Dietrich Foundation, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, the Free Library of Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Museum of Art have utilized Pastor Weiser's skills as lecturer, consultant, and translator of their Pennsylvania German material.

The program is free with museum admission. For information call (717) 534-3439.

Museum Offers Lincoln Lectures

HERSHEY (Dauphin Co.) — A series of six lectures on Abraham Lincoln will be given at the Hershey Museum by guest lecturer, Dr. Robert Ambacher on Wednesdays, October 13 through November 17, from 3 to 4 p.m. The series emphasizes the five most important roles Lincoln played in public life, his life in general, and the words he employed to illuminate those roles. Topic covered in the course are Lincoln the lawyer, the politician, the President, Commander in Chief, the emancipator, the wordsmith. Class fee is $20 for the series.

Dr. Ambacher is professor of German at Millersville University. In addition to teaching other courses at the museum, Dr. Ambacher has authored over 125 articles and reviews, is the recipient of the Commonwealth Distinguished Teacher Chair, and has been a Fulbright Scholar.

Pumpkin Personalities Are Fair Winners

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — Oscar the Grouch came to the York Fair.

So did Pete the Dragon.

They stayed for the entire nine days of the fair in a big tent, along with other famous folks like Santa Claus, Mother Goose and Garfield the Cat. Thousands of visitors to the fair stopped by the tent to see them.

Along with the more famous faces was a zoo-ful of animals of all sorts. Farm animals included a bright pink pig and a rather unusual cow, with an orange and black coat. A sleek black and white penguin stood guard over the group, not too far from a quiet, small, gray elephant.

Snakes curled in some corners and an over-sized honeybee buzzed among some brushy grass. Even the black skunk with its telltale white stripe down its back seemed to fit in with this mixed group.

From under the sea came a scuba diver, one very large, very shiny, giant green sea turtle, and an octopus with tenacles dangling in all directions.

What brought this unusual gathering of characters together was the annual York Fair pumpkin decorating contest. There were more than 800 entries in the contest from children representing all of York County's school districts.

The contest actually began last spring, when Rutter's Dairy and Farm Stores, Agway and the York Fair made pumpkin seeds available for children to plant and grow for the summer gardening season. Pumpkins could be entered in a class for the most perfect specimen or in the decorating classes. If their pumpkin growing was unsuccessful, kids who wanted to enter the contest could instead buy one to decorate.

Pumpkin "outfits" were as simple as bright colors splashed on with a paintbrush to fancy, colorful costumes. Some pumpkin faces wore wigs, ears, jewelry, hats and collars.

Selected as one of the champion pumpkins was a large, curled, neck-type pumpkin, which had a neat, but simple, snake face, and triangular snake-like markings painted along its length. Another champion was actually three pumpkins fastened together, dressed in shirt, overall, socks, shoes,and complete with face, hair and hat.

The pumpkin contest has become one of the York Fair's favorite attractions for both kids and parents. Kids who enter like to compare how well they did with other pumpkin decorators — and maybe get some ideas for the next contest.

And, in the York Fair pumpkin contest, each pumpkin is a winner. Every single entry goes home with a shiny, rosette ribbon.

One huge pumpkin entered in the contest came as a giant, green, sea turtle, complete with a butternut-squash head.

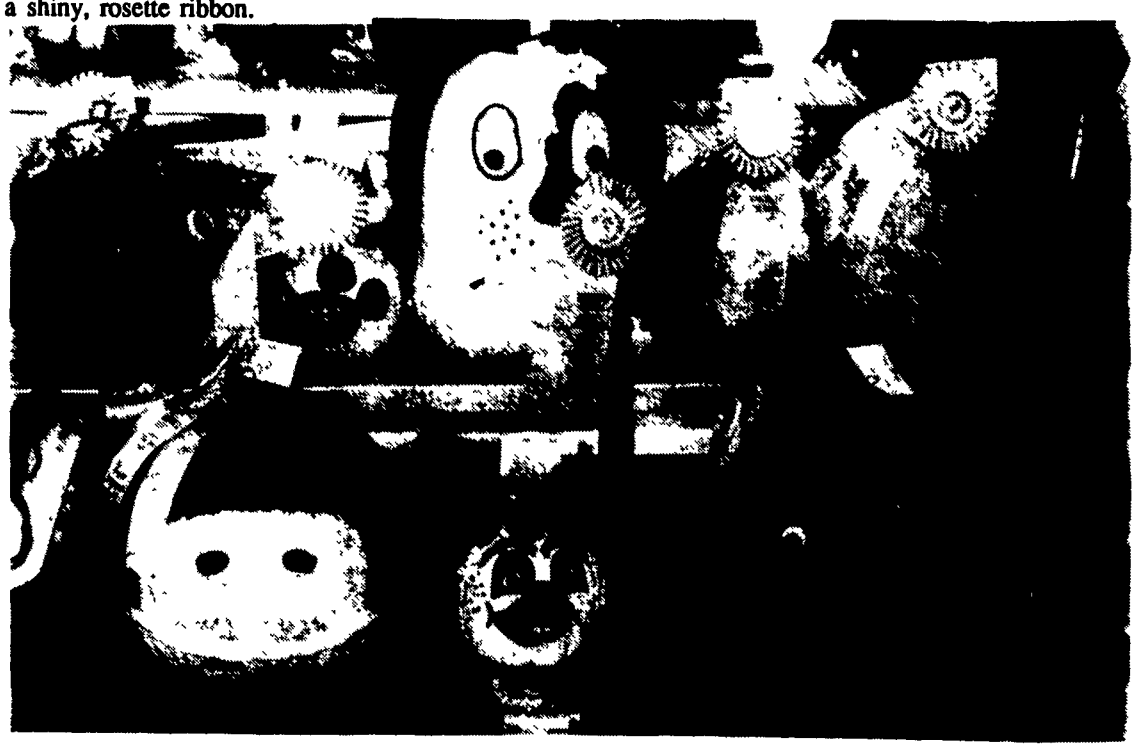
There was at least one orange and black cow at the York Fair - this entry in the pumpkin decorating contest wearing a first-place blue ribbon.

Perched on the champion display table at the pumpkin contest was this three pumpkin-stuffed person which took a top prize.

This little piggy went to the fair.



Entries in the pumpkin decorating included football players, clowns with multi-colored curls, a small, gray elephant and a large black and white dog.

Evelyn Trexler of Reading shows her prize-winning apple pie, which took first place honors recently at the Reading Fair. An old-fashioned recipe and slightly green, tart apples are the key to top quality, she says.

Old-Fashioned Apple Pie Is Tops At Reading Fair

CONNIE LEINBACH
Berks Co. Correspondent

READING (Berks Co.) — It was nothing more than an old-fashioned apple pie recipe that won Evelyn Trexler of Reading top honors in the sixth annual Blue Ribbon Apple Pie Contest at the Reading Fair.

In fact, Trexler only decided at the last minute to enter an apple pie along with six other of her entries to the food division.

"I had been at the shore the day before," Trexler said. "And while I was making my peach pie, I thought, 'Oh, I'll just go ahead and make an apple pie.'"

So, this first-time participant in the apple pie contest placed first out of 18 entries. She is eligible to compete in January at the state Farm Show in Harrisburg.

Pat Golembiewski, a professional cake baker and one of three judges, noted that Trexler's pie was excellently made.

"The crust was tender and flakey, not gummy. It was baked through, which many of the others were not." She also said the apples were not over-done and mushy, and the flavor was excellent: Not too spicy, not too tart.

"It had an old-fashioned apple pie taste," Golembiewski said. Also, the crust was uniform and intact.

Golembiewski also noted that of all the pies, Trexler's was baked in a Pyrex dish, the big factor in the crust being baked through.

Trexler, a substitute home economics teacher for the Reading and Muhlenberg school districts, said there's really nothing all that special about her pie. It's a basic recipe though slightly adapted.

She began, however, with fresh, slightly green McIntosh apples from a friend's orchard near Fleetwood. The apple mixture is "kind of standard," she said. And the crust is made with vegetable shortening, not butter.

Trexler's peach pie placed fourth; her fudge won first place; and her pumpkin bread also was honored. Two pieces of needlework also won honors.

The following is Trexler's apple pie recipe:

TREXLER'S APPLE PIE

5 to 7 tart apples
1 c. sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup raisins, optional

Pare apples and slice thin. Mix together the sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt. Cut in the butter with a pastry blender (or two knives). Add apples and raisins and mix. Fill a 9-inch pastry-line pie pan. Adjust crust, seal, and pierce top of crust. Bake at 400 degrees (375 degrees for Pyrex) for 45 minutes. Serve warm with ice cream.

Crust:
2 cups all-purpose flour
⅔ cup shortening
¼ teaspoon salt
6 to 8 tablespoons cold water

Mix the flour and salt. Cut in the shortening with a pastry blender (or two knives). Pieces should be the size of rice. Add water gradually, 1 tablespoon at a time, gently mixing with a fork and pressing to one side of the bowl. Add each tablespoon of water to dry part and push to moistened part. Gather up and form 2 balls, one slightly larger than the other for bottom crust. Roll out larger ball on floured board. Fit into pie dish. Fill with apple mixture. Moisten dough around rim of pie dish. Cover with top crust, seal, crimp edges, and pierce top crust. Sugar can be sprinkled on top for added effect. Bake.

Lorin Tuttle of Oley Township won the Greatest Cocoa Cake Contest with her Hershey's Chocolate Raspberry Rhapsody triple layer cake with raspberry cream filling.

She got the recipe from Colonial Home magazine, she said, and changed the icing from butter cream to cocoa icing. The texture was excellent and the taste was superb, noted Golembiewski and another judge, Marge Nester.

Lorin's secret ingredient? "Have your husband level the oven before baking the cake," she said with a laugh. Since her house is old and the floors are uneven, it's essential to have even layers for a triple-layer cake, she said.

Tuttle is co-owner of "The Little House," a bed and breakfast along Covered Bridge Road.

Hershey's Chocolate Raspberry Rhapsody Cake

1 cup Hershey's unsweetened cocoa
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs
2½ cups sugar
1 cup unsalted butter

Icing:
1¼ cups butter
2 cups confectioners' sugar
7 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons Hershey's cocoa
6 ounces Hershey's semi-sweet chocolate chips melted and cooled

Filling:
½ cup seedless raspberry jam
1 cup heavy cream

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour three 9-inch round cake pans. Place cocoa in bowl and gradually add hot water. Stir until smooth. Stir in cold water and vanilla. Set aside. In separate bowl, combine cake flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt; set aside. In large mixing bowl, beat butter until light and creamy. Gradually add sugar. Beat until fluffy. Add eggs one at a time beating well after each addition. Alternately add flour mixture and cocoa mixture, beating at low speed until ingredientes are blended. Divide batter among pans. Bake 25 minutes or until toothpike comes out cleam. Cool on racks 10 minutes. Remove from pans.

Icing:
In mixing bowl, beat butter, sugar, and cocoa until creamy. Beat at high speed for two minutes until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in melted chips. If necessary, chill mixture a few minutes until spreading consistency.

Filling:
Bake raspberry cake and make pastry filling. Place jam in small mixing bowl, gradually add half cup of cream, stirring until smooth. Add remaining cream. Beat at high speed until stiff. Chill if necessary to make firm.

Heritage Home Tour Highlights Colonial, Victorian Eras

SHARON B. SCHUSTER
Maryland Correspondent

NEW WINDSOR, Md. — The time has come, once again, for the New Windsor Heritage Committee, now in its 10th year, to showcase some of the area's most interesting places in an upcoming Tour of Homes. On Sunday, October 3, visitors will have a unique opportunity to stand on the inside and look out through palladian windows, stained glass panels, a storefront window, wavy glass panes, and more. The 1993 Tour of Homes is a study in contrasts — from 18th century to 20th century, from elegant and palatial, to simple and cozy.

Visitors who come to New Windsor will go away with loads of decorating and landscaping ideas, as well as a sense for the historical significance of area homes and churches.

The cottage-like home of Connie Anders, 212 Maple Street, is a good example of what can be done with a small home. The bungalo style house, built in 1939, is shaded by a huge tree in the front yard, where a pair of partying pandas peers from the porch. Ms. Anders is a teddy bear collector and her collection often spills over onto the outdoor living areas. The focal point of the setting is the flower garden which is an explosion of color throughout the growing season. Birds are drawn by the varied floral pallette, and frequent the feeders in the backyard.

Inside, Ms. Anders has decorated the single story home with her collection of bears, family pictures and cobalt blue glassware.

An interesting tie to the history of the area is that an ancestor of Ms. Anders, Francis Winter, who was also one of the earliest settlers in the area, gave the land for the site of St. Luke's "Winter's" Church, circa 1766. The church, with its adjacent early graveyard, is another stop on the tour. (refreshments will be available there.) Michael Wagner, Sr. (1723-1795), a colonist who served in the Indian War with George Washingto, is buried in the cemetery along with his wife.

Going from small to tiny, visitors won't want to miss the storefront home owned by Steve and Linda Manning, 112 Church Street. The front step which bears the name 'REID', and the original large storefront windows, are the only clues that this was the former leather, shoe and harness shop, run by Dallas Reid in a time when such a business thrived in town, around 1918. The small dimensions of the shop (approx. 12 feet x 32 feet) have been completely transformed into an efficient home, complete with a loft bedroom.

Just up the street at #136, is the Francis Jesse Devilbiss House, now home to Dale and Judy Gray. The design for this Queen Anne style house with a three story octagonal tower first appeared in R. W. Shoppell's "Artistic Homes of Low Cost." Circa 1889, the initials of the original owner, FJD, are etched into the glass of the double front doors of the entry. Mr. Devilbiss was author of a series of articles about the early history of the town.

Also located in town is the office of New Windsor's mayor, Jack Gullo, Jr., at 105 Green Valley Road. A former carriage house, the circa 1900 building has been completely refurbished to accommodate the modern-day needs of an executive. The decor includes period pieces of furniture as well as vintage law books. The large mahogany conference table and matching chairs can accommodate fourteen people.

Sycamore Place, 4300 Green Valley Road, is home to Elwood and Rusty Myers of Union Bridge. The circa 1803 home shaded by a huge Sycamore tree, is an interesting example of renovations and expansions which preserve the original character. The recently expanded sun-porch off of the kitchen, is a bright addition which includes a fireplace and area for relaxation.

Mr. Myers' collection of eagles is displayed in an adjacent area, but the theme carries over into the Victorian-style parlor. A table is ornately carved with the likeness of an eagle. A pair of his and her chairs are carved with claws and eagles' heads. The mantel clock bears an eagle, and a Hummel figurine is one of several eagles perched atop a walnut corner cupboard made by Mr. Myers.

An eagle also flies high atop the flagpole outside, and parked not far away will be the Myers' prized Willy's Knight. The automobile is featured in an original painting by Joseph Craig English, which hangs over the rolltop desk inside.

The cornerstone of Hedgeleigh, 426 McKinstry Mill Road, is dated 1876, but the style is more of the antebellum period. The beautiful brick home is of the style that was built for successful merchants and farmers in Carroll County during that era. It features twelve feet high ceilings, and is furnished with many examples of Baltimore Empire furniture. Included are pieces by the reknowned John Needles.

Just over the hill and around the bend stands Resurgum, circa 1800. The lovely five room log home was rebuilt by the owner in 1981, using most of the original materials. The antique furnishings reflect the period.

Crowning the hill at 9932 McKinstry Mill Road is Schmidts' Autumn Breeze, circa 1812. The facade of this elegant brick home features double palladian windows. Visitors will be invited to tour both the manor which is the residence of Bruce and Suzanne Schmidt, and the adjacent former slave quarters which is now home to their daughter, Wendolyn Schmidt.

The stately Pearre-Metcalfe home is listed on the National Historic Register. The Greek Revival style brick home features different styles of woodwork in each of the ten rooms. The date, 1859, which is painted on the rafters in the attic, is considered to be its date of construction.

According to the owner, friends of the Pearre family once danced in what is now used as a downstairs bedroom, around 1920. The wardrobe at the head of the open staircase was constructed from wood harvested from the family's homestead nearby. A unique feature in the house is the extra large bathroom which is located in what was formerly used as a standard size bedroom. The lovely home is furnished with antiques suitable to the period, many of which have been in the family. The house is located in a rural setting, surrounded by a lush field of soybeans, at 9084 Albaugh Road.

Tickets ($10) for the New Windsor Heritage Committee's Tour of Homes will be available only on the first stop of the tour- St. Paul's United Methodist Church, celebrating its sesquicentennial year. Located at the corner of Main and High Streets, the original building was built in 1843. In 1896, a new building was erected and furnished at a cost of $7,000.

Tour participants may plan to make a day of it in New Windsor by starting with a bountiful breakfast at the New Windsor Fire Hall. On Sunday, October 3, beginning at 7 a.m., the Firemen's breakfasts will resume - this being the first since May.

After a hardy pancake and sausage breakfast, visitors may attend one of the area churches, just steps away from the Fire Hall. The Brethren Service Center will also welcome visitors on tour during the day. The tour begins at 12:30, and will run until 5 p.m. For more information about the New Windsor Heritage Committee's Tour of Homes, call (410) 875-2054.

The New Windsor Heritage Committee is committed to the preservation and perpetuation of the history of New Windsor and the surrounding community. The New Windsor Homes Tour is held on the first Sunday in October, every-other year. The organization also sponsors educational programs through the Carroll County Public Schools Extended Enrichment Program for children. Meetings are held on the first Monday of each month. Prospective members are welcome to attend.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

We're about to embark on our two-week train trip across Canada. So I decided to reminisce and got out my 1946 diary as it noted my two-week trip across the United States by train in December of that year.

Our group had our own private train consisting of two engines, a sleeping and sitting car, a dining car and an observation car. We traveled by night and during the day stopped to see various cities such as Denver, Colorado with the beautiful Rocky Mountains. And, while in Salt Lake City, we heard a concert in the Mormon Tabernacle.

The train stopped three times one day so that we could see the Feather River Gorge and other natural wonders. We traveled by ferry to San Francisco. Here we saw the giant Redwoods, Chinatown, and we used the cable cars too.

My girlfriend and I got a roomette on a different train and traveled alone along the Pacific coast to visit her aunt near Los Angeles, California. We picked oranges and lemons in her backyard and she took us to see a big Farmer's Market, Mt. Wilson Observatory and also homes of stars in Hollywood, and other points of interest.

We met our original group of farmers from Ohio and saw the magnificent Grand Canyon. There were cotton fields in New Mexico as we neared Carlsbad Caverns. Here we had lunch in the Big Room, deep in the earth, which is one-half a mile long and 300 feet high.

That trip had the departure time changed at the last minute the same as our present one. And, both trips required us to arise at 5 a.m. to meet the schedule. Hopefully, the next few articles will describe our September 1993 trip as Allen and I travel with 30 other folks from New York, Pa., Calif., New Jersey, Florida and Massachusetts.

Farm Women Societies

Lancaster Society 18

Edna Buckwalter was hostess to Lancaster Farm Women No. 18 on Saturday, September 18, at Kreider's Restaurant with 20 people attending. Devotions were in charge of Ella Mae Hershey. Roll call was answered by telling the last time you had homemade ice cream.

Debra Kreider gave an interesting and information talk on "The Ice Cream Story." Pennsylvania was the second highest producer of ice cream last year. A quiz was given to the members about some statistic in ice cream production. ??? Wanner was the winner, receiving one half gallon of ice cream.

The nominating committee gave the slate of officers for the next two years, president, Ruth Landis; vice president, Roberta Shipardson; secretary, Martha Stoner; corresponding secretary, Mary Lou Shelton; and treasurer, Mildred Greider.

This society with No. 17 helped with bingo at Conestoga View and took prizes.

There is a bus trip scheduled for October 12, to Fort Hunter, where members will tour a mansion and take a boat ride in the Susquehanna River.

Society No. 35 will entertain Society 18 on October 9 at a luncheon at the Farm and Home Center.

Berks Society 1

The September meeting of Berks County Farm Women Group 1 was held at the home of Naomi Howard, Oley. The group enjoyed a sing-along and fellowship after the business meeting at which President Ruth Walters presided. Eleven members were present.

Plans were finalized for those members who are planning to attend the Berks County Farm Women Convention to be held at the Berks County Agricultural Center, Leesport, on October 2.

The group will celebrate Farm Women Day along with their regular October monthly meeting on October 13 with dinner at the Yellow House Hotel, Douglassville, at 6:00 p.m.

Lancaster Society 14

On July 14, Lancaster Society 14 entertained the ladies from Society No. 20 at the Farm and Home Center. As members were in the basement at the Center, they hardly realized a storm was brewing. Just as the program started the lights went out. Members improvised lighting with a flashlight as Janet Bigler had an interesting display of bottles. She had bottles from various parts of the world. As she told about each one Polly would flash the light on it. Some were very old and all wer pretty. Hostesses were Helen Herr, Clara Rohrer, Viola Hostetter and Helen Breneman.

Members held our yearly picnic at the Strasburg Pavilion on August 12. Husbands and families were also present. Hostesses were Edna Groff, Elva Rowe, Miriam Groff and Elma Barge, who arranged the food and served coffee and cold drinks. Martin Franke, curator at the Hans Herr House, told of life in colonial Pennsylvania. He and his wife Christine were dressed in colonial attire and showed some articles used by the early settlers. The lecture was very interesting and the old articles brought back many memories.

Members met at the home of Caroline Stoltzfus on September 8. The hostesses, Janet Leaman, Ruth Longenecker, and Jean Thomas, served delicious refreshments. For the roll call we each told what we brought for the auction. The auctioneer was Jean Thomas.

Lebanon Society 20

Lebanon Society 20 met on Sept. 13 at the home of Barb Harding for a fun night.

The group voted to give a donation of $200 in Yvonne Ziegler's name.

Members were reminded to bring a baby item to the County Convention at Kenbrook Bible Camp on Oct. 13.

Members voted to go to Channel 8 Live one day.

1994 Committees were selected.

Members played "Guesstures" for "fun night."

Next month's meeting will be a breakfast to celebrate Farm Women's Day.

Lancaster Society 24

Lancaster Farm Women #24 met recently at Brethren Village in the Fieldcrest Dining Hall, when Dorothy Witmer served as hostess to the group.

A book review was given by Charlene Richardson of New Holland. Reports were given on the recent Rummage Sale and plans for the bus trip on Oct. 4, to Franklin Mills shopping were finalized. This month meeting will be a visit to Welsh Mountain Samaritan Home to entertain guests there, followed by dessert and meeting at Yoder's Restaurant, New Holland.

Waxworks Class

HERSHEY (Dauphin Co.) — Children ages 6-9 can experience a bit of history by participating in a class in which they can discover how people lit their homes prior to the 1860's. By the time the class is over participants will have hand-dipped four, fat, ready-to-use beeswax candles to take home. Class size is limited and the registration deadline is October 22. The fee for the class is $6 members, $9 non-museum members. For information call (717) 534-3439.

THE NEW MF 1200 SERIES TRACTORS

DO MORE WORK WITH LESS WORK

This new generation of compact tractors takes comfort and ease of operation to new heights.

You'll notice it before you even step on. The operator's deck is wide, open and spacious. And all the controls and gauges are located in just the right places.

The heavy-duty diesel engines are smooth and quiet running. Get infinite hydrostatic speeds on select models. Or a fully synchronized shuttle for single-lever forward and reverse in all 16 speeds.

Best of all, you won't give up any versatility or productivity for all this comfort. Rear and mid PTO, 4WD and full hydraulics are available on all models. These new MF 1200 Series Compact Tractors have the features, implements and attachments that have made Massey Ferguson tractors the world's best selling brand.

Stop in today for complete details and a test drive.

Museum Water Color Class

HERSHEY (Dauphin Co.) — Artist Robert Nisley will teach a six-session watercolor class at the Hershey Museum on Thursdays, October 14 through November 18 from 10 a.m. to 12 Noon. The class is designed for students of all levels and abilities and covers all aspects of the planning and execution of a painting. Students will learn the techniques for the medium in a relaxed setting. The fee for all sessions is $30. For registration information, please call (717) 534-3439.

Mr. Nisley is a charter member of the Pennsylvania Watercolor Society, the Harrisburg Art Association and has won awards in the WITF Channel 33 Art Show and Auction. He was commissioned by the Hummelstown Arts Festival Committee to design the limited edition poster for the 1993 festival.

Where Are Your Photographs?

WEST CHESTER (Chester Co.) — Are your family photos in envelopes, shoeboxes, drawers, or even worse, magnetic albums? Are you overwhelmed by the task of organizing boxes full of photos and memorabilia? Just who are those folks in your family album? Would you like professional help with creating a photo-safe family scrapbook that will provide years of enjoyment for generations to come?

Join Karen Darby Zalewski, owner of "Creative Memories," for Preserving and Displaying Your Family Photo History, on Wednesdays, October 13, 10 and 27 from 1:00-3:00 p.m. at Penn State Cooperative Extension, Government Services Center, Suite 370, 601 Westtown Road, West Chester.

Learn to organize and display your photos safely and creatively. Topics include the dangers of improper photo storage, organization and storage of both photos and negatives, and tips for creative layouts and enhancements.

The $30 registration fee is due by the deadline for registration of October 4, 1993. Contact the Chester County Cooperative Extension at (215) 696-3500 for registration information.

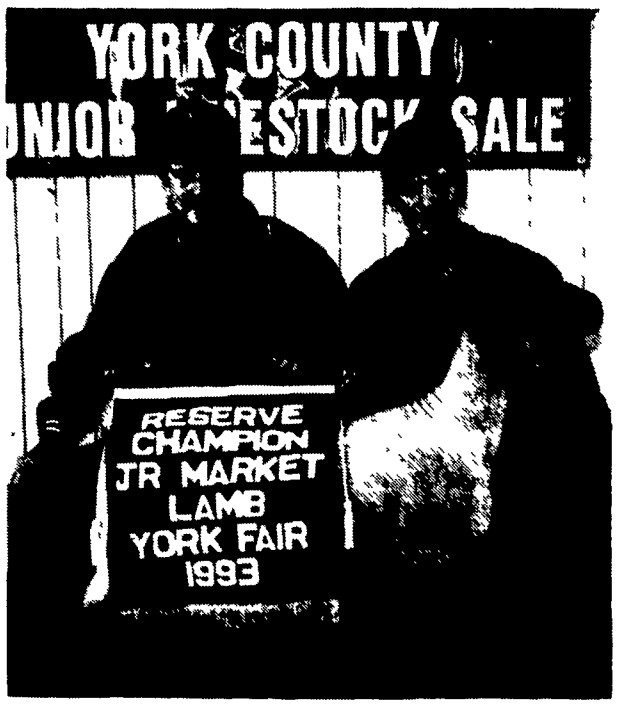
Champion Sale For Yo L

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

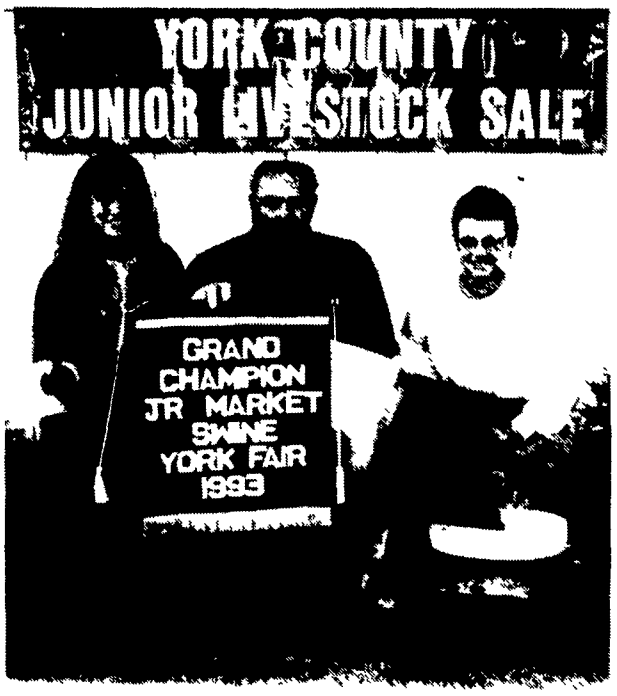
YORK (York Co.) — The first-ever York Fair Junior Livestock Sale of Champions turned into a champion of a sale.

Instituted by junior show supporters in conjunction with the county FFA and 4-H programs, the junior livestock sale that wrapped up the nine-day competition for beef, sheep, and swine showcased the top winners and swelled youth exhibitors' college and breeding stock funds with generous community support.

Not only did buyers dig deep to make their bids, several then donated their purchases back for resale to support the county's state-winning 4-H livestock judging team. The team of Jason Rankin, Jason Stein, Matt Sellers, and Jennifer Altobelli will compete at the national level in Kansas City in October.



Iv Thomas came to the York Fair with Richard Thomas' Little Richard's restaurant concessions and stayed to place the $6.75-pound winning bid on Matt Seller's 105-pound reserve champion lamb.



Winning bid on Nichole Eisenhart's 231-pound champion market hog was $5 per pound. Champion buyers were Sam and Pat Adams for their Country House Restaurant.

Setting an enthusiastic tone among the several hundred bidders and spectators gathered for the livestock arena auction was the first offering, a cake baked and decorated by 4-H parent and cooperative extension employee Lois Rankin.

The marble sheet cake sold four times, bringing a $300 final bid on each round. Each of the first three buyers - Arthur Glatfelter Agri-Business Insurance, Dr. C. Gerry Stinson, and Friends of the Adams County 4-H Beef Club - in turn donated the cake back for another round of bidding. Final bidder, Bill Campbell, head of the Hoss' Steak and Sea House restaurant chain, bid another $300 to bring the total raised with the cake sale to $1,200.

Campbell then donated the cake back one more time for the juniors to eat and enjoy.

Highest single sale of the day was for the grand champion steer, the 1,245-pound "Hooch" exhibited by Airville junior Shawn Waltimyer. Bill Campbell got into the bidding early for Hoss' restaurants and stayed with auctioneer Harry Bachman to the crack of the gavel, giving $4.50 per pound for the crossbred champ.

When Campbell donated "Hooch" back for a second bidding round, to benefit the livestock team, Art Glatfelter's Insurance firm got into the action, holding out for a final second bid on the champion of 90-cents per pound.

Jennifer Altobelli's reserve champion steer was the second animal through the sale rin and commanded another round of heated bidding. Again, Art Glatfelter Insurance was the successful bidder, on a final $1.50 per pound for the 1,152-pound steer.

High per-pound price in the sale was on the champion lamb exhibited by Jennifer Flinchbaugh. Former York County junior livestock exhibitor Dr. Barry Flinchbaugh, now of Manhattan, Kan., was the winning bidder at $7.75 per pound for the 96-pound lamb.

Flinchbaugh donated the lamb back to benefit the 4-H'ers. In the second round of bidding, the final price went to $3.25 per pound by buyer Dr. Wayne Harrick for York Orthopedic Associates.

Matt Sellers' 105-pound reserve champion lamb sold on a final bid of $6.75 per pound to York Fair concessionaire Richard Thomas, proprietor of Little Richard's restaurants. The Pennsburg restauranteur also donated back the purchase.

On its second trip through the ring, the reserve lamb was sold for $1.75 per pound to Art Glatfelter's Agri-Business Insurance.

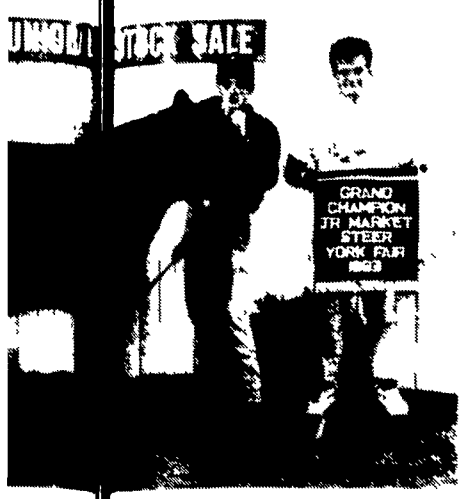
Livestock Champions

Champion market hog, a 231-pound crossbred exhibited by Nicole Eisenhart, brought a round of spirited bidding that ended when the gavel went down at $5. Buyers were Sam and Pat Adams, proprietors of the Country House Restaurant in Glen Rock and longtime operators of a York Fair restaurant stand.

Bobbi Myer's reserve champion market hog brought a matching top bid of $5 per pound. Winning bidder on the 232-pound pig was McClarin Plastics, Inc., Hanover.

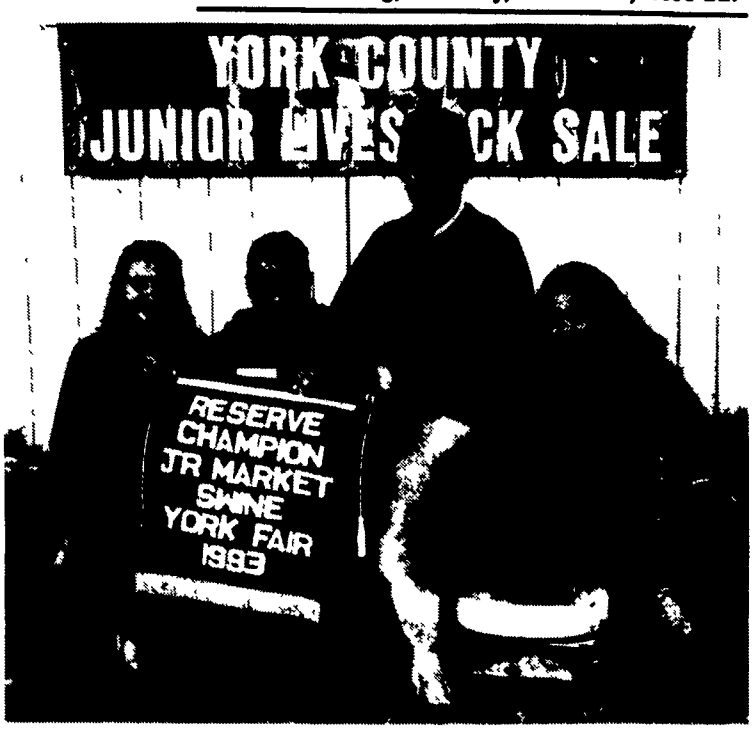
In addition to the six top livestock champions and reserves, 98 market hogs, 86 lambs, and 21 steers were sold through the junior sale.

Average on the market hog sale was $1.01 with the champions and 93 cents without the champions. Lambs averaged $1.42 with the champions and $1.28 without the champions. Average price for the market steers was $1.09 with the champion and 90 cents without the champions.



Waltimy[illegible] 1245-pound grand champ- r market[illegible]er, brought a $4.50 final bid of Hoss[illegible]eak and Sea House. Repre- al resta[illegible]t chain is Rob Billet.

A $1.50-per-pound bid took the reserve champion junior market steer, exhibited by Jennifer Altobelli, for Art Glatfelter's Agri-Business Insurance. Representing Glatfelter's is Tony Dobrosky.



McClarin Plastics, Inc., made the final, $5-per-pound bid on the 232-pound reserve champion hog, exhibited by Bobbi Myers.

Four buyers bought for $300 each — then donated back for resale — a 4-H cake auctioned during the York Fair's junior livestock sale. The total $1,200 goes toward fundraising efforts to send the state-winning York 4-H Livestock Judging Team to national competition in Kansas City. Buyers, standing, from left include Bill Campbell, Hoss's Steak and Sea House restaurants; Joan Grim, representing Friends of the Adams County 4-H Club; and Tony Dobrosky, for Glatfelter's Agri-Business Insurance. Team members, from left, are Jason Stein, Jason Rankin, and Matt Sellers.

DON'T THROW THAT BIRD AWAY!

R.M. Hulet
Associate Professor
Poultry Science

In the era of environmental responsibility, new nutrient management methods, and an emphasis on cost efficiency, a new method of dead bird disposal has gained popularity.

Traditional approved methods of disposal of normal martality are burial pits, incineration, and rendering. Having varying degrees of success and associated cost, the dead bird disposal practices of burial and burning have been recently discouraged because of potential environmental damages. Burial pits can potentially contaminate ground water. Incinerators are expensive and contribute to air pollution.

Rendering, while an approved method of recycling nutrients, requires refrigeration to maintain the value of the carcass. Hauling is expensive and the collection sites can be hard to keep biosecure, since dead birds are brought to one place from many different farms. Composting, on the other hand, is a method that has been shown to be of low cost and a method of recycling nutrients while avoiding the biosecurity problem.

Recent work by Murphy and coworkers at the University of Maryland and field experiments in Alabama has shown thaqt the method people have used to dispose of garden and lawn waste can be an effective and safe method of disposing of dead poultry. The requirements for composting dead poultry are similar to that for garden mixtures: a Carbon (C); Nitrogen (N) ratio of 23:1 with a 55 percent moisture content is optimal, although a fairly wide range of C:N ratios and moisture level is acceptable for normal operation.

The size of a composter is determined by the average daily amount of mortality for the farm or flock. The formula below can help determine the size of composter that is needed:

Size (cubic feet of first tage) = Farm capacity (#) X Bird market weight (lb) X .0025.

For example, a 100,000-head broiler flock with a final weight of 4.5 pound would warrant a 1,125 cubic foot first stage compost bin (six bins, 8 feet wide, 6 feet deep, and 4 feet high). A secondary bin of the same volume as the first stage would be needed for an operational composter.

A simple mixture of straw, hay, or peanut hulls to supply the carbon source, dead chickens, and litter for the nitrogen source, mixed with water and oxygen, will produce a viable compost. Field studies have shown that a properly maintained composter will not emit odors nor be a site of insect infestation. When properly capped and allowed to heat, the resultant compost is a dark, odorless, disease-free fertilizer, ready to be spread on plants. Many tests have been performed and shown that the temperatures that occur (140°-160° F) for around two weeks are sufficient ot kill bacteria or virus agents harmful to poultry.

In daily operation, the composter is started by placing 12 inches of litter on the bottom of the primary bin. The compost is then constructed by adding a layere of straw, a layer of dead chickens, water, layer of litter, and than another layer of straw. This is continued to the top of the compost bin. The final cover will be two layers of litter to "cap" the bin. As the compost looses volume, additional litter can be added to cover the gin.

The bin is monitored with a 36-inch probel thermometer. When the temperature has peaked (140°-160° F), in the primary bin, the compost material is moved to the secondary bin for aeration and re-heating. This whole process takes around two weeks after the bin is capped. The re-heating process can continue as many times as the operator desires, but after two heatings, most of the bird carcass is indistinguishable and ready for plant application as fertilizer. Labor for maintaining a composter for a 100,000-bird house takes only 20 minutes a day.

Building requirements for a composter are a roof to ensure year-round operation without interference from rain or show, a foundation that is impervious to moisture, weight-bearing surface around the composter (concrete if possible) to allow all-weather opewration and to protect against rodents, insects, dogs, etc.; and pressure-treated or other rot-resistant framing material that will resist temperature and microbial activity of compost. The cost of constructing a composter with a concrete pad will range from $3,000 to $5,000, depending on the design and materials used. The annual cost for materials and labor is estimated at $.004 per pound of carcass composted. Compostors have been used for broilers, layers, turkeys, and even hogs. With poultry, only keels and some long bones are visible after composting. Even though the larger bones are able to bel seen, they have gone through a heat and are soft and friable and will readily mix in as a soil constituent.

Remember the formula of 1 part chickens, 2 to 3 parts litter, 1/10 part straw, and enough water to make about 30 to 50 percent moisture (normal litter moisture is around 25-40 percent). This means for 400 pound of dead poultry, one would need 800 pound of litter, 40 pound of straw, and 50 gallons of water (applied evenly to each layer). Composting is simple, effective, and recycles the nutrients that formerly have been thrown away or disposed of as waste.

If you have a flock of poultry, what are your costs in disposing of flock mortality? If it is greater than .4 cents per pound, you need to consider composting. Don't just throw away your dead birds, but recycle them through a safe, effective method of composting.

Ask your local extension agent for approved plans for composters and information on federal cost-sharing programs for this environmentally safe dead bird-disposal practice.

What Drought-Hit Farmers Can Do

The Southeast, including most of Georgia, South Carolina and parts of North Carolina and other states, was hit hard by drought while Midwest farmers were flooded out of home and farm during 1993. The total impact of the drought has not been assessed because harvest is not completed. Georgia Extension specialists note that the drought will reduce 1993 yield potential and can also delay or affect harvest. For example, some peanut farmers are having difficulty harvesting the drought-damaged crop.

What can drought-hit farmers do to plan for 1994? Look back to 1980, 1986 and 1988... other severe drought years... and see what was recommended then. Here are some things to look for:

1. Yields of drought-damaged crops grown under conditions of good soil fertility will be higher than those where fertility was poor.

2. Crop response to fertilization is good in times of stress, may be greater than when growing conditions are optimum. A good fertilization program insures best utilization of the moisture that is available.

3. Nutrient carryover due to the drought will not be as great as many farmers might estimate. If drought-damaged crops are harvested as hay or silage, nutrient removal will be greater than for grain crops.

4. Soil compaction will increase drought damage. Look at fields and find where soil compaction has increased drought damage, plan to correct this problem for the 1994 crop.

5. The best way to determine fertilizer needs for the 1994 crop is the use of the best management practice... soil testing.

The deep sandy soils of the Coastal Plain will not hold nitrogen or high test levels of potassium, so soil testing is the answer to making sure the right fertilizers are used on the 1994 crop. This will be important if the winter is wet, with heavy rains to leach the nitrogen and potassium. Phosphorus will not leach, so the soil test will assay phosphorus needs for 1994.

Fall is the best time for sampling for soil tests. Fall sampling allows a better job of collecting samples at a uniform depth. Soil testing laboratories are usually not as busy, so turn-around time is short. That means farmers can begin planning needs and purchases for 1994 crops. Farmer fertilizer dollars may be short in 1994, so soil testing will tell what is needed to make the best crop for the money. The mistake to avoid is to do nothing and put out too little or more fertilizer than is needed with a tight financial situation. Fertilizer is a good investment, returning three or four dollars or more for each dollar invested. Don't be short on this important input in 1994.

Seminar Addresses Sheep Production

TRAPPE, Md. — Marketing and production strategies for sheep and lamb will be the topics of the seminar, Sheep Production For the '90s, on October 30 at the Sudlersville Fire Hall.

This program is sponsored by Delmarva Shepherds Association, Wool and Sheep Breeders of New Jersey, Delaware Sheep Breeders Association, and Maryland Sheep Breeders Association.

Invited speakers will discuss unique and proven strategies for minimizing management input while maximizing output from your sheep operation. This day-long program, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., will give producers a chance to hear what top researchers and producers are doing to bring sheep production into the 1990s.

Speakers include:

• David Greene, Harford County producer, who will share his experiences with feeding cover crops such as turnips and rape, and in ways to cut cost and increase production efficiency.

• Jim Russell, former cooperative extension marketing specialist, will discuss group marketing potential on Delmarva.

• Eric Fogg of Rehoboth, Del. runs a livestock mineral service. He will outline the importance of feeding a balanced ration and ways to calculate and obtain those rations.

• Brian Magee, who is the shepherd for Cornell University, will speak on his experiences on managing a highly productive flock. With a new video, Brian will speak on stream lining management, and pasture and lamb management in year-round production.

There will be time for questions and answers after each session. In addition, there will be a social time at the very end of the program. This will allow producers an opportunity to pursue specific issues of interest.

Commercial exhibitors will be at the program displaying products for sale.

Registration deadline is October 15, at a cost of $12 per person, which includes lunch. After October 15, registration will be $17, with a limited number of lunches available. Checks must be payable to Delmarva Shepherds Association and sent to Connie DeLamater, 3835 Koogler Road, Trappe, MD 21673.

For more information, call DeLamater at (410) 476-3821.

Ephrata Posts Fair Sale Results

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — This year's Ephrata Fair livestock sale featured 73 hogs and six lambs in the auction block late last week.

The 262-pound champion market hog, exhibited by Sarah Boyd, sold for $3.10 per pound to Ephrata National Bank.

Justin Good of Lititz sold his 260-pound reserve grand champion market hog to Hatfield Quality Meats for $2.20 per pound.

In the carcass lamb sale, Keith Bollinger sold his 102-pound grand champion lamb to Dr. Walter Trumbauer for $3 per pound. Kendall Reiff sold his 105-pound reserve grand champion lamb to Keystone Farm Credit for $3.05 per pound.

In other sales, Sarah Boyd sold her 238-pound lightweight champion hog to Martin Paving for 90 cents per pound. Her brother Gerald sold four champion hogs at the sale, including his 248-pound medium weight champion for 76 cents per pound to Hatfield, his 250-pound medium weight reserve champion for 67 cents per pound to New Holland Sales Stables, his 256-pound light heavyweight reserve champion for 67 cents per pound to Hatfield, and his 270-pound reserve heavyweight champion for 65 cents per pound to Hatfield.

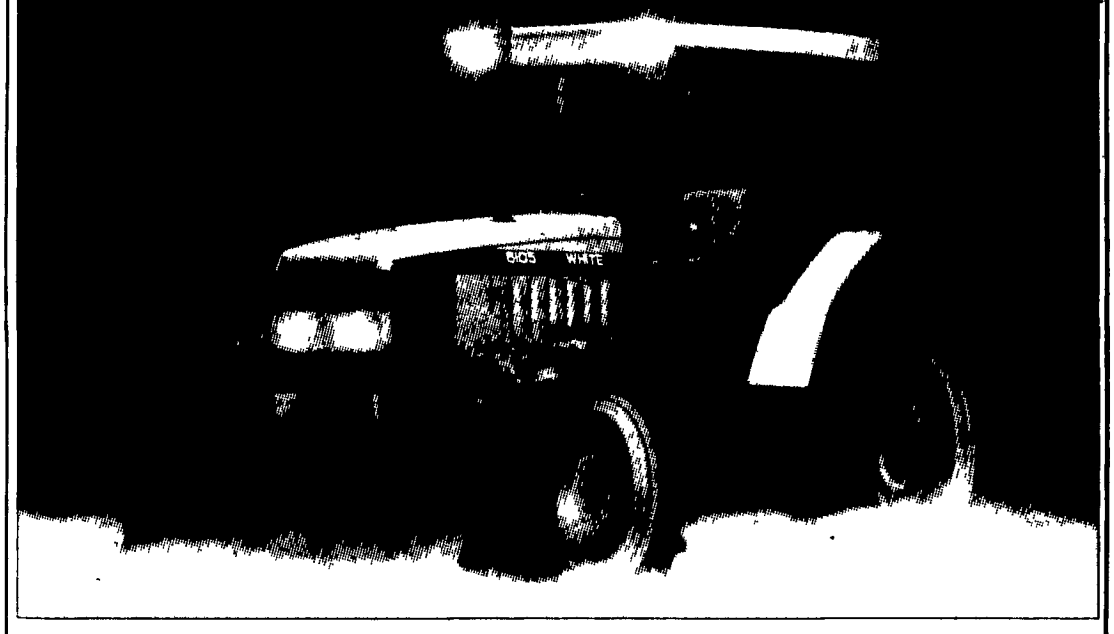
A CHANGE IN DIRECTION FOR FARM TRACTORS.



Introducing The New White 6105.
Change Direction In Any Gear On The Roll.

When your work has you coming and going, the synchronized reverser transmission lets you change direction in any gear, any speed, on the roll. This 106 PTO hp tractor has even more:

- Electronic governor helps maintain constant ground speed and improves fuel efficiency.
- High torque rise liquid-cooled diesel engine.
- True center line power front axle for tight 50-degree turns.
- Hydraulic actuated clutch adjusts automatically to reduce maintenance.
- Deluxe high-tech cab with state-of-the-art electro-hydraulic controls.
- Strong AGCO warranty, 100% parts and labor for 2 years/2000 hours with no deductibles (see your dealer for details).

If you're looking for state-of-the-art, ask your White dealer about the new 6105. And ask him about flexible AGCO financing plans.

Mower's Cutterbar Improves Performance

VERNON, N.Y. — A new line of multidisc mowers, featuring a completely redesigned cutterbar for improved overall performance, a more uniform cut, and easier maintenance, is available from Kuhn Farm Machinery, Inc.

Kuhn's GMD "100 Series" culminates more than 25 years of disc mower research and development. Kuhn was one of the first to offer disc mower technology, revolutionizing the way grass was cut. Now, because of available computer technology, Kuhn is able to offer even greater refinements and improvements to match higher horse power tractors operating at faster speeds over larger acreage.

At the heart of the new GMD "100 Series" is a newly engineered cutterbar. Rigid and low profile, its design eliminates all sharp angles where soil or crop residue could accumulate. Cut grass flows freely over the cutterbar, even in dense crops. Discs are optimally positioned so that the knife overlap cuts clean under all conditions.

At the heart of the new GMD "100 Series" is a newly engineered cutterbar. Rigid and low profile, its design eliminates all sharp angles where soil or crop residue could accumulate.

Kuhn also made its GMD "100 Series" more durable and easier to maintain. Discs, disc guards, and skids are made of surface hardened steel for maximum wear resistance.

The gear drive on the "100 Series" was also made sturdier for more reliable performance and longer service life. Pinions are now made of case hardened steel. Disc pinion shafts are mounted on reinforced double row angular contact ball bearings located in a sealed bearing housing. The gear train is protected from rocks and other obstacles.

Axial-Flow® combine technology provides a gentler, more efficient harvest. Shown here with a grain header is the new Case International 1688 axial-flow combine, which delivers 260 net engine horsepower at 2,200 rpm.

Case Markets Next Generation Of Combines

RACINE, Wis. — The latest Case International Axial-Flow® combines deliver significantly higher horsepower than their predecessors. Models 1644, 1666, and 1688 also incorporate technology that provides higher air quality to the cleaning system. Many other changes have been made for enhanced performance and reliability.

The Axial-Flow design introduced in 1977 remains a Case exclusive, providing a gentler, more efficient harvest for better quality grain and more of it, according to Gerry Salzman, Case product manager-combines.

"During the last few years, we've continued to make numerous upgrades in our Case IH combine line, taking an excellent product and making it even better," he said.

Advances in engineering have made it possible for Case to increase horsepower while actually reducing engine rpm on the two larger models. The 1644 is rated at 180 PTO horsepower at 2,500 rpm, and the 1666 and 1688 deliver 215 and 260 horsepower, respectively at 2,200 rpm. These ratings are 20 to 25 horsepower higher than previous models.

"Keeping engine rpm down with these higher horsepowers means longer engine life, and that's a quality that's important to our customers," said Salzman.

In fact, Case has made several modifications to accommodate the increase in horsepower, including enlarging the air cleaner, hydraulic oil cooler, and radiator as necessary on respective units to handle increased demands on air flow and engines and hydraulic cooling systems.

Salzman indicated that another key combine feature is the cleaning system. "We've applied a longer chaffer and shoe sieves to all three units," he said. This increases the cleaning area by more than 20 percent, which reduces sensitivity to crop variations.

"For the customer, that means better utilization of the threshing and separating capacity of the Axial-Flow rotary system," he said.

"But what really puts the extra capacity to work for the customer is the Cross Flow fan our engineers developed. It distributes air evenly over the entire sieve area," he said. "This is patented technology offered only on Axial-Flow combines. It alleviates high-velocity air pockets that can blow grain out the back of the combine."

According to Salzman, the chevron pattern and cupped blade design of the Cross Flow fan generate more air volume at a fraction of the previous fan's horsepower requirements, and noise from the fan is minimal.

"Our customers have been especially impressed with the fact that the cleaning system hardly requires any adjustments," said Salzman. According to Salzman, some customers actually said they didn't need to adjust the sieves for an entire crop season.

Another important change Salzman noted is that the feeder reverser drive chain features a high-temperature "O"-ring design. "While we still recommend daily lubrication, the chain is effectively sealed from dust and dirt. We've found the design extends chain life by 200 percent or more," he said.

Bolt-on feeder chain slats are standard equipment because they can be replaced much faster than riveted slats. The stalk roll bearing on corn heads has been replaced by a sealed water pump bearing to increase life and eliminate daily servicing.

A split drive on grain headers provides better balance and longer life for drive components.

"These and other changes help our customers get their work done faster and better," said Salzman, "and that's what this latest generation of Case International combines is all about."

FeedCar Compact Increases Profitability For Stanchions

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Designed for the stanchion operation with minimal clearance between stalls, ceiling and walls, the FeedCar Compact™ from Alfa Laval Agri delivers all the advantages of automated feeding.

The FeedCar Compact dramatically reduces the backbreaking labor associated with feeding in an old or small stanchion barn or tie-stall operation. Considering that 40 to 50 percent of the total cost of producing milk is directly attributable to feeding costs, an exact and controlled feeding has substantial impact on total profitability.

The FeedCar Compact automated feeding system dispenses the correct grain ration for each cow up to nine times a day. It allows the user to match the cow's intake to her stage of lactation to optimize production over the course of her lactation. Every one pound increase of milk at peak yield can represent up to 200 pounds of increased production over the course of her lactation.

Ultimately, this type of exact, controlled feeding results in a healthier herd that converts more milk from each pound of feed. With the FeedCar Compact, it's actually possible to produce more milk with less feed.

The FeedCar Compact shares the same micro-processor as its larger counterparts, the Stanchion-Master® and the FeedCar II, which enables dairymen to control feed consumption by cow or by herd. The FeedCar Compact offers an easy-to-use and well-proven computer design. Its durable, all stainless steel construction ensures long life and low maintenance.

Ideally suited for operations with 30 to 60 cows, the FeedCar Compact is available exclusively through Alfa Laval Agri's network of more than 300 independent Alfa Laval Agri dealers.

Council Honors Journal

DeFOREST, Wis. — The ABS Beef Breeders Journal, the official, semi-annual beef publication published by American Breeders Service (ABS), co-written and produced by Cimarron Communications of Fort Collins, Colo., recently won top honors by the Livestock Communications Council.

This recognition was given at the Livestock Publication Council's (LPC) 16th Annual Convention, held in Kansas City, Mo.

The prestigious top award, known as the James P. Flanagan Award, is presented to the most improved publication of the year. LPC members submit issues from the past three years and are judged by a panel of experts, critiquing for steady improvement in the areas of editorial direction, theme, consistency, and overall design and appeal. Magazines from all livestock industries compete for this coveted award.

The Livestock Publications Council is a non-profit, international association serving the livestock publishing industry with 158 members.

Dealership Receives President's Award

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — Lancaster Ford, Lancaster has received the prestigious Ford New Holland President's Award, an annual honor bestowed only on about 10 percent of the nearly 1,655 Ford New Holland farm equipment dealerships in the U.S. and Canada.

The award, given by Ford New Holland, is based on results of in-depth surveys of dealership customers conducted in 1992 by Ford New Holland. Accepting the award was Larry Groff, president of Lancaster Ford.

Lancaster Ford employees understand what it takes to be a leader in a highly competitive business," said W.T. Kennedy, chief operating officer. "They have built their business on customer service, and they are always on the alert for ways to surpass their own track record of excellence."

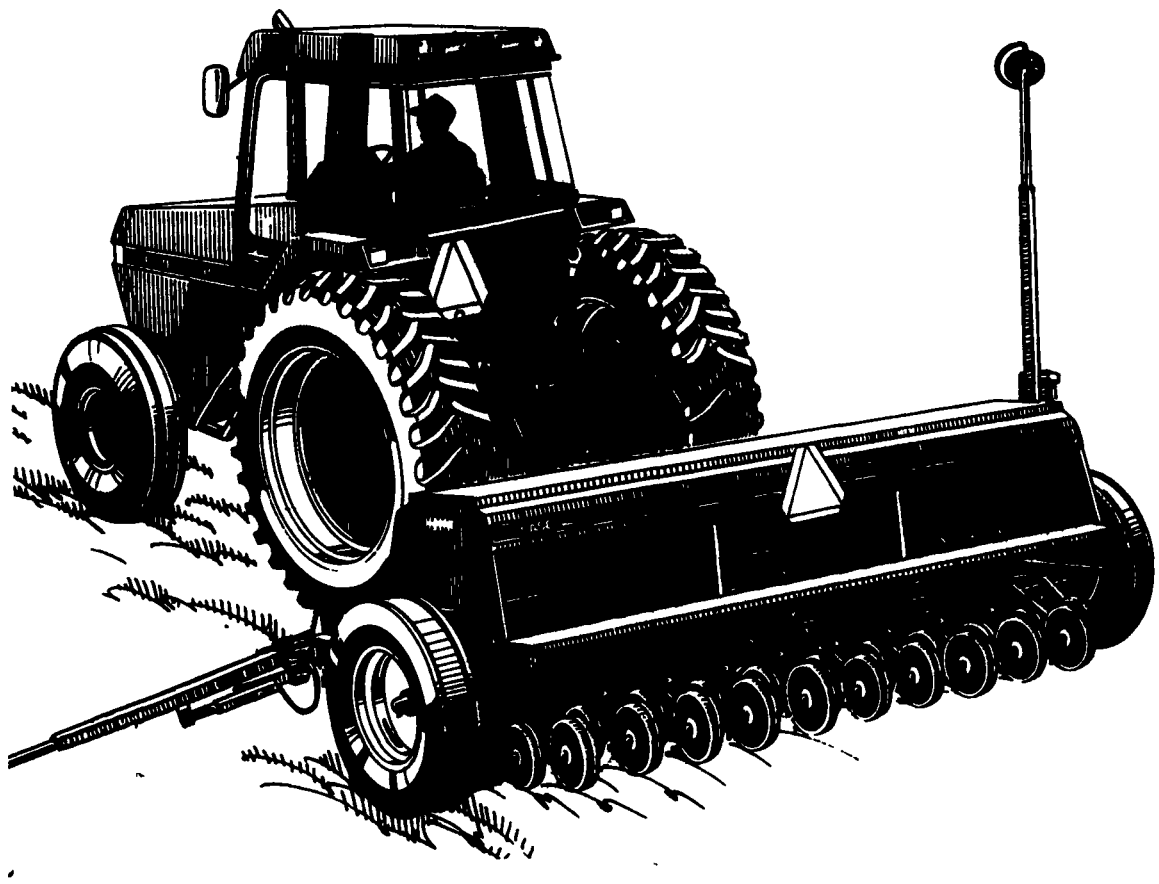
Get Even Stands



There's nothing more important to a crop than early, even emergence. To get it, you need accurate, even seeding, and a Case International 5300 End-Wheel Drill.

The 5300 has earned a reputation for its seeding precision, a function of its exclusive feed cup design and dependable disk openers. And, to improve placement of seed, the opener drawbars are heavier than on previous models. Press wheel and opener bearings are heavier for long life operation.

Along with accuracy, the 5300 gives you fast, high capacity seeding, so you spend less time refilling hoppers.

Stop in and see the 5300 End-Wheel Drill today.

Begin Nutrient Management Plans For 1994

NORCROSS, Ga. — Remember 1992? In most areas it was a banner year for crop production. The U.S. average corn yield was a record — more than 131 bushels per acre. That corn crop — and other high-yielding crops — removed millions of tons of phosphorus, potassium, and other nutrients from our soils.

Then came the spring of 1993, with its wet weather and late planting. For many farmers there wasn't time to replace the nutrients removed by the 1992 crop. Your soil may be carrying an extra burden this year trying to produce a profitable crop without the full supply of nutrients needed to do the job. Other farmers suffered flooded conditions for the first time in many years, while still others suffered severe drought. We can't predict these problems, but managing for a good year is the best way to cope with them.

What's ahead for 1994? You still need to consider the 1992 nutrient removal and plan to make up for any fertilizer that couldn't be applied this spring. Factor in the 1993 crop. If yields are high again this year, removal rates will also be high. Where wet conditions resulted in shallow root systems, nutrient removal from the topsoil will be especially high. This fall is an ideal time to begin rebuilding soil nutrient supplies for the 1994 crop.

Start with soil tests. Study field histories for soil test results, fertilizer applications, and yield records. Do you see any trends? Compare fertilizer applications with nutrient removal in the harvested crop. Are you maintaining soil test levels? If you don't have the records to review, start this fall with a good set of soil tests and complete yield records for each field. You can't plan a sound nutrient management strategy without these records. Soil tests and cropping histories are the basis of the plan.

Look at past yields and set a realistic yield goal for 1994. Plan for optimum growing conditions and commit the resources to support the yield goal. If weather stress occurs, you can be assured that the optimum management system will help maintain yield potential. Where fertilizer applications have dropped behind crop removal rates, plan a buildup application in addition to the maintenance requirement for your yield goal. Arrange for fall application of phosphorus and potassium fertilizers to avoid delays next spring, and be sure the 1994 crop is not shortchanged on nutrients.

Adequate phosphorus and potassium soil test levels help improve nitrogen use efficiency and increase total biomass production per acre, leaving more plant material to help reduce soil erosion and increase water use efficiency for next year's crop.

Soil tests — crop histories — yield goals for the basis of a nutrient management plan that is agronomically sound, economically profitable, and environmentally responsible. Start rebuilding soil nutrient levels this fall. Plan for a good year in 1994.

Crawford County 4-H'ers Place High At District Dairy Show

MEADVILLE (Crawford Co.) — The 46th annual Northwest Pennsylvania 4-H District Dairy Show took place on Saturday, September 4, at the Crawford County Fairgrounds in Meadville.

A total of 423 animals were catalogued from the 10-county area, including Butler, Clarion, Crawford, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, Venango and Warren.

All of these animals were blue-ribbon winners in their respective counties. Blue ribbon winners at this show competed at the 37th Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show held in Harrisburg.

Crawford County had a total of 119 animals eligible to compete in the Northwest District Dairy Show and 75 received blue ribbons and are eligible to compete on the state level.

County 4-H'ers had high placings in four of the six dairy breeds.

In the Ayrshire show, Chantelle Zilhaver, Cambridge Springs, had the Junior Champion with her Fall Senior calf. This animal was also the Best Owned and Bred animal of the Ayrshire Show. Chantelle also received the master fitter and showman Award. Jennie Mae Campbell, Conneaut Lake, showed the Senior and Grand Champion Ayrshire with her Dry Cow 2-yr. and over. Jennie received a master showman award.

In the Holstein Show, Brooks Rynd, Cochranton, showed the Junior Champion, with his Winter Intermediate Calf. Brooks also received master showman and master fitter awards. Daniel Wilson, Saegertown, showed the Reserve Junior Champion with his Spring Junior Yearling. Daniel also received master showman and master fitter awards. Tanya Lynn Steadman, also of Saegertown, had the Best Owned and Bred animal with her Junior 3-year old. She also received master fitter and showman awards.

Crystal Miller, Cambridge Springs, showed the Reserve Senior and Grand Champion animal of the Jersey show with her Junior 3-year old. She received a master showman award.

BUSH HOG®
DIVISION OF ALLIED PRODUCTS CORPORATION
Winning with quality.

THE MID-SIZED LOADER FOR THE BIG LIFTING JOBS.

The Bush Hog® 2400 QT Front End Loader will lift up to 2400 pounds to a height of over 9-feet. This makes the 2400 QT ideal for such tough loads as silage, dirt and snow. All bucket functions are controlled from the tractor seat. And the 2400 QT fits over 150 tractor models from 35-75 hp. Bucket selections include 48, 60, 72 and 80-inch regular duty buckets. Quick attaching systems, bale spears and fork lifts are available as attachments. See the 2400 QT. It's the mid-sized loader for the tough loading jobs.

HAUL LESS LOADER AND MORE LOAD.

Because the Bush Hog® 3450QT loader is built stronger and lighter, it's available with a choice of large capacity buckets so you can carry more dirt, manure or silage – up to 3,800 pounds, in fact, with a breakaway capacity of 4,500 pounds. With a reach at ground level of 73 inches and a lift of 140 inches, the 3450QT lets you do more work in more different places. The wrenchless quick-attach mounting system means you spend more time working and less time getting ready to work while the easy to use jackstands give you safe, secure storage. And, since the price is hundreds of dollars lighter, there's less risk for your bank account when you buy Bush Hog.

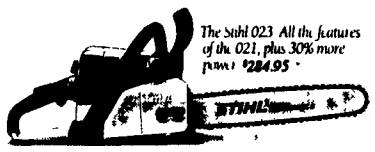
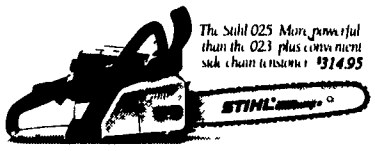
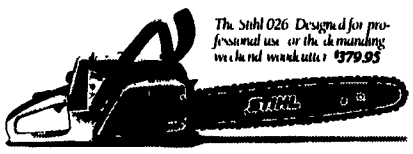
The Chain Saws For People Who Want To Act Like Lumberjacks, Not Work Like Them.







If you know a little about the timber business, you know that Stihl chain saws have been used by professional woodcutters for over sixty years

So maybe you think Stihl equipment is "too good" for a suburbanite or farmer or anyone else who needs to cut wood on an occasional basis

Well, we're happy to tell you that Stihl makes a whole series of chain saws with your needs in mind

But don't confuse them with discount-store chain saws

All Stihl saws are designed for performance, ease of handling and starting, and durability

Now, about the 026 shown at the bottom we'll admit we sell this saw to professional woodcutters But it's also bought by people who simply put a lot of hours on a saw every year

And by the way, when were you ever unhappy because you bought a product that was too good?

For The Part Of You That Promised You'd Never Compromise.

Open Holstein Show At Big E Results Listed

WEST SPRINGFIELD, MA — A total of 189 Holsteins were paraded before judge Gary Culbertson, a former Holstein classifier currently from Manson Valley Holsteins in Hobart, NY. Culbert stressed "milkiness" in his reasons throughout the show and ended with the winner of the 100,000 pound milk production cow class as his Grand Champion. El Dor Saber Pansy owned by Lylehaven Farm in East Montpelier, Vermont was awarded the Senior and Grand Champion honors of the show. Culbertson noted in his reasons her advantage in "dairyness, udder and cleaness. Lylehaven also won the number two placing in the show with their four year old, C Macview Inspiration Roxy, being awarded Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Champion.

Junior Champion of the show was Crasdale Starbuck Peaches, a fall heifer calf owned by Richard and Shannon Allyn of Canaan, Conecticut. Culbertson said that she was the most correct heifer with an advantage in legs. Reserve Junior Champion honors went to the fall yearling heifer, Hilltop Hanover B Vanna ET owned by Joan Coyne of Steady Lane Holsteins in West Sutton, Massachusetts.

Premier Exhibitor of the Holstein Show was Hugh Langmaid of St. Johnsbury, Vermont. Meanwhile another Vermont farm, Lylehaven from Montpelier, was awarded the Premier Breeder Honors.

Nothing works harder than a Kubota B or L-Series tractor. Kubota tractors are powerful, ranging from 10 to 49 PTO HP.

From home use to commercial applications, the B7100 HST 16 HP tractor is just right for all kinds of jobs. This tractor comes with hydrostatic transmission – that means there is no gear shift. And, the B7100 4WD compact tractor is powered by a Kubota liquid-cooled diesel engine.

The Kubota L2350 compact diesel tractor was designed to combine versatility with operating economy, pure and simple. With 8 forward speeds, the Kubota L2350's powerful 20.5 PTO HP diesel engine delivers ample power for most farming tasks.

So, if you're looking for a hard worker, look no further than a Kubota B or L-Series tractor.

FEEDING FOR LEAN GAIN

The optical probe (Fat-O-Meat'er, Hennesey, and others) has created more incentive to improve carcass value than anything else.

Not that the optical probe is an end-all. It just showed up at the right time and place. And it has given us a respectable system for assessing carcass value, which most of the industry has adopted.

Producers, who for years have screamed for an opportunity to sell hogs on the basis of quality rather than live weight, have their work cut out. The objective is simple — find the ingredients to get the hog to market in a way that return is maximized.

Notice that we're not necessarily recommending maximum carcass value. And we're not always pushing for optimum feed performance. These two items must be considered together because as many producers have already figured out, they can work in opposite directions.

What Affects Carcass Value

If you check the text books, you'll find that the heritability of carcass traits is about .40. Put another way, genetics counts for 40 percent, and everything else contributes about 60 percent.

hat means your feeding program, your marketing strategy, the building environment, and herd health — all these things taken together — account for 60 percent of the variation you see from one hog to the next in your grading sheet. The other 40 percent is genetics — alone.

If that isn't sobering enough, let's assume that management-wise, you're already doing things about "right." Your feeding program is meeting all the requirements, you're marketing hogs in correct weight range, etc. And now you're asking what you can do to improve carcass value. Well, there may be a lot of things you can tweak, but no single item will compare to the impact you can make with genetics.

So the take-home lesson is worry a lot about where your breeding stock comes from.

The Feed Program

Two nutrients that will have an impact on carcass quality are fat and protein. Increasing protein level may improve carcass value, but it also increases feed cost.

Increasing fat will almost certainly improve growth performance, but often at the expense of carcass value.

Before changing either of these nutrients, be certain other feed-related items are correct. For example, vitamin and mineral levels, water quality, molds and mycotoxins, and fiber can all affect both performance and carcass value.

Added Fat

Except in the rarest circumstances, added fat will not improve carcass value. But it might improve growth performance.

Adding fat to a typical growing pig diet will increase the energy content (often called energy density). Most animals, including the pig, eat to meet their need for energy. That means a pig will have to eat less of a high-fat diet to meet his energy requirement.

Since weight gain will stay the same or get better, feed conversion improves. The bad news is that high fat diets often lead to increased backfat in the carcass.

Do two things to avoid this. First, add only moderate amounts of fat — 60 pounds per ton or less. Second, realize that since pigs eat less of a high fat diet, they're also getting less of protein, vitamins, and minerals. That means we have to adjust those nutrient levels up, and it's especially critical for protein. Without the protein adjustment, pigs will still show an improvement in feed conversion, but the increases in backfat will be more obvious.

Extra Protein

Many producers and researchers are recommending high levels of protein, especially for gilts. Gilts are leaner and have more muscle than barrows, so it's logical that they have a higher protein requirement.

A recent study by Gary Cromwell at the University of Kentucky, and many cooperators from around the Midwest, suggests that gilts reach their peak in performance at about 17 percent protein. Barrows maximize their performance between 13 and 15 percent protein. No economic data were collected to determine which diets were most profitable.

In recent Penn State studies, Bob Mikesell and I learned that both barrows and gilts respond positively to increasing protein to 17 percent from the standard 14 percent. The percent lean cuts on the Hatfield system is higher and the carcass value is improved. But the benefits are worth about the same as the extra cost of feed.

Would it work for you? It might, especially if you have relatfvely lean genetics. Some nutritionists take this concept one step further in what they refer to as "prescription feeding." Knowing the actual feed intake on your finishing floor, and the carcass cutout, will tell you precisely how many grams of lysine, etc. that the pigs should consume each day. There may be some validity to that, but I would still argue that the economics are an unknown until you try the diet and see what happens.

Management Changes That Count

1. Know that gilts are worth a lot more than barrows. This is true for nearly every farm and every type of genetics. You may wish to sort on the basis of carcass value, so that the fat pigs are sold by live weight, and the lean ones on the rail. If you do nothing else but separate by sex, you will have done a pretty good job of sorting for carcass value.

2. As carcass weight goes up, so does fat. For every population of hogs, there is a break point on the Hatfield system. Beyond a certain weight, lean cuts and carcass price will take a dive. Look over your grading sheets so that you know exactly what that weight is.

3. Fast gaining pigs are fatter than slow gainers. Market the first pigs out of the pen at a lower weight if possible. They'll be the fattest ones in the bunch anyway, so keep the carcass weight down, and you may avoid a lean cut discount.

4. Understand that the Hatfield system is based on fat and muscle. But like any other carcass grading system, fat counts for a lot more. Changing backfat by only a tenth of an inch may change carcass value by more than $2 per head. You would have to change the muscle depth by at least 15 mm to equal a $2-per-head change in carcass value.

5. On the Hatfield program, 56 is the magic number. Hogs below 56 percent lean cuts are discounted heavily. Those above 56 percent are given a bonus. Because the discounts are twice are great as the bonus, the 56 percent line is an expensive one. Making management changes to get above the 56 percent level, even if they are a bit costly, will often pay.

Summary

A lot of management practices — feed, marketing, health, environment — influence carcass value. But taken together, they have roughly the same impact as genetics.

If your hogs are not cutting well, and you're looking for answers, the genetic program would be a good place to start.

Keep the fat to a minimum — no more than 60 pounds per ton. Consider feeding gilts or lean hogs elevated protein (17 percent) to take advantage of improvements in carcass value. But never assume that an improvement in carcass value will always pay for the added feed cost.

TIRED OF LEAKING ROOFING? USE

WHEELING Channeldrain

ROOFING & SIDING

Exclusive drain channel guards against wind, rain and snow...assures dryness.

1. Wide overlap: Increases strength and leak protection at each joint.
2. Wide nailing surface: Makes nailing easier and faster.
3. Drain channel: the exclusive leak-proof system that prevents capillary action; stays weather tight. This Wheeling feature has insured "dry barns" for thousands of farmers over the past 50 years.

BREWEX - For Use In Dairy Feeds
BREWEX is used extensively in complete dairy formulations to contribute utilizable energy. It is a price/performance value when used in dry feeds, liquid feeds and on-farm mixes.
MIX WITH DRY FEEDS: BREWEX is found in commercial pelleted rations for dairy, hogs and poultry as an energy source to replace corn. BREWEX replaces corn on a pound for pound dry basis and provides for improved pellet durability, reduced mineral segregation, dust control and improved palatability in dairy rations.
ON-FARM MIXING
A commercial Jersey dairy farm, having over ten years of experience in feeding BREWEX to partially replace corn finds that
- BREWEX replaced 5% to 10% corn/day
- BREWEX improves butterfat about 0.1%
- BREWEX mixed with forage reduces mortality due to displaced abomasum
- BREWEX helps cattle to stay on feeds

Have you tried toasted grains?

Consider these advantages over traditional roasting methods:

- ◆ Consistent by-pass proteins and low moisture levels.
- ◆ Improved energy density of your rations.
- ◆ Excellent quality control.
- ◆ Exchange programs with feed mills.
- ◆ Economical storage, rolling and grinding available.
- ◆ We also buy corn and soybeans

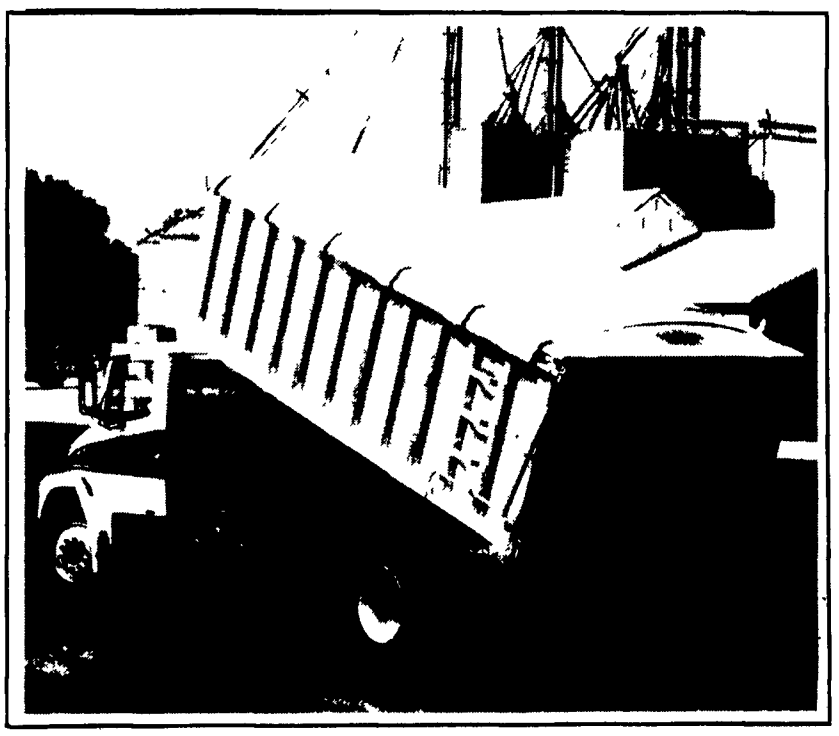
In grain bodies, aluminum makes Sense.



Eby Aluminum Agri-Dump Bodies pay off in dependable long-term service. Their all-aluminum construction means:

- Greater payload efficiency
- Maintenance-free service
- Substantially higher resale value.

Eby's time-tested design is available in lengths to 24' for grain bodies and 10½' for general purpose dump bodies. A long list of standard features such as tarp rail, built-in steps, aerodynamic uprights and Harsh hoist is complemented by a full range of custom options, including tailgates, Wahpeton tarps and grain chutes.
When you select your next grain body or general purpose dump body, consider the value that aluminum offers. It's a worry-free investment in your future.

CHECK OUT THESE FEATURES/BENEFITS
- Up to 40% lighter than steel, for greater payload
- Designed for long life
- Resale value
- Corrosion resistant, never needs painting
- Appearance to complement any truck
- Complete list of popular options, including tailgates, tarps and sides.

NORTHERN YORK COUNTY
Hidden in the placid hills of Northern York County--- a sumptuous contemporary home created with quiet distinction, impeccable taste and great attention to detail. Fully furnished including every amenity for easy graceful lifing. This is a beef and grain operation with 148 acres (100 tillable - 48 meadow and woods) and retstored bank barn.

NORTHERN YORK COUNTY
Capture the essence of the past, present and future in a natural evolution of timeless architectors. The rich patina of solid wood beams and random width hardwood plank floors from an 18th century mill. Coexist with contemporary style to create an ageless home of grace disctinction and integrity. Dominating over 35 acres of forest and meadowland this 3400 square feet native stone home has all the ingredients for the good life.

NORTHERN YORK COUNTY
Glowing adjectives are superfluous in describing this true country estate. A fabulous nine room stone house restored and renovated in every detail with impeccable taste--- perfection in landscaping that would take generations to duplicate. A lovely stream meanders through nine acres of wood and meadowland where 55 species of birds have been sighted. Big red barn in immaculate condition--- ideal and equipped should you have equine interests. Joins Messiah College near Grantham.

NORTHERN YORK COUNTY
Secluded in the center of 75 idlyic acres a "smashing" contemporary stone home on a knoll overlooking a serene pond and spring fed stream. Living area has a two and a half story cathedral ceiling. Bank barn with box stalls, a heated and air conditioned workshop. Inground pool with Cabana. Truly a treasure that would satisfy a student of Aldo Leopold's Philosophy.

SOUTHERN YORK COUNTY
You don't find them like this any more, a 125 acres with a rolling landscape. A secluded, 1741 stone home with all the amenities including a Grist Mill, a pond, Otter Creek, a bank barn with office, green house and workshop.

A Millers house remodeled as an ongoing bed and breakfast operation are part of this entity. Should life in a delightful country environment be in your dreams you'll look far and wide to find the equal of this estate.

NORTHERN YORK COUNTY
New beginnings — an earth sheltered 2987 square feet home, built of the finest materials on 20 acres.

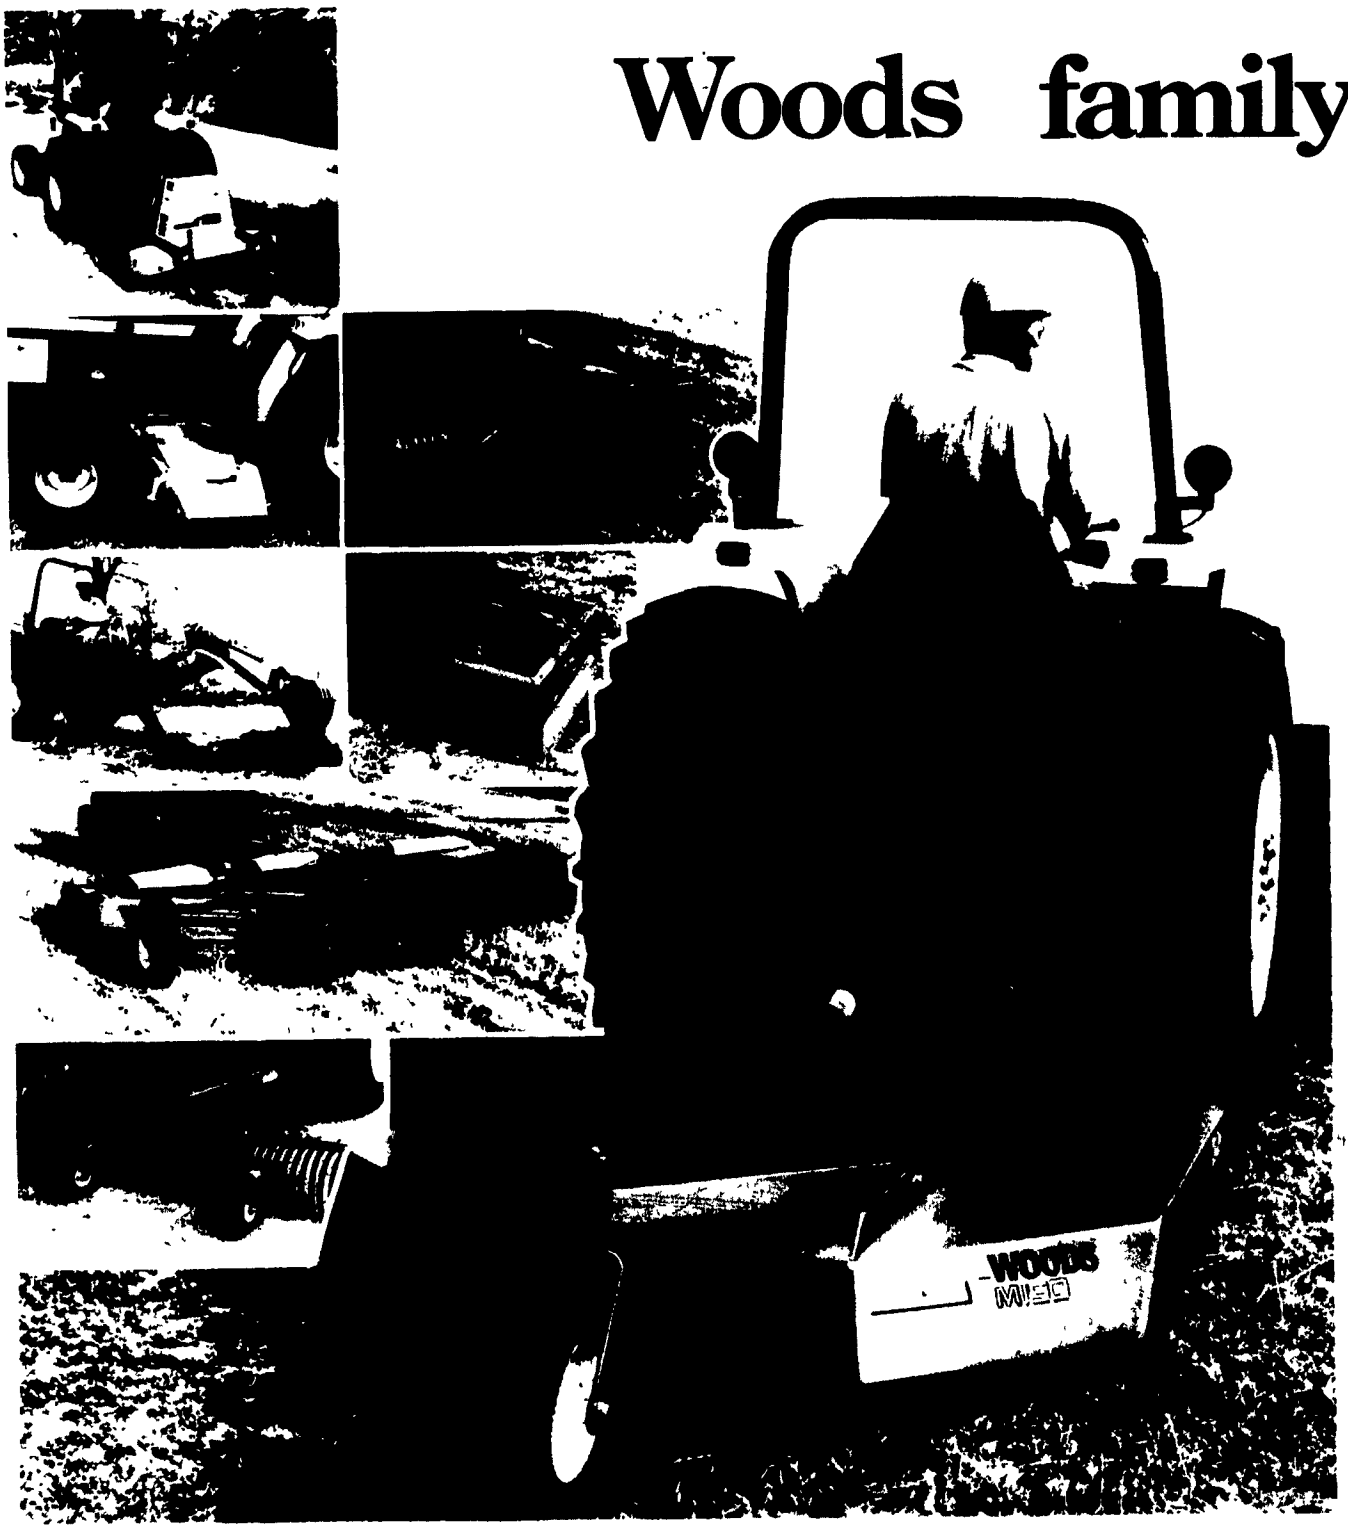
Woods family tree



Today's Woods line has branched out to include over 50 proven products... all rooted in the same tradition of innovation, quality, value and service that began when we introduced the first tractor powered rotary mower in 1947.

Engineered and manufactured at our plant in northern Illinois, Woods mowers, cutters, scraper blades, backhoes and other specialty products are known for superior performance and rugged reliability.

They're the first choice of commercial users, farmers and home owners when quality, value and service count most.

Walker Repeats 4-H Supreme Dairy Title

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — New Freedom junior exhibitor Brad Walker made it two-for-two at the York Fair Junior Dairy show recently, claiming his second supreme champion in as many county youth shows.

The 16-year-old 4-H member took the overall dairy title in the junior show with his "Warns Sexy Lady," a Very Good-87 3-year-old milking 25,000 pounds in her second lactation. Lady won the junior show Holstein classes, then topped champions from the five other dairy breeds to take the supreme honors.

Walker made a sweep of junior show honors, also winning the reserve champion Holstein placing, as well as being selected champion showman of the competition. He is the son of Brenda and Leroy Walker, Walk-Le Farms, New Freedom R1.

Contenders for the supreme dairy title were Heather Crowl, Airville, with the champion Milking Shorthorn; Jesse Stambaugh, Spring Grove, Ayrshire champion; Kelly Myers, Spring Grove, Brown Swiss; Annie Rauhauser, Jersey; and Michelle Jenkins, Guernsey.

Erin Marks, Airville, was selected fitting champion from the junior dairy show. Showmanship age division winners were Angie Beshore, New Cumberland, age 8-9; Rebecca Kilgore, Airville, age 10-12; Dixie Doll, Glen Rock, age 13-15; and Brad Walker, age 16 and up.

Judges for the York Fair junioir dairy show were Maryland Holstein breeders Mike Haines and Jason Myers.

A partial list of winners follows:

Pa. Participates In NFU Lobbying

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Members of the Pennsylvania Farmers Union returned home on September 15 from a legislative fly-in to Washington, D.C.

The event is organized once a year by the National Farmers Union (NFU) and brought more than 240 National Farmers Union family farmers and ranchers from all over the nation to Washington in a united effort to serve as farm and rural advocates before U.S. lawmakers.

The group called on more than 535 U.S. senators and representatives. The Pennsylvania delegation met with representatives, or their agricultural aides, for the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland to discuss issues important to family farmers and rural America.

Opposition to the North American Free Trade Agreement by Farmers Union, concerns regarding President Clinton's health care reform packages, and farm income were the major topics of discussion for the fly-in.

Besides calling on members of Congress, the Pennsylvania group also participated in briefings on key issues by officials from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the White House's task force on health care reform.

USDA Secretary Mike Espy addressed fly-in participants on the department's reorganization proposal and assured them that the goal of reorganization is to heighten service and extend the objective of becoming more "farmer friendly." Mike Dunn, former National Farmers Union vice president of government relations and President Clinton's choice to head the Farmers Home Administration, also addressed the group.

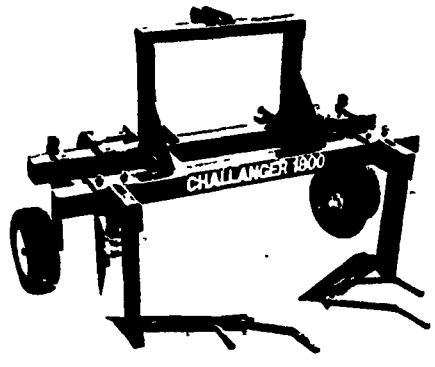
CHALLENGER MODEL 1800

PLASTIC MULCH LIFTER



After your vegetable crop is over the Challenger is designed to retrieve the plastic mulch to the surface of the ground.
Will lift plastics from 3 ft. to 5 ft. wide with fast and easy adjustments.
On lifting plows, the farmer has choice of "Rock shears" or "Deep-suck shears" by Case International.
Its heavy duty "C" springs on the disk coulters are designed to go over rocks and cut the toughest trash and vines which keeps from clogging. Has depth control wheels for constant depth control.
Heavy shanks have ½ " safety shear bolts. Auto-reset is optional.
The best part of the Challenger is the price — it was designed with the small grower in mind— who doesn't want to invest a lot in removing his mulches.
This year hitch to a Challenger and let it do that dirty job!

4-H'ers Round Up Ribbons At Horse Show

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Two teens — Stephanie Wilt of Washington County and Jennifer Pearce, a Harford County resident with Baltimore County 4-H membership — dominated the 4-H Senior Western Horse and Pony Show held recently at the Maryland State Fair in Timonium. Together, they won 12 of the 24 events, each capturing six blue ribbons.

Wilt, 19, of Boonsboro and her 12-year-old quarter horse, Nita Creek, took top honors in four equitation events: horsemanship, stock seat, western riding, and western pleasure (horses). The veteran competitors also won the conformation class for fillies and mares (horses, three years old and over; dry, not nursing foal). Nita Creek was named champion mare for the show.

Pearce, 17, of Fountain Green earned five blue ribbons on Sonny Dee Sioux, a six-year-old Pony of America: grooming and horsemanship, conformation (fillies and mares, ponies, three years old and over; dry, not nursing foal) and western pleasure, pole bending, and barrel racing for ponies. She also took top honors in the trail competition with a 10-year-old Pony of America gelding, Docs Campaigner.

Other first-place winners were:

• Western Conformation/Foals: Arin Axline, 16, of Broad Run (Frederick County) with Broken Arrow, a quarter horse/Arabian stallion.

• Conformation/Yearlings: Rebecca Peregoy, 18, of Morgan, a Carroll County resident with Howard County 4-H membership, with CR Triple Crown, which was named champion of all foals or yearlings.

• Conformation/Mares (three years old and over, with foal at foot): Belinda Kovacs, 17, of Waldorf (Charles County) with Gatsby Go Ragtime, an Appaloosa mare.

• Conformation/Gelding Horses (three years old and over): Lisa Lutz, 16, of Bel Air, a Harford County resident with Baltimore County 4-H membership, with Good News Story, an American quarter horse, which was named champion gelding.

• Western Command: Patricia Parsley, 19, of Church Hill (Frederick County) on Patch Bullseye McQue, a Pinto gelding.

• Reining: Rachel Cockerham, 18, of Churchville (Harford County) on Cloudy Sunrise, a Pony of America mare.

• Pole Bending/Horses: Laura Veise, 18, of Marriottsville, a Carroll County resident with Baltimore County 4-H membership, on After You, a 27-year-old Arabian/thoroughbred gelding.

• Barrel Race/Horses: Belinda Kovacs on Gatsby Go Ragtime.

• Keyhole Race/Ponies: Rachel Cockerham on Cloudy Sunrise.

• Keyhole Race/Horses: Belinda Kovacs on Gatsby Go Ragtime.

Pumpkin Carving Party

HERSHEY (Dauphin Co.) — A special pumpkin carving party will be held at the Hershey Museum on Saturday, October 23 at 2 p.m. Participants ages 7 and up will use special tools to transform an ordinary field pumpkin into an extraordinary Jack-O-Lantern just in time for Halloween. Children are encouraged to bring along a favorite adult to help with the project. There is a charge for the adult only if he/she wants to carve a pumpkin of his/her own.

Special tools, instructions, and pumpkins are provided. Please register by October 15. Space is limited. The cost of the class is $9 for members, $12 non-members. For information please call (717) 534-3439.

Department Issues Seed Tag Warning

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Robert L. Walker issued a reminder to Maryland farmers to carefully review the analysis tag on all seed they purchase to plant a cover crop this coming winter.

"Many farmers are planting cover crops under the Maryland Agricultural Water Quality Cost-Share program to reduce nutrient runoff from their land. This has significantly increased the demand for cover crop seed, particularly rye. Unfortunately, some poor quality seed is being offered for sale," Wallker said.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture's Turf and Seed Section recently placed a tractor-trailer load of seed rye under a stop sale order after its seed laboratory found the seed to be contaminated with seed of 17 different weeds, including such noxious weeds as Canada thistle, Johnsongrass, corn cockle, and wild garlic.

"The cost of controlling these weeds could easily exceed the payments for installing the cover crop under the cost share program," said Walker.

According to Malcolm Sarna, chief of the turf and seed section, all seed bought and sold in Maryland must be tested and labeled under the Maryland Seed Law.

"Any farmer planning to use home produced seed is strongly urged to have it tested to insure proper germination and purity," Sarna said.

For testing, a two-pound sample should be sent to the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Turf and Seed Section, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401. The cost for a complete purity, germination, and noxious weed examination is $13.

For more information on the testing and labeling of seed, contact the Turf and Seed Section at (410) 841-5960.

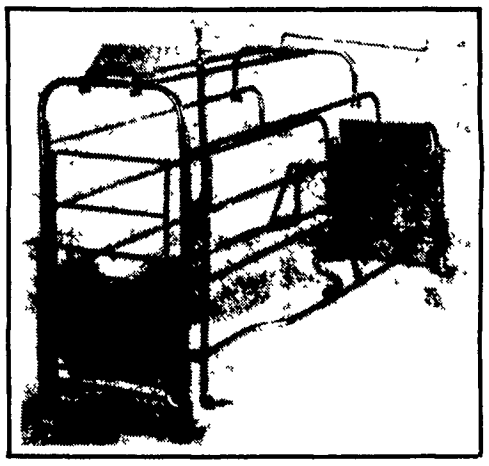
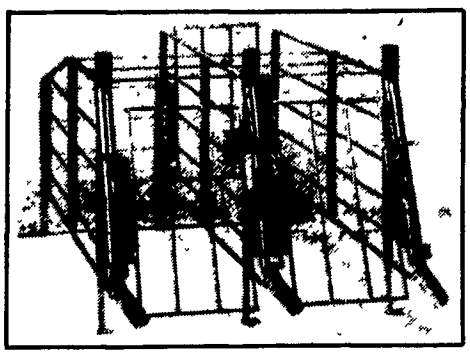
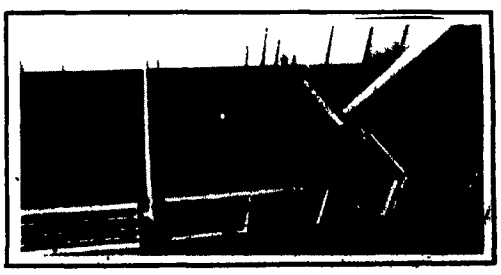
PIG SAVER
"DUTCH CRATE"
Developed through testing in our research farms the goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay one, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity flipnail that forces sows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.





CONFINEMENT STALL
Developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (21"-24" O.C. x 86")

NURSERY PENNING
Nursery penning has been improved by the use of an optional solid stainless steel panel on the front gates which keeps walkways clean. Stainless steel verticals on penning eliminates corrosion where penning attaches to the floor. Stainless steel drinker pipes & mounting brackets also increase durability.



FINISHING PENNING
Optional stainless steel verticals and fasteners offer improved durability over other similar types of penning. Loop and flapper latch arrangement eliminates the use of drop pins. Stainless steel fence line feeders provide excellent durability and a minimum of waste.

2-Year-Old Holstein Is First Supreme At 4-H Central District Show

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

REEDSVILLE (Mifflin Co.) — When dairy 4-H'ers from a 10-county area brought their 169 entries to the 47th Pennsylvania Central District 4-H Dairy Show at the Mifflin County Youth Park in Reedsville, they found two new events topping the show - the selection of a supreme champion and a supreme best bred and owned.

Youth from Centre, Clinton, Juniata, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montour, Northumberland, Perry, Snyder, and Union counties showed their Ayrshires, Guernsey's, Milking Shorthorn, Brown Swiss, Jersey and Holsteins hoping for not only top honors, but blue ribbons that would qualify then for the state 4-H Show at the Farm Show Complex on Sept. 20.

During the final few minutes of the show, judge Olver surveyed the grand champions from the five breeds and then awarded supreme senior champion to Rachel Tanis' Holstein senior 2-year-old, C Sunnylodge Para. Tanis, from Centre County, won fitting and showmanship awards for this Dairy-Lane Tri Paramount - ET daughter who also won senior and grand champion honors.

Reserve supreme champion went to the reserve senior and reserve grand champion Holstein, a 4-year-old owned by Dianne S. Glock of Juniata County. Walnut-Hills Astro Binky, a Bridon Astro Jet - ET daughter, was then selected as the supreme best bred and owned animal. Judge Olver complimented the planning committee on the foresight in adding the supreme classes.

Lauren D. Daubert's Brown Swiss winter calf was selected as the supreme junior animal. Victory Acres Chal Teela, an R Hart CJ Challenge ET daughter, was

4-H tomorrow's leaders in agriculture

4-H reaches young people across the nation, offering them an opportunity to contribute to their community as they develop independence, awareness and responsibility. With subjects like livestock, plants and soil, energy, ecology and jobs and careers, boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19 partake in activities and projects aimed at promoting creativity and personal growth. Their 4-H experience provides a foundation of strong ideals to live by as they become our next generation of adults. It's an important organization... one that we heartily support and proudly salute.

Thanks, 4-H

bred by Daubert.

Reserve supreme best bred and owned award went to Melissa Kay Hostler of Juniata County and her junior 3-year-old, Mel-K-Hos Inspiration Bambi. Hostler won showmanship and fitting awards with this Hanover Hill Inspiration - RC daughter.

In the Ayrshire show, Michele Kobosky of Warriors Mark showed the grand and senior champion, a senior 3-year-old, Marton Leigh BBK Marina. This cow won the open and youth shows at Centre County's Fair held at the Grange Fairground the end of August.

Michele earned both a reserve showman award and was judging champion for all ages for all types of livestock at that fair.

Kobosky's 4-year-old Dairy-Ayr BBK Mario won the reserve honors while Daniel Rishel of Union County won best bred and owned honors with his Spring Calf. Rishel also showed the Ayrshire junior champion. Amanda Fraley's summer yearling took the reserve junior champion award.

Of the three Milking Shorthorn entries, the two winter calf entries took the top honors. Amy Jo Newman's Walnut Hollows Bess earned both junior and grand champion ribbons, while John A. Troxell Jr. won reserve junior champion and reserve grand champion. Both 4-H'ers are from Snyder County and both calves were sired by Three Springs Arrow.

In the Brown Swiss Show, the grand champion animal was shown by Aimee D. Litchard of Danville. Her junior 2-year-old, DML Joras Jade Jane, was sired by Bridge View Elegant Jade ET. Reserve champion honors went to Lauren D. Daubert of Clinton County and her owner/bred 5-year-old Victory Acres B. Tiffany (*W). Daubert was also the owner and breeder for her junior champion winter calf. The reserve junior champion was shown by Jeremy Daubert of McElhattan. His spring yearling, Victory Acres Pretus Belle, was sired by Top Acres Combo Pretus ET.

In the Holstein show, Jennifer Kellerman showed her winter calf to earn the junior champion honors while Rachel Tanis' summer yearling won reserve junior champion.

Markers Optional

There's nothing more important to a crop than early, even emergence. To get it, you need accurate, even seeding.

The 5300 has earned a reputation for its seeding precision, a function of its exclusive feed cup design and dependable disk openers. And, to improve placement of seed, the opener drawbars are heavier than on previous models. Press wheel and opener bearings are heavier for long-life operation.

Along with accuracy, the 5300 gives you fast, high capacity seeding, so you spend less time refilling hoppers.

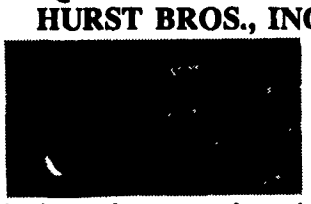
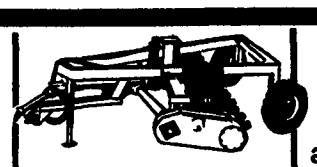
FOR ROCK PPICKERS & ROCK RAKES IN HEAVY DUTY QUALITY SEE BINKLEY & HURST BROS., INC. TODAY!



We are pleased to introduce the new SIGNATURE 6000 hydraulic drive stone picker from Degelman. If your land contains stones from the size of softballs to 55 gal. drums, you need this unit on your farm. Diggers available for removal of large rocks.



ROCK RAKE

The Degelman Rock Rake is designed to windrow small to medium sized rocks and other ground debris for easy picking. Rock-free fields mean less down-time, greater profits.

TIME IS MONEY

and when your equipment is down, it costs you plenty. That's why Degelman engineered farm implements are a wise investment.

TRANSPORT WIDTH On Wing Units Up To 24'2" Working Width Is A SAFE 12'4" Transport.
3 YEAR WARRANTY On Triple Lip Sealed Trunnion Mounted, Regreasable BEARINGS HEAVIEST AXLE SHAFTS In The Industry - 1¾ " Dia.
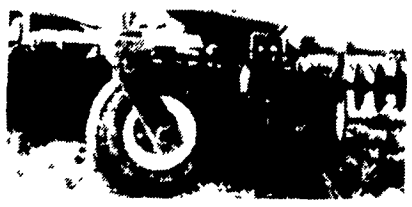
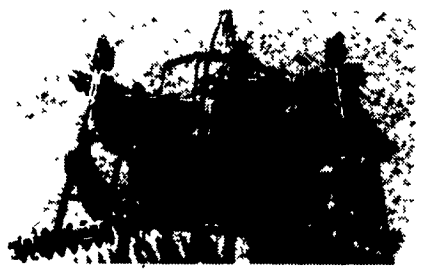
Gangs Are Hydraulically Torqued To 1400 Lbs. & Spring-Loaded To Eliminate Loosening, Wear And Breakage.
WING GAUGE WHEELS Eliminate Gouging
BLADES: ¼ "x22" or ¼ "x24" On 8.5" Spacing 3 Sided Blade Prevents Erosion By Eliminating A Continuous Furrow
Your Choice Of RIGID or C-FLEX BEARING STANDARDS.
DOUBLE OFFSET DESIGN Provides Maximum Leveling Without A Middle Buster Or Center Tooth
SELF-LEVELING HITCH Maintains Level Setting Regardless Of Desired Depth Or Tillage Application

The Secret To A Level Field Is The Sunflower GAUGE WHEELS



A trademark on all FLEXIBLE Sunflower Discs is Front-Mounted Gauge Wheels. This Important Feature Prevents the Front Gangs Of The Wing Frame From Gouging, Buckling or Cutting Deeper Than The Other Gangs, Promoting A Level Ridge Or Furrow-Free Field. The Heavy Duty Gauge Wheel Features A 5-Bolt Hub And 8.00x10 Ply Tire & Tube.



DOUBLE OFFSET DESIGN

Eliminates center ridging while cutting the entire width at an even depth. Self-leveling hitch provides fore & aft leveling at any working depth.

Great Plains

THE NO-TILL GRAIN DRILL LEADER...

Great Plans delivers good, even stands in a wide variety of soil and residue conditions. The components are simple: The coulter provides a mini-seedbed and the depth gauging press wheel runs smoothly on the soil cleared by the coulter (and then by the opener), ensuring accurate depth control of the opener. The opener delivers the seed to the bottom of the seed trench where the seed is firmed into the moist soil at a consistent depth.

THERE IS A GREAT PLAINS NO-TIL DRILL for you — from 7' to 30'...

Dedicated to the science of no-till seeding.

case IH made the BEST COMBINE BETTER!

The ROTOR is still the HEART of the AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE but check out these changes in the NEW MODELS...

- MORE HORSEPOWER...
  The 1644 has more engine HP than the model 1460 manufactured up to 1985... and the 1666 has more engine HP than the model 1480 manufactured up to 1985...

MODEL	HORSEPOWER
1644	- 180
1666	- 215
1688	- 260

- LONGER SIEVES...
  Both the chaffer and shoe sieves are 13" longer than previous models increasing the cleaning area by 25.9%...

- CROSS FLOW FAN...
  Patented chevron design moves air evenly over the entire sieve surface giving excellent grain quality in all kinds of crops...

- FIELD TRACKER...
  Permits the header to follow ground contours, independent of the combine by automatically tilting from side to side in response to terrain changes...

You'll find the BEST COMBINE at C.B. HOOBER & SON INC., where you also get the BEST COMBINE SERVICE!

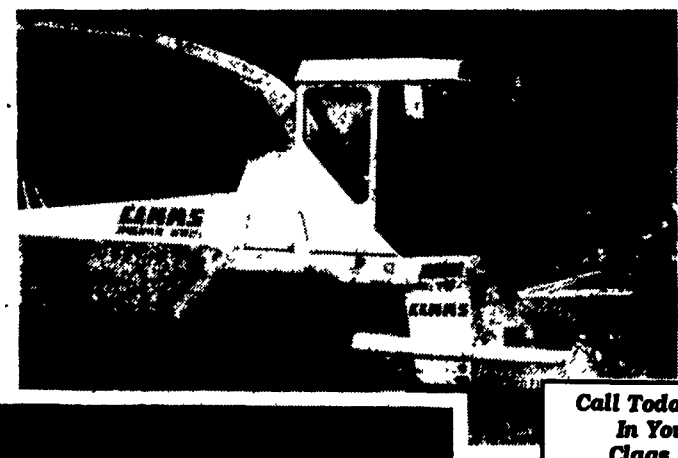
THE CLAAS HARVESTER



MAXIMUM FEED QUALITY

To ensure maximum feed quality from maize it is vital to crack every kernel. Digestion of uncracked maize falls as the maize becomes drier. Independent trials have shown the Claas corn cracker to be close to 100% effective. From the cylinder the corn passes through the two large diameter rollers with saw tooth profiles. The rollers run at different speeds to intensify the grinding effect and open up each kernel. It is a fairly tough process so the latest generation of corn crackers take account of the wear involved on the rollers. Nothing can reduce the wear but Claas have cut the cost of repair by making the outer sleeve replaceable. The shaft, drive pulley and bearings can all be reused which cuts down repair bills dramatically. Adjusting the distance between the two rollers is accomplished by turning two handles, easily accessible behind the cab. In no time at all the degree of cracking can be matched to the ripeness of the crop.

RELIABILITY

The CLAAS Cutterbox is a unique balanced design using 2 knives in a V configuration. This forces the cutting action toward the center instead of the outside. This is the secret of their horsepower requirement and good quality of cut.

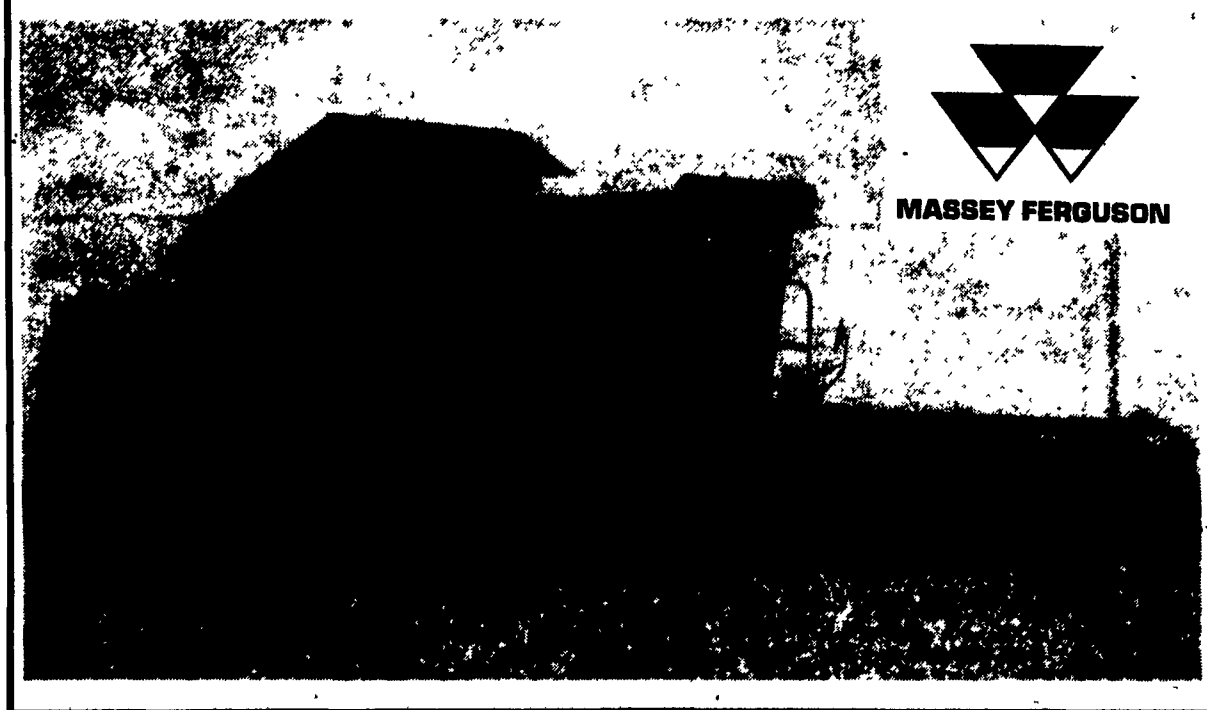
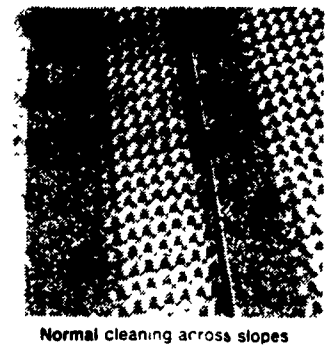
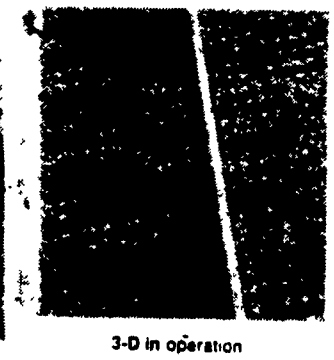
COMBINING SLOPES — THE MF 3-D CLEANING SYSTEM



MASSEY FERGUSON



Normal cleaning across slopes



3-D in operation

With the MF-3-D cleaning system, the crop is distributed evenly across the full width of the sieves, performance remains stable and output maintained.

The 3-D cleaning system provides dynamic slope compensation which means that the upper sieve moves sideways against the slope of the hill. The degree and direction of these movements depend on the inclination of the slope. Quick reaction and of course equal performance in any direction on slopes of up to 20%.

With the MF 3-D system you can operate at the same speed on slopes as on flat land. Daily performance can be maintained.

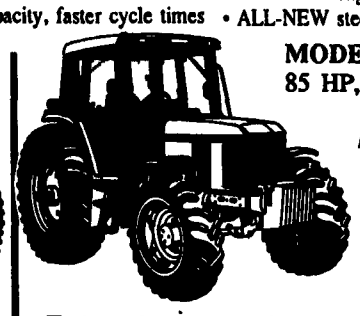
MODEL 6400, 85 HP, MFWD

Power - Performance Reliability



The innovative new 16-speed PowrQuad Transmission gives you powershift performance to deliver the right speed choice for any operation.

Shift on-the-go into one of four synchronized ranges. Then powershift up or down as conditions require.

The smooth, clutchless shifting within each range lets you reach specific speeds quickly to achieve a higher work output.

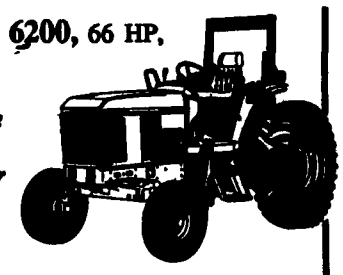
MODEL 6200, 66 HP, 2 WD

The Most Productive In This Horsepower Class!



The new modular frame design reduces stress on the engine and powertrain because the frame carries the load. The result is a stronger, lighter tractor with a better weight distribution and a higher payload capacity than conventional tractors. Plus, the "soft" rubber engine mountings dampen vibration and noise.

Many of the features that make our higher-horsepower row crop tractors so productive and reliable can be found in this tractor.

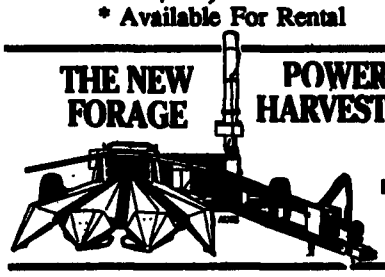
THE NEW FORAGE POWER IN HARVESTING



- Only John Deere forage harvesters feature the Dura-Drum™ cuttterhead, with economical segmented knives. Less plugging.
- Knife sharpening is a breeze. Adjustments, a cinch.
- When damaged, replace only a short knife for a fraction of the cost of one full-width knife.

The VacuMeter™ is light-years ahead of the Finger Pickup and competitive meters in versatility, accuracy and speed

Improve corn seed spacing up to 17 percent

Seed corn shapes and sizes have changed dramatically. To maintain seeding accuracy, you need a seed meter that can meet today's demanding seed challenges. You need the VacuMeter system, offering up to a 17 percent increase in corn metering accuracy over the finger pick-up system.

New single-cross varieties of seed vary in shape and size. Because the VacuMeter system uses gentle vacuum pressure to hold seeds in place, it handles all sizes of seed accurately. And VacuMeter accuracy may enable you to reduce planting rates to save on seed costs.

SPECIAL OFFER

Up To $250 Off Or 1% APR!

Earn a special cash allowance with the purchase of a Ford New Holland Box Spreader.

Models	Cash Offer
125, 130, 135, 145, 155	$125
165, 185,	$175
190, 195	$250

These Cash allowances are available when paying cash, using Ford New Holland Credit standard rate financing or normal low rate financing, or waiver of finance date contract options.

Or in lieu of the cash allowance you may select one of two special low rate retail financing plans:

1.0% APR for 24 months or 3.9% for 36 months

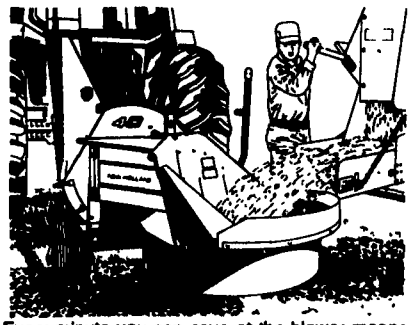
This offer is good for retail sales through October 31, 1993.

Seeing is believing



Every minute you can save at the blower means more loads per day and more overall productivity. Let us demonstrate the New Holland Model 40 forage blower and we believe you'll agree you can increase your silage productivity.

The Model 40, with 20 percent greater tip speed than previous models, center fills silos over 80 feet high. The Whirl-A-Feed® table spins the crop into the blower housing at high speed, making more efficient use of your tractor's horsepower.

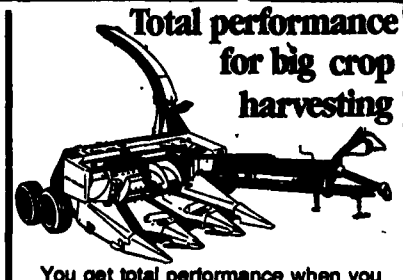
Haul, unload your forage faster

You can unload any crop quickly and efficiently with the new big-capacity Models 816 and 818 forage boxes from Ford New Holland. Roller chain drive provides unloading speeds of 3.0 and 7.1 feet-per-minute. And tough Duraply sides flex under heavy loads for season-after-season dependability. The "816" and "818" unload from the front and come standard with three self-aligned beaters and baked-enamel galvanized roof. For a closer look, stop in and see us about this new forage box.

Total performance for big crop harvesting



You get total performance when you harvest your crops with a Model 900 forage harvester. Total performance begins at the cutterhead. The 12 knives of the 21-inch cutterhead give you uniformly cut, high-quality forage. Other features on the "900" include:

- Optional Metalert® II electronic metal detector— protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.
- Electromagnetic clutches—give instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Easy-adjust shearbar—makes adjustment fast and precise.

Go with a proven winner!

NEW
OSWALT® Mixers by J-STAR
TMR Ruffage Master
These new Oswalt® four auger Model 200/250 mixers are designed to process and mix all feeds, including baled hay, into a fully-blended TMR...better than anyone!
The aggressive, notched, 20"-diameter, full-pitch, four auger mixing pattern, dual shear shelf design and exclusive, self-lubricating Tuff-Glide® liners help feed materials flow more freely, reducing horsepower requirements and virtually eliminating material hang-ups and dead spots.

RUFF-TUFF POLY SILO LINERS for Upright Silos

Now With New Expansion Ring For Easy Installation

If Your Silo Needs New Life...

Try Our Poly Silo Liners

-THE ADVANTAGE OF A POLY LINER-

- Spoilage is reduced around doors.
- Feed is exposed to less oxygen - better fermentation.
- Allows storage of high moisture grains or dry grains in a conventional silo.
- Delays repair or replacement of corroded silos.
- Prevents corrosive acids from contacting silo wall - extends silo life.
- Quick installation.
- Effectively seals silos from air and weather.

The Liners Are Manufactured To Fit Most Standard Diameter Silos.

B.T.U.

"BUY THIS UNIT", or one like it to store your high-moisture shelled corn and save a lot of energy. With the cool spring and slow start for a lot of corn fields, this may be another harvest season coming up when the corn dries slowly...

about 10,000 bu. cap.
Shelled Corn
Poured Concrete
No Used Silos!
No Rebuilt Silos!
No Preowned Silos!!

In order to avoid hauling and drying costs, let us build a corn storage unit to preserve your valuable grain at 20%-30% moisture.

To keep your stored corn bright and yellow, you must protect it from oxygen and heat. Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel.

Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to pre-fab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement.

BEFORE SPENDING A LOT OF MONEY FOR ENERGY (B.T.U.'s) TO DRY YOUR CORN, YOU WILL DO WELL TO CONSIDER THE MANY ADVANTAGES OF OUR POURED CONCRETE SILOS...

To u[illegible]our corn, we can install the simple auger [illegible]; the Laidig 43 unloader, or the Flying Dutchman. Lets discuss the options, and what is best for your situation.

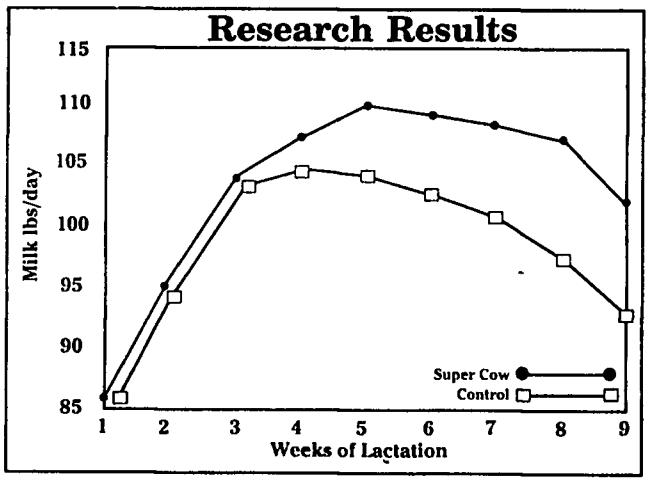
PURINA SUPERCOW

A dairy feed that could make your cows more productive, while also improving their feed conversion and breeding efficiency.

SUPER COW is a blend of high fat nuggets and pellets specially designed and manufactured by Purina to deliver feed quality, nutrient density and super palatability. The nutrient-rich blend is packed with complete nutrition and is highly palatable.

In field trials, cows fed SUPER COW produced an average of 6.7 pounds more milk per cow per day, while improving or maintaining milk composition. And while production increased, the cows that were fed SUPER COW maintained or improved their body-condition scores after freshening and were more feed-efficient.



Research Results
	Milk lbs/day	Milk Fat lbs/day	Milk Protein lbs/day
Control Average Production	100	3.24	2.83
Super Cow Average Production	107	3.47	2.86
Average Improvement Per Cow	+7	+.23	+.03

Consider All The Benefits Of SUPERCOW:

- Increased milk production
- Good milk composition
- Good body condition
- Improved feed efficiency
- Improved breeding efficiency
- More income opportunity!
